NOT A PIMPLE ON HIM NOW.

Bad with Eczema. Hair all gone Scalp covered with eruptions. Thought his hair would never grow. Cured by Cuticura Remedies. Hair splendid and not a pimple on him.

I cannot say enough in praise of the CUTICURA REMEDIES. My boy, when one year of age, was so bad with eczema that he lost all of his hair. His scalp was covered with eruptions, which the doctors said was scald head, and that his hair would never grow again. Despairing of a cure from physicians, I began the use of the CUTICURA REMEDIES, and, I am happy to say, with the most perfect success. His hair is now splendid, and there is not a pimple on him. I recommend the CUTICURA REMEDIES to mothers as the most speedy, economical, and sure cure for all skin diseases of infants and children, and feel that every mother who has an afflicted child will thank me for so doing.

MRS. M. E. WOODSUM, Norway, Me.

A Fever Sore Eight Years Cured.

I must extend to you the thanks of one of my customers, who has been cured, by using the CUTICURA REMEDIES, of an old sore, caused by a long spell of sickness or fever eight years ago. He was so bad he was fearful he would have to have his leg amputated, but is happy to say he is now entirely well,—sound as a dollar. He requests me to use his name, which is H. H. CASON, merchant of this place.

Severe Scalp Disease Cured.

A few weeks ago my wife suffered very much from a cutaneous disease of the scalp and received no relief from the various remedies she used until she tried CUTICURA. The disease promptly yielded to this treatment, and in a short while she was entirely well. There has been no return of the disease and CUTICURA ranks No. 1 in our estimation for diseases of the skin.

Catarrhal Dangers.

To be freed from the dangers of suffocation while lying down; to breathe freely, sleep soundly and undisturbed; to rise refreshed, head clear, brain active and free from pain or ache; to know that no poisonous, putrid matter defiles the breath and rots away the delicate machinery of smell taste and hearing; to feel that the system does not through its veins and arteries, suck up the poison that is sure to undermine and destroy, is indeed a blessing beyond all other human enjoyments. To purchase immunity from such a fate should be the object of all afflicted. But those who have tried many remedies and physicians despair of relief or cure.

SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE meets every phase of Catarrh, from a simple head cold to the most loathsome and destructive stages. It is local and constitutional. Instant in relieving, permanent in curing, safe, economical and never failing.

SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE consists of one bottle of the RADICAL CURE, one box of CATARRHAL SOLVENT, and one IMPROVED INHALER, all wrapped in one package, with treatise and directions, and sold by all druggists for $1.

STEARNS WAR RECORD.

HOW THE DEMOCRATIC CANDIDATE FOR CONGRESS,

Fought in the War for the Preservation of the Union.

HIS RESIGNATION FROM THE ARMY WAS REQUESTED BY THE COLONEL COMMANDING.

And was "Accepted for the Good of the Service."

The democratic candidate for congress in this district is posing as a soldier, and asks for soldier votes, because of his service in the army.

Since his nomination, he has purchased a Grand Army button, and now wears it conspicuously displayed at every point at which he makes a speech.

That standard authority "Michigan in the War," is conspicuously silent as to the deeds of daring which Willard Stearns was responsible for in the times that tried men's souls, and we give the gentleman the benefit of that record, here and now:

"Stearns, Willard, Franklin. First lieutenant Eleventh cavalry, Aug. 1, 1863. Resigned Oct. 29, 1864."

A smell of powder about that record is noticeably absent.

But, fortunately, good friends of Mr. Stearns have arranged for a more extended record, and it is this extended record which we propose now to give to the voters of the second congressional district.

Ever since the time when this warrior ceased to war, rumors have been afloat in regard to the circumstances and surroundings under which he left the service. But so far as we know, the first publication of the charge that Lieut. Stearns resigned from the army, "for the good of the service," was made in The Times, by a Franklin correspondent, in the issue of September 11, 1876. This correspondent charged that Willard Stearns had resigned his position in the army for the good of the service, "and dare not deny it."

The next day Mr. Stearns appeared in The Times with a card, from which we quote:

"I once for all, in order to silence this false charge, dare and do deny, and defy any person to prove that I 'resigned for the good of the service,' or anything like it, nor did I ever give any such reason for resigning."

This outspoken denial staggered the editor of The Times, and he proposed to get his information from headquarters, from which there could be no appeal. Accordingly he wrote to Hon. Z. Chandler, who was then secretary of the interior, asking for information in regard to Stearns' record. A prompt response was received, and the accompanying report from the war department was printed in The Times of Sept. 28, 1876.

But since that time a good many people have forgot; hence we print Mr. Stearns' record again, and this time we print a fac simile of the letter received from the war department, and referred to above.

Here it is, and it explains itself:

War Department
Washington City
9205. September 25, 1876.

Sir

I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your reference of the letter of your correspondent, S. S. Applegate, Esq., asking for information in regard to Willard Stearns, formerly of the 11th Michigan Cavalry, and to state that the records of the Adjutant General's Office show that 1st. Lieutenant Willard Sterns., Co. H, 11th. Michigan Cavalry, tendered his resignation at the request of the Colonel commanding the regiment, and it was accepted "For the good of the service" October 29th. 1864.

Hon. Z. Chandler,
Secretary of the Interior.

Mr. Applegate's address is Adrian, Mich.

Very respectfully,
Your obedient servant,
H. T. Crosby

POMOLOGICAL SOCIETY.

Exhibits of Fruits of the Season, of Jelly by the A. A. Preserving and Pickling Company, County Fair, etc.

At the monthly meeting of the society, President Baldwin exhibited a very large specimen of the Le Conte pear. The foliage was large and bright, showing a very healthy wood, not in the least injured by the late frosts. If this pear ripens in our climate it will stay like the Kieffer, which it resembles, surpassing the latter in size. Both are Mongolian origin.

The undersigned exhibited Sheldon, Secel, Louise Bonne, Superfine, Mount Vernon, Duchesse, D'Anjon, Bosc, Kieffer and Nelis pears.

The Ann Arbor Preserve and Pickling Company exhibited Peach Jelly in neat blue and white glass jars. All who tasted it pronounced it very good. Its positive peach character was marked in comparison with the cheap jellies that contain everything but the fruit, indicated on the labels. This company could not get enough peaches here and imported a car load from St. Louis, Mo., at the rate of $1.35 per bushel. Miss Sarah Fletcher superintended the canning and jellying. She is so well-known in this community that her name is a guarantee for first class work, and scrupulous neatness in putting up fruit. The company put up quite an amount of fruit from this vicinity. It is very strange that their exhibit at the County Fair, which was the largest passed unnoticed by the judges and superintendents of that department.

The fruit exhibit at our last County Fair was discussed. It was a grand success, but the fruit, especially grapes, became unsightly by the dust in the fruit hall. A committee, consisting of E. Baur, W. F. Bird and J. Ganzhorn was appointed to recommend to the Agricultural and Horticultural Society a new floor for the fruit hall and general better arrangements; also a change in the premium list on fruits. It was asserted that some exhibitors of fruit collect their exhibits from the neighborhood and the same canned goods have appeared for years. It was recommended that in future the superintendent of that department should ask exhibitors, whether they themselves have grown these fruits.

Mr. J. Austin Scott thought that the premiums on farm, garden and orchard produce were too small. He considered, these departments the most important. A first premium of fifty cents on wheat and of one dollar on largest and best display of grapes was out of place. Mr. J. J. Parshall moved that the original subscription list for the fruit factory bonus be put in the hands of Mr. E. B. Pond for collection. The motion was carried. Those that shipped by the fruit car are requested to pay a penny per bushel to the treasurer of this society, which had considerable work to do to bring about cheaper transportation.

Laboring men read this: Mr. Stearns in the Adrian Press, two years ago—only two short years—said this of the labor men's candidate, Henry A. Robinson, of Detroit: "He is the candidate of Socialists and Anarchists. They first named him. They are the ones who professed to have the naming of a candidate. They are no respecters of law and order. Robinson is no better." "He should be shunned as much as a Chicago bomb thrower." "Robinson should be defeated by 10,000 majority in that district, and communism stamped out. You can't disguise the fact that it is a concession to one of the worst elements of social government to endorse Hank Robinson, and every man who has the honor of Wayne county at heart will labor to crush his candidacy." These are the words of Willard Stearns in the Adrian Press in the last campaign, when Mr. Robinson was backed by 6,000 laboring men of Detroit, who signed their names to a paper to support him. That was the opinion Mr. Stearns had of organized labor then. What do you suppose, my laboring friends, he thinks of you now? Does he love you at heart any more to-day than he did then? He will favor and flatter and taffy, but please remember that only two years ago he called you "Socialists and Anarchists," to be "shunned as much as a Chicago bomb thrower."

The Dundee Reporter is, politically, a neutral paper (so-called) yet it quotes a lot of figures from that anonymous circular being sent throughout the state by the democratic authorities, and gives them as truth without showing up their misrepresentations. Has Burt's barrel reached Dundee?

EDITORIAL NOTES.

Albert Gardner the maimed soldier, is a good writer, and would make a courteous register of deeds.

Honest Injun, now, wouldn't you rather see John F. Lawrence prosecuting attorney of this county than his competitor?

When the southern idea predominates in the financial affairs of this country, then look out for dark days in the northern states.

Do you fully realize, my friend, what a change in the financial affairs of this nation means? And if so are you prepared for it?

The idea of a man who only a short time since called laboring men "anarchists and communists," passing now as a friend to them!

When a postmaster of a village forbids republican papers from circulating through his office the party must be mightily scared.

Mr. Stearns has never yet stated why he "plead guilty in advance to all crimes in the calendar." Does an innocent man ever plead guilty?

John F. Lawrence is a man you all know. He has no spots or blemishes on his record. As prosecuting attorney of this county he would be an honor to the county.

The Argus published Stearn's "open letter" to Mr. Blaine. Now will the Argus have the fairness to publish Mr. Blaine's reply made in his speech at Adrian.?

If free trade will make everything cheap my laboring friend, how about the mortgage on your house? Will less wages and cheaper clothes help you to pay that off?

If all of the Free Press reports are as relieable as its account of the Allen meeting here last Friday night, even the democrats themselves must feel proud of its reliability.

The Democrat, in speaking of Mr. Allen's chances, says that whoever the COURIER favors is sure to be defeated. If that be true, why does the editor of the Democrat keep scolding away at us?

Senator Blair, of New Hampshire, was rotten egged at a political meeting down in Charlottesville, Virginia, a few days since, where he went by invitation to speak on the tariff. No bloody shirt down there! Oh, no!

How pleasant it is for bretheren to dwell together in unity. Fisk and Brooks, Jerry Falvey and the Free Press—all in the same pew and singing the same songs. Beautiful thought. Charming spectacle. —Detroit Tribune.

Over $57,000,000 of government money have been been deposited with banks in the east, without interest. It is hoped by this move to conciliate enough prominent business men to stop the continual desertions to the republican party.

"We can work the postoffices to our advantage," wrote Chairman Weston to National Democrat headquarters. And they are working them hard.—Detroit Tribune.

Yes, even to forbidding republican papers from circulating through them.

Henry S. Gregory, a prominent Detroit democrat, has come out for Harrison and Morton. We have on hand a list of some three columns of these converts, in addition to the six or eight columns already published in the COURIER, which we can publish if desirable.

The Adrian Press, published by Willard Stearns, called the 6,000 laboring men who signed a paper to support Henry A. Robinson for congress in the 1st district two years ago, "anarchists and communists." Has Mr. Stearns experienced a change of heart since then?

The editor of the Ypsilanti Sentinel speaks of Anna Dickinson and Fred Douglass as "fossils," and as "recalling memories of a past generation." If that be true, pray what would you call the editor of the Sentinel, and of what generation would he "recall memories?"

Jacob H. Martin would make an excellent sheriff and attend to the duties of the office in a prompt and efficient manner. And there are many people who would like to see him residing in the nice residence furnished by the county for that official, after Jan. 1st next.

Geo. S. Wheeler would make as good a judge of probate as ever filled that office in this county. Strictly honest, a man of pure moral life, incorruptible in his dealings with his fellow men, he possesses all the essential qualifications of a good judge of probate, and ought to be elected.

We ask every calm, sensible, thinking man in Washtenaw county, if there is any comparison to be made between the two candidates for prosecuting attorney in this county? Is not Mr. Lawrence immeasurably superior in every essential qualification for that position? Would it not be wise then, on your part, to elect the man who can perform the duties of this, one of the most important offices in the county, in an acceptable manner, without fear or favor?

The statement of Mr. Stearns that Mr. Blaine opposed a tariff on lumber in congress in 1868 is on a par with all the rest of his campaign slush. Mr. Blaine opposed an internal revenue tax on lumber and opposes that now. Mr. Stearns either told a willful falsehood, or he was too ignorant to know the difference between an internal revenue tax and a tariff. But few men will believe that he doesn't know that difference.

The senatorial convention for Monroe and Washtenaw counties, met at the court house this p. m. and unanimously nominated Clark Cornwell, of Ypsilanti, for state senator. The following committee was appointed: J. W. Morris, Grape, Monroe co., Gen. Geo. Spaulding Monroe; H. S. Boutelle, Ypsilanti; Chas. E. Hiscock and F. B. Braun, Ann Arbor. Clark Cornwell is the hustling ex-Mayor of Ypsilanti, and a man who never sleeps on the post of duty.

At the 47th annual convention of the East Pennsylvania German Lutheran Synod, held in Philadelphia, week before last, the following resolution was adopted: "We, as a Christian body, realizing our responsibility, will continue to do our utmost to abolish the rum traffic. We look with favor upon every organization which as an educator is working in the interests of temperance, and also favor any legislation which will in any way lead to the final enactment and enforcement of reasonable and scriptural prohibitory law."

Because the COURIER stands up for what it believes to be right, and fights politically against southern dictation, and because its editor defends himself against charges of falsehood preferred in a public meeting, the Ypsilanti Sentinel says the paper is "mean." If there is a paper in the state that can say meaner things than the Sentinel, in a keener or more scathing manner, we should like to know what one it is. If it is "mean" to fight a good fight for one's own convictions, and pay a blackguard off in his own coin, then "mean" we are, for that's what we shall do every day in the week, if we can.

While Cleveland's predecessors in 23 years had only vetoed 8 pension bills he has killed 331 bills for pensions in 4½ years. Gen. Vander Voort the past Commander-in-Chief of the G. A. R. has examined those bills and knows that nearly all should have been allowed. But to add to the insults to the old-time defenders of the Union the vetoes are accompanied by slurring remarks. The bills had passed a democratic house and as the St. Clair Republican says: If President Cleveland was right in these vetoes, then the democratic house was wrong and is unfit to be trusted. On the other hand if the democratic house was right in passing these bills, the president's vetoes are wrong and he is unworthy of confidence. Take which horn you please of the dilemma and it shows the unworthiness of the democracy.

CAPT. ALLEN'S SPEECH.

A Big Turnout and One of the Best Speeches of the Season.

Last Friday night was anything but inviting as far as the weather was concerned. It rained, and it looked very discouraging to the many friends of Capt. Allen in this city who were anxious to have a good meeting for him. But the Captain's friends here are such as are not to be deterred by a rain storm. At 7 o'clock the 5th ward republican club came marching up to the 3d ward headquarters, where all were supplied with torches, and headed by the Chequamegon band about 250 men marched about the streets and then down to the rink. In passing the corner of Main and Huron sts., red fire and Roman candles made the gritty torch bearers show off to good advantage. It required considerable courage and a great deal of enthusiasm to march through the streets that night, and that there should be so many willing to brave the storm speaks volumes for their fealty to the cause of republicanism and is a great compliment to Capt. Allen, also. The people came to the rink in great numbers, and it was filled as it has not been filled at any meeting this campaign. There were from 1,200 to 1,500 people present. He held the audience, and they listened with marked attention to his able, clear and candid argument upon the questions of the hour. He had no abuse for his political opponents; no sacreligious stories to tell; no blackguardism for anybody. Although calling attention to certain charges made against him by the Argus, he did it in no bulldog "you-are-a-liar" manner; but plainly and earnestly. To the "charge" that he was a "temperance man" he pleaded guilty, and stated that he should always be a temperance man, whether "he went to the White House or went to jail." Though respecting all men in their honest convictions, and possessing sufficient liberality to keep him from fanaticism, the Captain doesn't believe that getting drunk in either a mark of statesmanship or good citizenship—and where is the man who will say that it is?

Congressman Allen commenced his address by stating why he had failed to appear at a previous time, which was without consent on his part, but congratulated the people on having had the opportunity to listen to so good a speech as that delivered by Mr. Sawyer the evening he failed to come. "This splendid audience, on such a night as this," said the captain, "shows the supreme interest of the people in the issues of this campaign; it proves that they fully realize the great questions to be settled by the coming elections. It is a grand thing to be an American citizen, and every year our people are becoming more and more enlightened as to their best interests, and more and more jealous of their rights. The day for mere partisanship has gone by. The fierce partisanship that marked the period of the war was necessary. When war's shrill cry pierced its way to every hamlet in the land, and men had to shoulder arms, and the salvation of the nation was dependent upon loyalty to the union cause, then people were forced to take sides and separate. In this campaign people are seeking the truth. They wish to know the best methods of conducting the financial system of this government, and the tag "I am a democrat," or "I am a republican," is tied to very few men's collars. This administration however, gets things terribly mixed. To-day for instance, the weather bureau promised fair weather and lower temperature but like many other promises, it has been broken.

In 1840 our fathers engaged in electing a Gen. Harrison president of the U. S., and there were men gathered together in great numbers to hear these same questions discussed that are foremost to-day. Then, as now there were thousands upon thousands of democrats who had always voted democratic ticket, who would not vote for "free trade and sailor's rights," as it was termed. Free trade and slavery were ever warring against the bone and muscle of the north. The south stand to-day where they stood then. They believe in free trade as firmly to-day as in 1840. They then instructed their statesmen and people alike that it was their duty to see that manufactures did not get a foothold in the north, so that their cotton would be king. They wanted to raise their cotton by slave labor, send it over to England to be manufactured and then have it sent back to sell to the north in shape of clothes. You and I and everybody must understand that this is the question now, and its settlement will have a greater effect upon the country for good or evil than anything since the war. Upon its right settlement depends the future prosperity of the country. President Cleveland (of whom Mr. Allen spoke highly in a personal sense) enunciated a great principle in his message, and he has forced his party to adopt it. Some of them like Mr. Randall, and Senator Gorman, et al. expostulated, but Mr. Cleveland said as is the feast I have invited you to, either set down or get out, and they sat down, except Mr. Randall who fought it with all the power at his command and to-day opposes the re-election of Mr. Cleveland right on this great question.

The republican plan is 1st to place an internal revenue tax on tobacco cigars, all liquors sold for beverages, and all duties for butter such as oleomargarine, etc., and 2d to lay no duty on anything for the comfort of the home which we do not produce at home, but to put a tariff upon all goods brought into the U. S., which we are producing, or can be produced there. This system gives to the laboring man of the U. S. the highest scale of wages paid in any country in the world, and it is to him that protection is a benefit. If the democrats elect the majority of the next house of representatives it will be a long step toward free trade. If the republicans elect a majority of that house the present prosperous system will be continued with one idea always prominently in view, viz: the most effective method to protect American industries and the American laborer. The republican view is not a new one. The fathers practically agreed upon this question and the second law passed under Gen. Washington's administration, and signed by his hand was a protective tariff law. Jefferson favored protection, in the republican sense of that word, and coming down to Jackson's time we find South Carolina kicking at old Hickory because of the protective tariff laws passed through his influence and advice. That state passed the famous nullification act at that time, and threatened to destroy the union, and the tariff was so modified under the advice of Henry Clay and others, that South Carolina remained in the union, until 1861, when she in company with ten other southern states tried it again, and passed acts of secession, the conception of which was free trade and not slavery. In 1860 Abraham Lincoln, the Just, whose memory is held sacred to-day in every true American heart, and whose name stands high in the rank of American statesmen, declared: "I am in favor of internal improvements, and a protective tariff." On the other hand the democratic party has always been on the opposite side, though not always brought to the issue as now. They have dodged it, and four years ago Samuel J. Randall saved the party from defeat by going down to New York at the solicitation of Mr. Cleveland, and telling the business men, that the tariff would not be meddled with. And such grand democrats as Randall are not supporting Mr. Cleveland to-day because he is drifting the party into free trade.

This country has had an experience with the free trade policy. It existed here from 1846 to 1861, and that period was strewn with financial wrecks. In 1857 it culminated in such bankruptcy and business disaster as was never before seen in the nation—want, destitution and misery reigned throughout the union; there was no work to be had; no money to buy necessities with. Things were cheap, but no one had any money to buy them with, and people starved to death though there was plenty in the land. When the republican party came into power they at once adopted a protective policy, but in 1894 the democrats commenced demanding free trade again, and the wiping out of the custom houses. The democrats claim to favor "incidental protection." What is incidental protection? Why, it is accidental protection. They want a tariff for revenue, and if any industry happens to be protected by it all right. When he was a small lad over in his native town of Sharon, his mother, of sainted memory, taught him that it was as wicked to steal a pin as it was to steal a larger article. It was theft, no matter how small the thing stolen. Now the democrats are eternally crying out that tariff is robbery. If that be so, the size of the robbery don't have anything to do with the guilt, so their "incidental protection" will make them picayune thieves while we are the master ones. We submit to this audience that such arguments are not honest, not honorable, not true. The democratic party to-day is President Cleveland, and in him are grouped all the elements of free trade. Who has dictated this policy? Not the members of Congress from the northern states, but the men who are in that body bearing wounds and scars, honorably received, but received in an attempt to destroy this nation. They represent their sections only, and do not, nor will not possess sufficient breadth or liberality to take in the needs of this vast country, so that all portions of it may be fairly and justly dealt by. This can be seen in the retaining of a large duty on southern sugar and rice, and the placing of northern wool, lumber, salt, etc., on the free list. Mr. Stearns, his opponent, argues that the farmers of Michigan would be just as well off without any sheep, and thus attempts to justify free wool.

A correspondent of the Argus had attempted to ridicule him by calling him a fog horn; and the Argus itself by calling him a temperance man. He believed that they would only injure themselves by flinging that kind of mud. A fog horn, however, is an application not to be despised. The fog horn is sounded in time of danger; when the mists obstruct the view, and the angry waves dash high on dangerous rocks, the fog horn peals out its warning notes to those in peril; and he stood there warning the people of the danger they were in of being blinded by tariff revenue mists, and the fatal rocks of free trade. The captain did not believe that mud throwing would hurt him for the man did not live whom he had wronged, he felt that he held the respect of the people.

The argument is made that if a hat costs $2 now and $1 under free trade, and the price of labor changes from $2 to $1 under the different systems, what difference does it make? Just this difference: the man who has a mortgage on his home will not have but $1 a day to pay it with, where he has two under the protective system, and the mortgage will not shrink in value with the shrinkage of wages.

The speaker brought up argument upon argument, and made point after point to prove his position, making it so plain and clear that even a child could comprehend it, and closed in many respects the best speech of the campaign by a warm eulogy of the old soldiers, 3,000,000 of whom had stood between us and disunion.

BULLDOZING IN WASHTENAW!

AN ATTEMPT TO THROTTLE THE PRESS.

South Carolina Methods Introduced in this County.

According to custom, from time immemorial, the COURIER has been sending out during this campaign, papers to people whose names have been sent to us for that purpose. This paper is sent free of expense to the recipient, but is paid for by other parties. It is sent during the campaign only.

Our democratic contemporary, the Argus, and we presume the Democrat also, is doing the same thing to-day, and it is a common thing for all newspapers to do. But it remains for the democratic postmaster of Chelsea to strike a blow at the freedom of the press that no official has ever dared to do before in the nation. He has officially ordered the editor and proprietor to cease sending the COURIER to people at the Chelsea office during the campaign, and to "send to none but regular subscribers."

That is an act that would charm the Czar of Russia, but which no postmaster in all the kingdom of Great Britain even, would dare to do.

We claim that as proprietor of the COURIER we have got the right to send it to whom we please. If the one to whom it is sent refuses to take it out of the office, then it is the duty of the postmaster to notify us to that effect, and if we do not attend to the notice then the postmaster has the right to add that much to his waste paper basket. But he has no right or power to tell us to whom we shall send our paper or to whom we shall not send it. The day has not yet come when this government gives to any of its officers a censorship over the press of this nation, or any portion of it.

We have heard many complaints from this Chelsea office of documents and papers not being delivered. At the last meeting of the republican county committee the chairman made the statement that he had sent a considerable amount of reading matter, postage prepaid, that had never been received by men present who received their mail at the Chelsea office. It may have been lost on the way. It is charitable to suppose so, but this last act of usurpation would lead to a far different conclusion.

Do you suppose for a moment that such a notice would be sent to a democratic paper in this county, by Postmaster McKone? Does he forbid his own party papers from circulating through his office? Does he hope to win votes by such tyranical methods? For shame! It is enough to make the honorable men of his party blush. It is unjust, un-American, and the act of a tyrant, and we do not believe that it will receive the sanction of the honorable men of the democratic party.

The citizens of the first representative district are urged to send the right man to the next legislature irrespective of party affiliations. The interests of the district demand that we should vote for the one most competent to represent us We have frequently decided this question without regard to party. Let us do so again. It is not a question of politics Wise legislation affecting our state institution is of prime importance to us, and we ought to keep this fact in mind on election day. We should send to Lansing a man whose ability and influence are certain to command the respect of the legislature. To do less than this is to jeopardize the interests of the district Hon. A. J. Sawyer of this city in every respect fills the requirements. In the sessions of '77 and '79 he was one of the leaders of the house. His experience in legislative matters would be of great service to his constituency, and it is hoped that he may represent us in the coming session. Whatever complications arrive the affairs of the district will be safe in his hands.

"There is not a point to which an objection can be made by any democrat to his election," says the Ypsilanti Sentinel of Mr. Stearns. Perhaps not. But why did Gov. Begole refuse to appoint him as commissioner of the State Industrial school for girls at Adrian after agreeing to do so?

The visit of the Cadillac business men and council last Wednesday night and Thursday forenoon was a very enjoyable affair. They did not arrive until about 10 o'clock, so that there was no banquet or public reception. Thursday morning the entire party, consisting of 33 people, including several ladies, were taken in charge by committees of the council and citizens, driven about the city in carriages, and shown over the University campus, buildings, library, museum, etc., with Prof. Pettee as guide. The time of their stay was so limited that but a hurried visit was paid to any thing, and our citizens sincerely hope that the Cadillac people may come again some time, when they will have sufficient time to examine our city and its "lions." The party left here for Toledo where a banquet and big time awaited them.

Hon. W. R. Burt is making the most remarkable canvass that has been made in Michigan since the close of the war.—Dundee Reporter.

Yes, remarkable for a circular to which he dare not sign his name, and which he therefore sends out anonymously; and which is as full of falsehood as Satan is of wickedness. He would make a better canvass by fighting a more manly battle.

Chas. H. Kline is making a thorough canvass of the county, not only speaking for himself, but for every man on the list, from Harrison down. Mr. Kline is very popular among the younger voters, and few men in the county would fill the office of circuit court commissioner with more ability than he.

There is to be a rare political treat at the Opera House on Saturday evening, Oct. 13th. Col. John Atkinson, of Detroit, and Henry Haigh, of the same city, will address the people, under the auspices of the U. of M. branch of the Michigan club. Every one who has heard Col. Atkinson will want to hear him again, and those who have not will certainly improve the opportunity. He is one of the best speakers in Michigan.

Read the letter of Mr. Davenny from Belgium on 4th page.

D. C. Fall is looking for some flag calico. Anybody seen it?

There are seven republican poles in the fifth ward and only one democratic.

Remember the lecture of Theodore Roosevelt, at the Rink next Wednesday evening.

Mr. Sunderland will give the first of his evening lectures at the Unitarian church next Sunday evening.

Tea social given by the Ladies Aid Society of St. Andrews' church at Hobart Hall to-morrow evening.

The city officials have stopped the erection of a wooden barn in the rear of Mr. Zuern's market on Washington St.

Rev. H. Palmer is getting nicely settled in the Dixboro charge, and will give the people there some good sermons.

The church choir of the German church of Manchester paid a visit to the choir of Bethlehem church last Sunday.

The picture of "Horses in a Storm," painted by Mrs. E. B. Lewis, and the property of Geo. Blum, in Koch & Henne's window, is a beauty.

"The meeting and speech of Capt. Allen's was the grandest thing we've had this year," said a well-known citizen the next morning. So say we all of us.

Philip Bach has accepted the $800 for his lot on the Second street extension, offered by the city council, and that greatly discussed project will now become a reality. The T. & A. R. R. will commence their new station building at once, we are informed.

The friends of Dr. R. B. Pope will be pleased to learn that letters from his family give promise of his early recovery. This conference sent him a very sympathetic and beautiful testimonial of confidence and regard. Since his illness he has received two calls from large eastern churches.

It is not very welcome intelligence that the old and reliable firm of Hangsterfer & Co. are to close out their restaurant and confectionery business at once. The firm will continue the ice business and also the ice cream business, which will be turned into the wholesale trade next season.

Theodore Roosevelt, of New York City, who is to speak here next Wednesday evening, the 17th, is one of the cultured, aggressive and up with-the-times young men of that wonderful growing metropolis. The Chronicle publishes nine columns of names of freshmen students in the various departments.

There are freshmen in the dental department from California, England, Germany and Central America.

Prof. Hennequin is writing a new play for Roland Reed. He has also several classes in French in Detroit.

America, a new periodical, offers a prize of $150 for the best essay on "The Evils of Unrestricted Emigration."

More in the medical college this year than ever. All in despite of Dr. Macleans assertion that we would not have any one here this year.

The Chronicle has made its appearance looking as familiar and pleasant as of yore. W J. Beckley is managing editor; C. S Hyde is the assistant managing editor and holds part of the fort in Various Topics; C. E. Rowley takes the balance of Various Topics; E. L. Miller, General Literature; H B. Bracewell and T. C. Severance, Things Chronicled; C. K. Eddy, Personals; P. M. Hickey, Exchanges and Literary Notes; J. W. Adams is Secretary and Treasurer; while Business Manager is a double header, J. A. C. Miss Rebecca Wells, died Saturday night last, of consumption, at the house of her sister, Mrs. E Steele, on E. Huron St. Miss Wells had been an invalid for 13 years previous.

The heavy frost Monday night destroyed grapes that were still on the vines, and potatoes that were dug and in piles in the field fared badly also. Prof. Baur tells us that apples, pears and quinces are not hurt.

James S Gorman has been renominated by the democrats for the office of State Senator in this district, comprising the counties of Monroe and Washtenaw. Mr. Gorman served acceptably in the last legislature, and if we must have a democrat to represent us in that body, he can certainly do it creditably.

The county fair at Ann Arbor was a success. The show was excellent, and the income sufficient to pay all premiums and expenses for the year. Some old bills have been brought in which everybody had supposed were settled, and the society has had to pay some of them, but the decks are now pretty clear sailing for next year.

The republicans have been able to secure Hon. Theodore Roosevelt, the distinguished New York scholar and orator, who speaks next Wednesday evening. He is widely known as a writer for The Century about western ranche subjects, with which he is familiar from his experience on his large ranche where he is very popular. Four years ago he was a delegate-at-large to the national republican convention from New York.

In regard to the letter of Mr. W. G. Roberts, in Tuesday's Free Press urging his Afro-American friends to vote the democratic ticket, Mr. John J. West, of Pittsfield in conversation with Mr Roberts yesterday was told by that gentleman in effect these words: "I never yet voted the democratic ticket, and never will." Mr. West is willing to make affidavit to this. So it seems that the boodle that secure signatures to letters for publication does not secure the vote of the signer.

On Sunday morning last at about 9 o'clock, Thomas Clarken died at his home in the 3d ward, aged 47 years, 3 mos. Some 16 years since, the deceased, while working at his trade—stone mason—on the Congregational church, had a sunstroke, from which he never fully recovered. He sought lighter employment, and was deputy sheriff, constable, etc, for many years, and city marshal for one year. About five years ago he attempted to work at his trade again, but suffered another sunstroke, and has been on the decline ever since. He leaves a wife and family of seven children. His funeral was held from St. Thomas Church yesterday morning, and was largely attended.

The following from the Manchester Enterprise, introduces to our citizens a gentleman whom all will be pleased to learn is to become one of us: "Michael Brenner moved to Ann Arbor to-day. He has lived in Manchester for several years, during which time he has been in the hotel business, the furniture business, the livery business, and lately in the machine business. He will probably engage in the machine business at Ann Arbor. He has also been deputy sheriff. Mike is a good citizen, fair and upright in his dealings, and during his stay in this village has made many warm friends, all of whom regret to have him leave, but hope he will be successful in whatever he undertakes."

Council Proceedings.

There was an adjourned session of the council held Thursday evening last, with full board except Ald. Spokes, and the balance of the month's business left over from Monday evening was attended to.

A deed for the 5th ward boulevard was presented, accepted, and a survey ordered made at once, so that the deed to the street itself might be made and recorded. The deed presented calls for a street fifty feet wide:

Commencing on Broadway in the 5th ward, on the southeast side thereof, at the corner between S. O. Lennon and Geo. W. Weeks' land; thence southeasterly, the center line of said highway following the boundary between said Lennon, as far as the nature of the ground is desirable for the location of said highway; thence northeasterly, northerly, easterly, southeasterly and southerly around the big bend of the Huron river known as Cedar bend, on the southeast quarter of section 21, township 2, south of range 6 east, Michigan, across the land of said Lennon, the land of C. R. Gardner and Mrs. Salomi T. Gardner to the south line of said sec. 21, the south end of road to come out on section line west of Mrs. Gardner's house by the most practicable route; said routes to be surveyed, located and recorded by said second party or its representatives. Parties across whose land road runs to allow said second party all needed gravel to build said road from their land and near the road, and to be taken such places as may be agreed upon. Said first parties reserve the timber and wood that may be cut in constructing said road. Said second party is obligated in the construction of a bridge across a ravine on said Lennon's land, to build it of sufficient capacity to permit cattle to easily pass thereunder.

A board of registration was organized and the Recorder authorized to procure the necessary printing of notices, etc.

Ald. Allmendinger moved that the resolution for the opening of 2d st. brought before the council, and the same was carried.

Ald. Martin offered the following:

Resolved, That the Mayor and City Recorder be and are hereby directed to draw an order on the City Treasurer, for the sum of $800 payable Feb. 1st, 1889, in favor of Philip Bach, and the City Attorney be directed to tender the same to said Philip Bach for the right of way for 2d st. extension, and if accepted to obtain a release across said Bach's land for the same. And in case he shall refuse to accept the same the Mayor and City Attorney are hereby instructed to commence the customary proceedings as prescribed in the charter for condemning said right of way.

Which was adopted.

Ex-Judge Joslyn addressed the council asking them if they would be willing to accept of 50 cents on the $1 in adjustment of the Sorg defalcation. After considerable discussion the matter was referred to the committee on matters of mixed law and fact.

It was voted to raise the following taxes for the ensuing year:

Gen. street fund	$ 2,000
General "	6,000
Water works	5,000
Tax voted in June	5,000
Delinquent tax fund	1,535.56
1st ward fund	700
2d " "	1,000
3d " "	1,000
4th " "	1,000
5th " "	700
6th " "	1,000

On motion of Ald. Allmendinger the committee to whom was empowered the tendering of $800 to P. Bach for his land for the opening of 2d st., be instructed to report Monday evening. The lights were then ordered out.

At the special meeting Monday evening the 5th and 6th ward chairs were empty. The council accepted the deed of P. Bach for his lot on the Second street extension, and ordered $801 spread upon the tax rolls to pay therefor. They also ordered several special sidewalk assessments where the city had been obliged to build the walks. In all about $125. The places of holding the general election were fixed in the 1st ward at Sorg's shop, and 2d ward at Herz's shop. Balance of the wards the same as usual.

Board of Supervisors.

The board of supervisors for this county met Monday, A. M., with P. O'Hearn as temporary chairman. John V. N. Gregory was elected permanent chairman unanimously, and then flatly refused to make a speech. The usual committees were ordered appointed, and rules adopted. The board resolved to visit the county house on Thursday, and Mr. Dansingburg was appointed a committee to procure conveyances. The clerk was instructed to advertise for sealed proposals for medical attendance at jail.

TUESDAY.

The chairman announced the standing committees, as follows:

On Equalization—Kress, Gilbert, Butts, Stevens, Dansingburg.
Criminal claims No. 1—Young, Case, Davenport.
Criminal claims No. 2—Osborn, Braun, O'Hearn.

The basis of equalization was fixed at $25,000,000, on motion of Mr. Gilbert, yeas 13, nays 10.

The county superintendents of the poor were requested to make their annual report on Friday next at 10 o'clock a. m.

Tuesday next at 2 o'clock p. m. was made special order to elect superintendent of the poor.

Next Tuesday at 3 o'clock the election of janitor was made the special order.

Fifth Ward Republican Club.

A short time ago a few of the republicans of this ward met and considered the feasibility of the formation of a Harrison and Morton club. It was decided to undertake the same, a paper was circulated and the names seemed to be the easiest thing to obtain, for in a short time 50 voters had subscribed thereto. This was deemed sufficient to organize, so the announcement was made, and on Wednesday evening last, the signers met in the engine house, Eli S. Manly was called to the chair, and the following officers were elected for the campaign:

Pres.—John W. Johnson.
1st Vice-Pres.—Thomas Speechley.
2nd Vice-Pres.—N. D. Gates.
Sec.—Wm. Shadford.
Treas.—Eli S. Manly.
Board of Directors—L. C. Goodrich, Chas. Burnham, James B. Saunders, Albert D. McCollum and Newton Felch.

On motion, the club agreed to turn out and participate in the torch-light procession on Friday evening, and it was decided that a transparency should be procured for the occasion.

The next morning the president and a majority of the board of directors met, and decided to rent the store corner of Mill street and Broadway, as a club room. Proper furniture was procured, papers secured, and we now have as cosy and inviting a club room, which is kept open day and evening, as one could desire.

Promptly at the appointed hour, Friday evening, notwithstanding the heavy rain, the members of the club assembled, John Robison volunteered to carry the fine four sided transparency, on which was painted appropriate mottoes, the name of the club, and an excellent portrait of Gen. Harrison (the painting of which was the work of Ed. H. Pierce) and headed by the 5th ward band, which had generously donated their services, proceeded to the 3d ward club headquarters, secured torches and took their place in the line of the procession with 43 voters, without counting the band, the most of which will deposit their ballot for Harrison and protection to American industries in November next.

Our club is daily increasing, as we now have 61 members (none but voters can join) but we do take in recruits from the prohibition and democratic parties, the names of some ten of whom are already on the list. Look out for the fulfillment in this ward, at least, of one of our mottoes, i. e., "The success of the entire republican ticket."

The field is a good one; free trade dogmas are not relished, and John F. Lawrence and A. J. Sawyer have been invited to lend a hand in the work, by delivering addresses some evening next week, and they will accept.

ENTERTAINMENTS.

McNish, Ramza & Arno's Minstrels gave their first performance last night, at the Grand Opera House, after a programme of more than average excellence. The company presents its first part in a style more attractive than usually followed in minstrel entertainment, but as pleasing to the eye as was the arrangement of the stage it was nothing compared to the succession of good things offered in the music, both vocal and instrumental. The jokes were not remarkable for novelty, but the audience appreciated them. Lew Benedict, who has renewed his youth, was especially favored with applause when he sang his topical song. Frank McNish also caught attention and approbation in his swell song. The olio was good in the number, character and variety of specialties. There will be a matinee and evening performance to-day.—Indianapolis Journal, September 8.

Card of Thanks.

Myself and family desire to express our thanks to friends in Delhi and to D. C. Fall and other singers of Ann Arbor who assisted us during the last sickness and the funeral of Mrs. Roost; and to the friends who so generously donated flowers.

The Oft Told Story

Of the peculiar medicinal merits of Hood's Sarsaparilla is fully confirmed by the voluntary testimony of thousands who have tried it. Peculiar in the combination, proportion, and preparation of its ingredients, peculiar in the extreme care with which it is put up, Hood's Sarsaparilla accomplishes cures where other preparations entirely fail. Peculiar in the unequalled good name it has made at home, which is a "tower of strength abroad," peculiar in the phenomenal sales it has attained, is the most popular and successful medicine before the public today for purifying the blood, giving strength, creating an appetite.

"I suffered from wakefulness and low spirits, and also had eczema on the back of my head and neck, which was very annoying. I took one bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla, and I have received so much benefit that I am very grateful, and I am always glad to speak a good word for this medicine." MRS. J. S. SNYDER, Pottsville, Penn.

Purifies the Blood

Henry Biggs, Campbell Street, Kansas City, had scrofulous sores all over his body for fifteen years. Hood's Sarsaparilla completely cured him.

NOTES ON BELGIUM.

THE CONDITIONS THAT AFFECT THE LABOR MARKET.

The Farmers and Mechanics of the Crowded Kingdom and How They Live—Brussels Has Both a Busy and a Brilliant Side.

[Copyrighted by the Author, 1888.

BRUSSELS, Sept. 20.—The possibilities of the vast extent of territory within the United States, in point of affording homes for millions more than its present population, is best appreciated by a visit to Belgium. The most densely inhabited country on the globe, it has double the population of Illinois with an area but one fifth as great, and not only do the cities of Brussels, of Antwerp, Ghent and Liege afford the bee-hive suggestion as to the thronged condition of the kingdom, but everywhere the land is alive with humanity. That such density of population in the United States is a condition to be courted no one believes, nor is it to be feared as a consummation likely to be reached at any early period, when it is remembered that a parallel would not be reached until the United States had thirty times their present population.

Observation of the various industrial activities of Belgium and the operatives they employ, together with the conditions of living they involve, cannot fail to provoke an American to a greater admiration for the conditions in the land of the free, which has served as an asylum for armies of underpaid, but industrious old-world workers. The conditions are far from satisfactory in Belgium, but I should properly invite the accusation that I was prejudiced and therefore blind to the truth, if I failed to recognize the fact a redundant population and the competition it provokes in the market for labor, has much to do with the conditions that obtain. Equal regard for the truth in another direction, however, warrants the assertion that natural competition is not now the only enemy of fair wages for the Belgium laborer, for while the governments of other European countries have seen the wisdom of securing to the tillers of the soil a home market for their principal products, Belgium continues an imitator of free trade England, and, as in Holland, agricultural depression is the consequence.

Perhaps no higher type of cultivation is to be found in the world than is exhibited on the holdings of the Belgian farmers, for no labor is spared to provoke the utmost measure of fruitfulness; and in every phase of the work—in preparing the land, in planting for the crop, and in gathering it—women are equally as important labor factors as the men. Barefoot women working in the fields with uncovered heads is the rule on the Belgian farm, nor is it exceptional to see a child still too young to be deprived of maternal watchfulness sitting in a barrow conveniently by sharing the attention of the mother while she pursues her task. Such industry is everywhere apparent, and yet when coupled with the utmost frugality of living, it is an unending struggle for an existence. Rents are high and, provoked doubtless by the competition for holdings, have rapidly advanced in the past few years, while upon the other hand, the free and unrestricted importation of grains from other countries in which greater areas of land renders the production cheaper, has practically killed the Belgian grain farmer's business. The special adaptability of certain lands to grain culture, rather than to the other products, considered in connection with the rental they must yield before the profit to the farmer is reached, has resulted in the surrender of considerable tracts of land by the tenants to their owners. The land accordingly lies waste. Certainly a singular spectacle in a country which has an average population of five hundred to every square mile of its territory. That two evils accrue from this unfortunate condition is apparent, namely, that not only is the farmer deprived of the occupation of his choice, but he at once becomes a competitor of those engaged in the manufacturing pursuits, among whom he seeks employment.

In view, however, of the extent of the United States, and the diversity of her industries, by which the products of one section of the country find a more profitable market in another section than can be found abroad, it becomes interesting not merely to trace the causes of unsatisfactory industrial conditions abroad, but it is wise to avoid their invitation.

There is no employment in connection with Belgian industries which yields more than one-half the wages paid to American artisans engaged at similar work, and beyond this even the ore and coal mines are worked to a considerable extent by women, girls—mere children, whose labor is employed because it may be had for a pittance. It is worthy of note that the morals of the women and children employed in these pursuits about the mines are deplorable. These are the people and the conditions that mark the initial stage of the iron industry of Belgium, and contribute to the cheapness of the product. In this connection I recall the language attributed to car-builder Stephenson of New York, who said in a recent interview that "tariff should be taken off raw materials," as a means of stimulating our marine, and added that, "by getting the expense of manufacturing down so we can compete with foreign countries, we can give employment to all our idle men." The language in question was but the commonplace delivery of an American tariff reformer, but placed in its true connection with such conditions as prevail in Belgium it points the level to which the price of similar labor would be brought in the United States by competion, if free raw materials were the order of the day.

The lace industry, which has attained such fame in Belgium, and is conducted on an extensive scale in Brussels, is a specialty which is in itself a place of protection, than which none can be better. It gives employment to thousands of hands, which might seek other employment in vain. The manufacturing of Brussels carpet—none of which is made in Brussels, but largely at Tournay—is an extensive industry of the kingdom. Like Belgium lace, it is also a specialty, in which fact it has a measure of protection against competition that is only modified by the manufacture elsewhere of cheaper tapestry Brussels, sold only as an imitation of the genuine Belgian product.

Three of the leading exports from Belgium to the United States are the products of the Belgian glass, corset and glove manufactories, and in the latter two branches of industry girls and women, who receive an average of 1 to 2 francs—20 to 30 cents per day—are chiefly employed, and such is the cheapness of production that the import duty imposed by the United States, amounting to 50 per cent. on some classes of gloves, is no barrier to large importations into the United States. The effect upon the American glove manufacturing industry, under a policy that would open the door to the products of foreign factories, can be readily imagined and would certainly meet with favor at the hands of the Belgians in the line in question. The corset trade as now conducted finds no considerable barrier in the duty of 35 per cent. of exacted by the United States customs authorities, and it is no difficult to imagine that an entirely open market for the Belgian manufacturer and exporter would compel the American manufacturer of the article to either reduce the wages of his employes to the Belgian standard or retire from business. The value of Belgian glass annually finding its way to America—chiefly the United States—is represented by a figure sufficiently large to provoke the American glass producer to watchfulness of his interests, if not to jealousy, of the trade of his competitors. The American import duty of 25 to 40 per cent. is insufficient to secure to American manufacturers the exclusive American market for even the grades of glass that are produced in high perfection in the American manufactories, and to remit the tariff or even abate it, must have an effect to be avoided by the repudiation of a policy, which may not portend a "free trade crusade" but which was born in the camp of protection's enemies.

The figures showing the wages of those employed in a few vocations will serve as typical of the standard that prevails in Belgium. Farm laborers receive from $2 to $2.50 per week, and the hours of labor—the hours for meals of course considered—are limited only by the hours of daylight and the pressing necessities of the work, but never less than twelve hours constitute a day in summer; bakers earn from $4 to $4.50 per week; tailors from $5 to $5.50 per week; blacksmiths receive $5 to $5.50 per week; carpenters and joiners receive from $4 to $4.50 per week, while bricklayers and plasterers are paid from $4.25 to $4.75 per week. The average of the weaver's wage is $3.95 per week, while common laborers average $3 per week.

Here, as in Holland, the "cheaper living" reputed to compensate for the lower wages than prevail in America, is simply a sacrifice of both comfort and necessities. Flour is as cheap in Chicago as in Brussels, and meat of every kind is cheaper in the former city than in the latter, the difference in favor of the former amounting in some instances to fully 50 per cent. The truth should accordingly be plain—the Belgian workman must deny himself the plain necessity of meat because his wages are inadequate to cover the expense; and coffee, which is a trifle cheaper than in America, with bread from which the butter is frequently missing, form the principal items in his dietary. The houses of the Belgian farmers, of which half a dozen usually stand together, are but cabins of one story, roofed with tile, and are furnished with the utmost plainness and are entirely lacking in the embellishments that taste suggests and prosperity permits in the granger homes of the United States. The homes of the toilers in the cities of the kingdom do not materially differ from those in Amsterdam, as cited in my "Netherland Notes," and are restricted to two rooms at most, often of inconvenient access, up steep and narrow stairways, in quarters far from homelike. There are notable exceptions, but this discription fits the rule. The rents are low, but are ample for the quarters they secure, that should not be counted cheap.

Brussels, as the tourist sees it who seeks only gayety and entertainment, presents another picture, for as the seat of government and the home of royalty, it is a model of beauty in many of its phases, which make it worthy to be called "a little Paris." Broad boulevards, elegant hotels, brilliant cafes, handsome shops, and public buildings of the highest architectural order are the features that impress the visitor who omits the study of its social and industrial fabric.

Besides the strata of society that animates the cafe scenes, along the boulevards of Brussels are the toiling masses of the kingdom, with whom competition in America is not a consummation devoutly to be wished.

W. I. DAVENNY

Professor Gauthier, of Paris, states that certain vital processes of the body develop putrefying substances in the tissues, which, if not speedily eliminated, produce disease. Ayer's Sarsaparilla effects the removal of these substances, and thereby preserves health.

An exchange thus neatly puts it: "We are anxious to collect the autographs of all our subscribers, and therefore request all, whether in city or country, to enclose the amount due in a letter, with their several signatures."

Symptoms of Heart Disease.

Diseased hearts are as common as diseased lungs, kidneys or stomach, but far less understood. The symptoms are shortness of breath, when sweeping, etc., oppression in the chest, faint, weak or hungry spells, dreaming, pain or tenderness in the side, swelling feet, dropsy, etc. The unnatural circulation of the blood in the lungs, stomach, kidneys, liver and brain causes other symptoms. The only reliable remedy for the heart yet discovered is Dr. Miles' New Cure. Try it and be convinced. Sold by Eberbach & Son.

The Canadian potato crop bids fair to be a good one thus far.

Woman as a Martyr.

History records the sufferings of countless martyrs, and we read of them with wonder and sympathy. But there are living to-day in our midst thousands of other martyrs who have far stronger claims upon our consideration—women who are sufferers from those ailments peculiar to their sex, our wives, daughters and sisters, perhaps, whose lives are unremitting rounds of suffering. "Is there no relief?" they cry. Yes, there is; Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription will remove that "dragging-down" feeling, will banish that backache, will restore every function to its normal condition. To all sufferers from female complaints—and their name is Legion—we say: get the "Prescription" at once; it will be worth far more than its weight in gold to you.

"Have you Goldsmith's 'Greece'?" was asked of a clerk in a store in which books and miscellaneous articles were sold. "No," said the clerk, reflectively, "we haven't Goldsmith's Grease, but we have some splendid hair oil."

Prudence! Prudence!

In medication, as in aught else, prudence should be our guide. Yet thousands cast it to the winds. Every new nostrum finds its patrons, the medical empirics of every false school have their gulls. Every change in the gamut of humbug is rung successfully—for a time at least—the notes being furnished by the credulous. In happy contrast to the many advertised impostures of the day stands Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, now in its third decade of popularity, approved and recommended by physicians, indorsed by the press of many lands, sought and prized by invalids everywhere. It is an ascertained specific for and preventive of malarial diseases, chronic indigestion, liver complaint and constipation, checks the growth of rheumatism and neuralgia, is a peerless invigorant and useful diuretic. Nervous people benefited by it.

Paris has a wonderful well 2,359 feet deep, out of which hot water gushes to the height of 114 feet.

Women with pale, colorless faces who feel weak and discouraged, will receive both mental and bodily vigor by using Carter's Iron Pills, which are made for the blood, nerves and complexion.

a man for groaning when he has Rheumatism or Neuralgia. The pain is simply awful. No torture in the ancient times was more painful than these twin diseases. But—oughtn't a man to be blamed if, having Rheumatism or Neuralgia, he wont use Ath-lo-pho-ros, when it has cured thousands who have suffered in the same way? It has cured hundreds after physicians have pronounced them incurable.

"The skill of five physicians could not cure me of Rheumatism which had settled in the hips, neck and shoulders. So intense was the pain that sleep was almost impossible. The first dose of Athlophoros gave me relief, and the third enabled me to sleep for four and a half hours without waking. I continued its use, and am now well."

Poor But Honest.

Charlie Sullivan is a poor but honest Irish lad, who, while walking down Washington street, found a wallet containing checks and money to the value of several hundred dollars. Although almost destitute, he returned it to its owners, Messrs. A. P. Ordway & Co., proprietors of Sulphur Bitters, who gave him a liberal reward, and also gave him six bottles of Sulphur Bitters for his mother, who has been a terrible sufferer with rheumatism, and who returned many blessings after being cured by their use.—Weekly World.

Lobsters are said to thrive well on the California coast.

Literary Notes.

J. T. Trowbridge, Margaret Sidney, Susan Coolidge and Rev. Charles R. Talbot, all have written serial stories for Wide Awake for 1889.

Among the frontispieces preparing for Wide Awake for 1889 are portraits of John Burrough at twenty, Mrs. Helen Hunt Jackson in her young womanhood, "Pet Marjorie," Sir Walter Scott's famous little friend, and Lady Raleigh, the wife of Sir Walter Raleigh.

"Daniel Webster in His New Hampshire Home," by Miss Amanda B. Harris in the October Wide Awake, gives four portraits never before engraved: Webster as a young man of twenty-two from the miniature given to his first love, Grace Fletcher; the beautiful Grace Fletcher some years after marriage; John Taylor, Webster's steward; and Ame's full-length sketch in oil of Webster as a farmer.

Dyspepsia

Makes the lives of many people miserable, and often leads to self-destruction. We know of no remedy for dyspepsia more successful than Hood's Sarsaparilla. It acts gently, yet surely and efficient, tones the stomach and other organs, removes the faint feeling, creates a good appetite, cures headache, and refreshes the burdened mind. Give Hood's Sarsaparilla a fair trial. It will do you good.

China produces 250,000 tons of sugar annually.

Their Business Booming.

Probably no one thing has caused such a general revival of trade at Eberbach & Son's Drug Store as their giving away to their customers of so many free trial bottles of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption. Their trade is simply enormous in this very valuable article from the fact that it always cures and never disappoints. Coughs, Colds, Asthma, Bronchitis, Croup, and all throat and lung diseases quickly cured. You can test it before buying by getting a trial bottle free, large size $1. Every bottle warranted.

New York has a larger population than the whole of Canada. Yet, while New York has a debt of only $7,000,000, Canada owes $240,000,000.

A Voluntary Statement.

The writer of this paragraph once had an elder and only brother. Brought up together, we were almost inseperable, hopeful and ambitious. Exposure planted the seeds of consumption in the elder, and in a few weeks, in the month of May, "good store of flowers were stuck round about his winding-sheet." Every attention and every remedy that love could give or obtain were unavailing. Since that sad day, I have learned, through the most trustworthy authority and from experience in its use, that a real remedy now exists, that of Dr. Pierce, called the "Golden Medical Discovery." A thousand pities that it was not discovered ages ago, but how thankful the present generation should be that it can now avail itself of so potent a remedy.

Prompt relief in sick headache, dizziness, nausea, constipation, pain in the side, guaranteed to those using Carter's Little Liver Pills. One a dose. Small price. Small dose. Small pill.

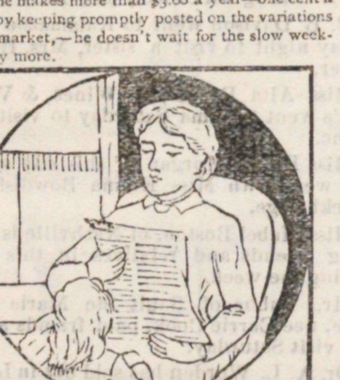
"Nearly Everybody Reads It."

The Merchant reads the Chicago Daily News because he must know what's going on in the great business centres of the world, and he can't waste time hunting for it in a "blanket sheet."

The Farmer reads the Chicago Daily News because he makes more than $3.00 a year—one cent a day—by keeping promptly posted on the variations of the market,—he doesn't wait for the slow weeklies any more.

The Mechanic reads the Chicago Daily News because he knows that even in matters of handicraft the more general intelligence a man has the more he'll earn. The workingman can well afford his daily paper at "one cent a day."

Grandfather reads the Chicago Daily News because it gives all the news, and yet so condensed that it doesn't tire him out to read it. And then, the print is so clear.



Mother reads the Chicago Daily News because she wants to keep up with her husband in general information, and then she particularly enjoys the household hints and things of special interest to women which are in it every day.

Grandmother reads the Chicago Daily News because she still wants to know what's going on. And it's a comfort to see a daily paper in the family that's clean and pure,—one she's not afraid to have "the children see."

The Boys all want the Chicago Daily News because it gives the base ball news so fully,—to say nothing of all the other things boys enjoy. And this year even the boys don't skip the political news.

The Politician always reads the Chicago Daily News because its an impartial paper, and whether he likes its independent views or not, he wants to know the truth. He "supports" his particular party "organ," but when he wants cold facts he reads the CHICAGO DAILY NEWS.

The Girls all read the Chicago Daily News because they're specially interested in its chatty gossips about fashions and home matters, to say nothing about the excellent serial story always running.

The Post Office Review, says: "Nearly everybody who reads the English language in, around and about Chicago, reads the Chicago Daily News." Do you? Its a "short and to the point paper,"—made particularly for busy people, and it costs one cent a day. All newsdealers sell it, and all postmasters forward subscriptions for it at $3.00 a year, or $1.00 for four months. Address
