ANN ARBOR, MICHIGAN, WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 11, 1888.

WHOLE NUMBER, 1385.

"There is no death! 'tis but the higher birth, The stepping out from clay, away from earth, A spirit disenthralled, forever free, 'Tis but renewing life, not death to me. There is no death! all nature proves this

There is no death! 'tis but a newer life, The cutting of a cord by nature's knife, The breaking of a chain that holds us down, The opening of a cage—the prisoner flown.

There is no death! the sun goes down at night
That it may rise again—the morning's light;
The twinkling stars that seem to pass away,
Are only held in clearer, brighter day.

There is no death! this pulsing heart of mine May cease to beat, the soul-lit eye to shine. And from the body go the fleeting breath, And yet the risen spirit knows no death. There is no death! the Father calls us home In tender, loving tone he bids us come Away from earth, away from weary care, To higher, better life, to scenes more fair.

There is no death! this clod of mortal clay May lose its form, through Nature's sure de cay; But the freed spirit in the realms supernal, Solves life's last mystery: The life eternal!"

A modicum of Dutch,
Of Italian just a triffe
And of Gaelic not too much;
Some Russian and Egyptian
Add then unto the whole,
With just enough to flavor

Some Cingalese and Hottentot,
A soupcon, too, of French.
Of native Scandinavian
A pretty thorough drench;
Hungarian and Syriac,
A pinch of Japanese,
With just as much of Ojibbeway

THE LONG AND SHORT OF IT. They say the longest day's in June, The shortest in December; And yet I cannot think 'tis true, Because, don't you remember

How very short those days in June when we two were together, And how the longest days of all Were in the winter weather?

Whate'er the almanac may say, No matter what the weather, The days seem long when we're apart, And shortest when together.

In Favor of the Thing That Did it.

A. Friend tells the following story Major Smith, of Atlanta, better known as "Bill Arp," was talking with me about matters and things not long ago. "You know I was an old-fashioned democrat," said bill, "brought up to believe in free trade and sailor's rights. I am one now; but something has happened. I own a little farm near Cartersville. I used to gather corn and sell it in Atlanta for whatever they would give me. I had some pasture land for my stock, and I raised wheat and vegetables in a small way. What we could not consume was way. When the tariff went into operation old Joe Brown started some iron developments near-by, and the Carters ville Station became quite a village. The day before I left home I sold seventeen loads of hay. Buyers didn't bargain for many remedies and physicians despair of relief or cure.

Sanford's Radical Cure meets every phase of corn in several years. Those fellows me and buy it by the dozen for roasting ears. It's so with everything that grows on my land. I cannot raise as much as they want. I'm in favor of the thing that did it, so I'm a protectionist.

"That Miss Jones is a nice-looking girl, isn't she?" "Yes, and she'd be the belle of the town if it wasn't for one thing."

What am I to do?

The symptoms of Biliousness are unhappily too well known. They differ in different individuals to some extent. A Bilious man is seldom a breakfast eater. Too frequently, alas, he has an excellent appetite for liquids but none for solids of a morning. His tongue will hardly bear nspection at any time; if it is not white and furred, it is rough, at all events. e a symptom or the two may alternate. There are often Hemorrhoids or even loss of blood. There may be giddiness and often headache and acidity or flatulence and tenderness in the pit of the stomach. To correct all this if not effect a cure try Green's August Flower, it costs but trifle and thousands attest its efficacy.

nature remains the same there will always be two political parties in every state. One a party of progress, the other of conservatism. In every community there will be found the man who is quick to take advantage of every improvement calculated to benefit his business, readily accepting new theories, when once convinced of their foundation on fact, and in turn reaping the benefits which follow an advanced stage in any which follows an advanced stage in change the scythe for the mowing ma-chine, the sickle for the reaper until com-pelled by force of circumstances, then he will fall in line only to find that his neighbor of the sanguine temperament has left him again in the lurch.

The most successful man is he who possesses these two characteristics of push and prudence, most evenly balanced. So the nation needs the conservative party as a brake on the wheel of progress o prevent ruining into excesses in any direction.

This is the only valid excuse that the democratic party of this country can offer to-day for its existence. offer to-day for its existence.

this question as we do any other to the test of experience we know that the American nation under the fostering care of a tariff has reached a development which is the wonder and admiration of the world. are 28,000,000 more sheep in the United States now than in 1860, and the home product of wool has increased from 50,-000,000 lbs. in 1860 to 325,000,000 in 1880. Does this look like ruining the farmer? If the arguments of free traders were ound, of course it would be only necessary to him to free trade countries to under a high state of cultivation, the sheep industry particularly prosperous and a constant disposition on the part of capitalists to invest in farming land. But is this true! Unfortunately for those Americans who are constantly trying to throw open our parts and makour land a "dumping-ground" for all of Europe, this is not true, but precisely the opposite of truth. England and Holland are the two nations maintaining nominal fore trade, and it is a melancholy fact that farmers in those two countries are in the lowest condition imaginable. Apart from the abominable system of land tenure in vogue in England in free trade is slowly but surely ruining the cultiva-tion of the soil. Land is going out of alone. There are nearly 3,000 less far mers there now than in 1870. John Bright admits that British farmers as a a result of free trade have lost $1,000,00,000 in the last decade. In 1871 the census there returned 962,348 farm aborers while that of 1881 returned only 870.778, a decrease of about 10 per cent. The sheep industry was brought into What "Peculiar" Means.

Applied to Hood's Sarsaparilla, the word Peculiar is of great importance. It means that Hood's Sarsaparilla is different from other preparations in many vital points, which make it a thoroughly onest and reliable medicine. It is Peculiar, in a strictly medicinal sense; first, in the combination of remedial agents used; second, in the proportion in which they are prepared; third, in the process by which the active curative properties of the medicine are secured. Study these points well. They mean volumes. They make Hood's Sarsaparilla Peculiar in its curative powers, as it accomplishes wonderful cures hitherto unknown, and which give to Hood's Sarsaparilla a clear right to the title of 'The greatest blood purifier ever discov-

POMOLOGICAL SOCIETY. Keeping up and Increasing the Fertility, that it was gratifying that transportation got along with so little friction and such good results to shippers of fruit. The committee will begin its work early with the shipments of strawberries. J. Ganzhorn opened the topic: Keeping up and increasing the fertility of "the soil" with an able paper, which treated of the small value of stable manure drawn from town, often filling the land with noxious weeds. Rotten stable manure drawn into the grapery, caused grape rot. His experiments with clover in alternate rows in the ments with clover in alternate rows in the orchard as well as in the vineyard proved a perfect success. The rows, not seeded down, he kept stirring with the cultivator. The result was large and well developed peaches, perfect foliage which did not suffer from the drouth and the largest crop of grapes he ever had.

Prof. Nichols spoke of the practice of sowing corn or regin the orchard in rows.

W. F. Bird: How can I subdue my hard pan clay soil? I have used ashes but have not overcome it yet. J. All-mand: To get my ground mellow and clean, I sow buckwheat, which is plowed under when large enough.

J. H. Clough: Had two loads of manure hauled from town last winter which did not cost me hardly anything, am doing the same this winter. It is all in one heap yet. J. Ganzhorn and Allmand considered it nearly worthless as the ammonia had escaped. If it had been composited with alternate layers of muck or sod the ammonia would have been retained. Mr. Clough was in favor of rotting manure to destroy the noxious seeds. The majority believed in drawing fresh manure to the land at once. Charles Treadwell met with good success in corn by drawing coarse manure in the

CREAMERY AND CHEESE FACTORY. The writer gave his opinion that the preceding question could be solved best by the erection of a creamery in Ann Arbor, which would induce us to keep more stock and make our own manure. Many families on a small piece of land could make a living by keeping cows. This would create quite an interest in stock raising and produces as well as consumes, in fact this whole town would

SCRATCHED 28 YEARS

A Scaly, Itching, Skin Disease, with Endless Suffering Cured by Cuticura Remedies.

If I had known of the Cuticura Remedies twenty-eight years 2go it would have saved me $200.00 (two hundred dollars) and an immense amount of suffering. My disease (Psoriasis) commenced on my head in a soot not larger than a cent. It spread rapidly all over my body and got under my nails. The scales would drop off me all the time, and my suffering was endess, and without relief. One thousand doll rs would not tempt me to have this disease over again. I am a poor man, but I feel rich to be relieved of what some of the doctors said was leprosy, some ring worm, psoriasis, etc. I took... and... Sarsaparillas over one year and a half, but no cure. I went to two or three doctors and no cure. I cannot praise the Cuticura Remedies to our cure. It went to two or three doctors and my string the my skin as clear and free from scales as a baby's. All I used of them was three boxes of Cuticura, and two cakes of Cuticura Soap. If you had been here and said you would have cured me for $200.00 you would have had the money. I looked like the picture in your book of Psoriasis (picture number two, "How to Cure Skin Diseases"), but now I am as clear as any person ever was. The internal revenue imposed on tobacco and liquors of home growth and manufacture is however a tax, and all consumers of those products pay this tax and no body else.—Allegan Tribune.

And they do say that they had to hold Tarsney by main force to prevent him from chastising Henderson, a thing they should not have done. EDITOR COURIER:—In reading that nost excellent article in your last paper 'From the People" about "Salting the City," I beg leave to make a correction or explanation on the sale of W. W. The buildings and 18 acres of land are across the line in an adjoining township. A REPLY TO SOME OF MR. GIL-BERT'S ASSERTION'S.

In the last issue of the Courier we gave place to an unusually excellent communication from Supervisor Gilbert, of Sylvan, setting forth his side of the question brought up by the last board of supervisors of raising the valuation of Ann Arbor, and lowering that of the towns.

It will be remembered that at its last consist the head in experience placed.

session, the board, in equalizing, placed $585,000 additional upon Ann Arbor city, $100,000 upon one district of Ypsilanti, and reduced the townships just that much, making a difference against the two cities and in favor of the towns of $1,270,000. Had the total equalized valuation been raised the amount placed on the cities, the case would not have been as bad, but the towns were reduced that amount, thus making the raise act in a double capacity.

We have taken up a few of Mr. Gilbert's assertions and analyzed them. He starts off his article by twitting the people of our city of being very ignorant:

The people of Ann Arbor have not Mr. Gilbert or the county supervisors to With red-hot rampant rebels composing the majority of the supreme court of this nation, as will probably be the case if we have four years more of Cleveland, the fire-eaters of the south will be in excellent position to carry out their land, the fire-eaters of the south will be in excellent position to carry out their bragging threats, viz: That they will yet win the victory by diplomacy and ballots that they failed to win with bullets and bonded indebtedness and consequently kept the per cent. of taxes down to a respectable figure, is an astonishing thing for our Sylvan friend to give as a reason why he should shift his share of the tax burdens off on to our shoulders. If our criticiser will study up the figures and post himself a little, he will find that it is usually the cost of city governments hat run their per cent. up, and not the qualized valuation. Were it the latter, psilanti's per cent. would be lower than Ann Arbor's, but it is much above, ow-ng to her heavy bonded indebtedness. And Ypsilanti receives considerable of that "state pap" you so feelingly refer to.

> Mr. Gilbert says that the farms of this ounty have declined in value to the extent of $5,000,000 within the past fifteen years, and adds:

> Undoubtedly there are some exceptions to the rule, depending on location, for instance, Mr. Tozer sells a farm adjoining the city of Ann Arbor for $100 per acre, but Mr. Westfall of the township of Lima ten years
> But you say there are townships in which villages are growing also. I admit to and will take the town of Sylvan, as the village of Chelsea is undoubtedly prosper ou a and rowning. And the reason for this far found in the character and energy of the business men of the village in keeping up of Lima ten years ago was offered $80 per acre for his farm and would not seil, this fall he sells the same farm for $50 per acre aud throws in about $500 in personal property. Another of Lima ten years property. Another farm in Sylvan lately deeded to Mr. R. who from their see farmers with loads of produce in the streets of Chelsea who from their property. Kempf consideration $3,500, is on the tax roll this year for $3,800.
> These latter farms adjoin Chelsea. Herald is devoted to the subject of more hitching posts. Kempfconsideration

Putting these two assertions side by side we find how fatal is the reasoning The price of farms is largely governed by their nearness to a good market, and yet Mr. Gilbert tells us that farms adprice of those adjoining Ann Arbor!

Without noticing the "unkind and uncalled for" flings at the city because of the failure of the city improvement fund, and because this city happens to be the seat of the university, and the county seat, we will pass to the growth and improvement of the cities, villages and country. It seems strange that farm property should have declined so much as Mr. Gilbert claims, when every lum ber yard proprietor in the county will tell you that more than one-third of his sales are for farm buildings of some kind. The farms must be increasing in value. 15 ot 20 years ago war prices prevailed, a greenback $1 was only worth about 75c and of course farm or city values cannot be compared with those times. When wool brought $1 per lb., and wheat $3 per bushel, there was a fictitious value on farm property. A fair comparison can only be made by reducing the value of farm property at that time to a gold basis. Our friend will hardly assert that the farms of this county were worth more in gold 15 or 20 years ago than they

An ative of England, but now one of Iowa's sturdy farmers, has this to say relative to the free trade question raised by President Cleveland:

"I will give you the reasons why I am interested in the tariff. In the first place I am an Englishman. I lived 29 years in England; have been in the United States 31 years. I was a weaver in England for 18 years; but I can safely say that I never earned a pound a week in England in my life. I was over there on a visit five years ago, and the wages are about the same. When I landed in Philadelphia in 1856, I had one sovereign. In 1878 I came to Iowa with $3,300, saved in are to-day. Taking his way of compar-with buildings upon it that has doubled within fifteen years, or even materially increased in value unless by improvements added since then, costing as much as the value has increased.

Some farms may have been stripped and run down because of the greed of their owners, who rush into the city with every dollar they can get hold of to be put into a mortgage upon some poor felow's home in city or village.

But our friend would have made better showing for his farms, had he allowed something for the difference in buildings upon them, for a farm with $8,000 buildings in an excellent state of cultivation sells better than one having cultivation sells better than one having only $1,000 or $2,000 buildings, and not their loans, can you? kept up properly.

Now as to the market question. Is it not true, my dear sir, that because f the 1,800 to 2,000 young people who make this place, a home for nine months of the year, (through the state pap you so freely fling at us) that Ann Arbor is one of the very best markets for farm produce in the state? So good that farmers come from even outside of the county, Brighton, South Lyon, Plymouth, Pinckney, Belleville, etc., to sell their produce here? Thus benefiting the farmers of this section equally with the terri-ble city residents. Mr. Gilbert probably ells the truth about seeing farmers from near here unloading produce in Chelsea. Early last summer a gentleman from Chelsea went about the entire county and paid a few cents more for wool than the accredited market price and secured the bulk of the clip before other dealers

Mr. Gilbert probably did not notice this statement in a recent issue of the Chelsea Herald: Only 3,000 loads of wheat delivered at the Chelsea elevator in 1887, against 5,000 in 1886

n the county woke up. That's how

Mr. Gilbert admits that Chelsea i thoroughly mixed in a druggist's mortar for a long time, and the other ingredients added; after all is thoroughly mixed, put added in the county, and yet the reduction on her equalized valuation as fixed by his com-

Now Mr. Gilbert asserts from hearsay But we who have visited your city for the past fifteen years know what we see, and one real estate dealer told the writer not many months ago, that "the value of real estate had doubled in the last fifteen years."

But this assertion is on a par with the others, and is an assertion merely, without one iota of evidence to support it, not even the real estate dealer's name. not even the real estate dealer's name. The sales above given prove how wild an assertion it is. Now, mind you, we do not claim that our city property has decreased in real value, only from the fictitious values made by the depreciation of the U.S. currency because of the laterebellion, just as the farms have decreased, and equally with them. We do further claim that for every dollar of improve-claim that for every dollar of improvement in the cities of Ann Arbor and Ypsilanti there has been a similar improvement in the townships of this county. The number of farm buildings erected in this county for the past 15 years will outnumber the buildings erected in these two cities, to say nothing of the growth of the villages of Manchester, Saline and Milan. The latter village almost entirely built within the past 15 years, and equal in population and value to any one of at least two wards in this LOOK FOR IT

But the rank injustice of Mr. Gilbert's equalizing committee may be best shown in the 3d district of this city.

There is not a house in the 5th ward of this city to-day, that can be sold for what it cost in hard cash; and there are no capitalists in the ward either, and yet your committee raised that district $190,-000 L It was a great and universe act if 000! It was a cruel and unjust act if ever one was perpetrated. Supervisor O'Hearn, with his accustomed generosity, when he saw the rank unjustice which was about to be done, arose and said, that rather than to have those people so burdened, he was willing to take an additional amount on his district—a district

In looking up the supervisor's proceedings we find the 5th and 6th wards of Ann Arbor equalized at $1,000,000. We find Sylvan equalized at $1,150,000. Is there a fair-minded man in the county of Washtenaw who will say that there is any justice in those figures? There are no wealthy men in the 5th ward, and but very few in the 6th who are more than well-to-do. We have taken the names of six men of Chelsea, which will be made known if desired, and not the wealthiest either, by any means, and we find them assessed on the rolls of Sylvan township at $66,700, all told, real estate personal at $66,400, all told, real estate personal and all, and we are informed by one competent to judge that a half million dollars is a low estimate of their combined wealth. There is one man in the list who is assessed at $4,000 personal, in whose name we find undischarged mortgages to the amount of $15,932 standing the records in the Registers Checkel. upon the records in the Register of Deeds office in this county, and our search didn't include the assignments at that, nor did we have access to the Jackson records where, we are informed, nearly as many more appear in his name. In the way of assessments we do not believe that the various motes in our city supervisors'. eyes are nearly as great as the one beam in Sylvan's own. Mr. P. O'Hearn, one member of that committee (and no more intelligent supervisor on the board than he), representing the poorest district in the city, submitted to the committee the first table of equalization or proposition, while admitting the city should be raised, said: "I don't want to take it all this year." Now to find out what he was willing to "take," see Proceedings, page 31, and compare with last year, you will flud the partial raise he was willing to take was $275,000, about half what the committee finally reported.

This reminds us of a story. You have

This reminds us of a story. You have perhaps heard of the man who was over-taken by a couple of highwaymen that demanded his money; he protested that what he had was but little, honestly earned, and needed by his family; they informed him they didn't care for that, they were there for business not sentiment, and he must deliver or lose his brains. So he delivered his watch and chain and a portion or his money, but not satisfied with that they insisted upon searching his pockets, whereupon he passed over all the money he had, hoping to save his clothes, and was informed shat his life was spared that he might go and earn some more. Upon being brought into court the robbers plead not guilty because the man gave them his propert It is not improbable that when Mr. O'Hearn found that the committee was determined to unload upon the city he attempted to make the best terms possible, he naturally would, and Mr. Gilbert's plea that he did it voluntarily is rather ludicrous.

I have been told by one who has the best opportunity to know, that at least three-fourths of these mortgages are owned in Ann Arbor, and amount to over three times the total personal assessment in the whole city including gas and water works.

"Any man, having the opportunity ou have, should post himself before making such gross charges."

Such false statements are a stock in trade with those who seek to prejudice the country people against our city, one who endeavors to be honest and candid, as we believe Mr. Gilbert does should be careful how he misleads people with such untruthful statements.

Come down sometime and let's go over the books. You will find that the man

Look over our records and see the home after home in our city on which the oc cupant pays taxes, and interest and insurance; and the owners of these mort-gages are not all city residents, either. There are many wealthy men in this county outside of Ann Arbor and Ypsl-lanti, and we do not believe (with the one exception perhaps, of Mr. Beeman, Lyndon) that there is one of them who i assessed at one-fourth his wealth.

If any farmer doubts this, let him try to also money on his farm from some Ann Aroor capitalist and see what amount he canget, with his land for security.

Why is it necessary to go to some Ann Arbor capitalist? Why not go to some Chelsea capitalist? She has several of them, as the records show. If Ann Arbor capitalists are being continually raised on their valuation you can't blame

And Mr. Editor, if you will through your columns show up the unequal assessments in the city as between the rich and the poor, you will also relieve the farmers, upon whom the prosperity of our villages and cities depend; who now hear the burden of taxation. Their lands, buildings, stock and tools all in sight of the assessor.

Some of the unequal assessments have been referred to above. Before Mr. Gilbert calls upon other supervisors to assess people one-half their personal wealth, would it not be well for him to set the example? Ann Arbor is proud of her steady growth and prosperity, and well she need be, but it appears to be in spite and not with the assistance of those who ought to If our worthy Sylvan friend will stop to reflect he may conclude that the state is not doing all she does for the univer-sity to boom Ann Arbor, but to benefit sity to boom Ann Arbon, but to herself; on the sound principle that it is cheaper to educate and enlighten her children than it is to support them in ignorance. Mr. Gilbert will pardon us if we still insist that it would be a good thing to induce the supervisors in the vicinity of Chelsea to attend that cottage prayer

Resolutions of Respect.

The following resolutions on the death of the late Hon. E. Mann, were adopted at a meeting of the Forest Hill Cemetery Board held this a. m .:

WHEREAS, By the recent death of our long time associate on this Board, Eman-uel Mann, we feel that it has sustained a a serious and great loss, and that we personally lose a valuable and much esteemed associate. Now, therefore, in estimony of our regard, it is Resolved, That during the many years of his active official association with this board we have ever found the late Emanuel Mann prompt and faithful in the discharge of every duty, sincerely devoted to the welfare and prosperity of all the interests of this board, an affable and generous gentleman, an agreeable and wise counsellor and a faithful and correct co-worker and associate. By his gentle manuers and unassuming worth gentle manners and unassuming worth e has endeared his memory to us all and we desire to express permanently upon our records this recognition of the value of his official services on the Board, and of our admiration of his personal character as a man. Therefore, Resolved, That the secretary spread this stimonial upon the records upon a page

George Clarken has been complained of for keeping his saloon open last week Monday, Jan. 2d, the legal holiday. This is the first case under the new law. The examination will be before Justice Pond on the 19th, and the trial will be before the circuit court.

The Washtenaw county Mutual Fire Ins. Co. is holding its annual meeting at the court house to-day. The secretary's office was not large enough to hold the crowd this a. m., so they adjourned to the court room. There will be no contest on officers we understand, but several noints of interest to notices. points of interest to policy holders will be acted upon; one of them being the question of insuring fences. The new board of county superintendents of the poor are to hold a meeting at the farm next week Tuesday, at which it is supposed important business will be transacted. At the meeting held last Tuesday, Chas. W. McCormick, of Ypsilanti, was elected keeper, in place of Mr. McDowell, who has held the place of the contract of the place for the past nine years, in a most acceptable manner. Mr. McCormick will take his position April 1st.

Campbell, of Lima Center, J. Q. A. Sessions of Ann Arbor, of the old 7th cavalry, Commander Williams, of the Jackson Post, and others. The first thing on the program was a public installation of the officers of the post, and the speaking and banqueting followed being sandwiched in toon the M. C. R. R., made an assignment Saturday to John J. Robison of this city. The assetts are figured up at $15,000 not including the book accounts, while the liabilities are placed at $10,000 or $12,000. The Ann Arbor Savings Bank has $3,000, and the remainder is owing to farmers, except a second mortgage on the mill held by his brother.

LOCAL OPTION.

It is Decided to Vote upon the Question as soon as Possible.

Last Saturday the convention called to consider the question of holding an elec-tion to vote upon prohibition in this county under the new law, convened at the court house. There was a goodly

Resolved, That it is the expression of this meeting that the best interest of temperance demand that immediate action be taken to canvass the county of Washtenaw under the local option law of the state and that a vote be taken on the subject at the earliest opportunity.

Smithe, of the Ypsilantian, felt very much as Mr. Holmes did, and gave the votes in the ten counties that had carried it showing the per cent. of gain, and basing this county on that per cent. we should certainly fail, by a large majority. He thought it wise to wait for a year, perhaps, instead of being defeated and obliged to wait three years.

perhaps, instead of being defeated and obliged to wait three years.

Mr. Ed. Shaw, of Ypsilanti couldn't wait. He was young, vigorous and enthusiastic and could brook no delay in this matter. Delays were dangerous. He pictured the prospect with a roseate glow. He thought it a disgrace that Washtenrw county, the seat of the great normal school, and containing a wondernormal school, and containing a wonder-ful business college, and incidentally he might mention also a university within her borders, should hesitate for a moment on this question. When prohibition was submitted before he understood that some of the professors at Ann Arbor, had of the professors at Ann Arbor had opposed it, but they wouldn't do it now; in fact he dared them to oppose it this time if it was submitted. And closed his speech demanding an immediate election in behalf of the fathers and mothers of this land

J. Austin Scott thought that the quescounty who had voted against it before who would vote for it now.

E. M. Foote of Ypsilanti was fierce for immediate action, and asserted that ninetenths of those who voted against it then would were feet. then would vote for it now because the supreme court had decided that the people could not be held for the value of the property of the saloon keeper made valueless by enacting the law. right here in Ann Arbor the majority against the amendment would be reversed, for now it was brought directly to a vote for or against the saloon.

Mr. D. B. Taylor of Chelsea was ready for the fight now. A year from now he thought the sour top candidates who had been defeated in the fall election would pitch into anything they could see and would defeat the proposition then if nothing else would.

How to Polish Wood.

The following simple ingredients are all that is neded to stop the grain in polshed wood: Take a small quantity of white beeswax, melt it down, and, while liquid, mix with whiting. As it gets thick, keep adding boiled oil until you have it as you wish it. When using it, neet the wood over solid. Let it stand until the next day, when you can remove he surplus by using No. 1/4 sandpaper It is chesper and easier than shellac, and can be leveled sooner, leaving nothing but the pores or grain of the wood filled which is better than having your wood all stained up with shellac. An excel-lent method of removing varnish from a panel after it has pitted is thus given in carriage journal: The only way is to run over it lightly with spirits of ammonia. Do not let the ammonia remain too long on the varnish before you us the scraper on it, as it will be likely to eat through and affect the under coats The object to be gained is only to take off the pitted coat. After removal, wash off with castile soap and water. Let stand an hour or two to enable the under coat to become hardened. Again rub down with rag and pumice stone lightly, and then revarnish. It would be better, it with a light coating of varnish, to guard against a possible repetition of the pit-
