IN PRISON AS A SPY.

A Former Student Who Flew Too High in Germany.

Many people in university circles will remember Al. Bressler, who persevered year after year until he finally graduated year after year until he finally graduated from the university with the class of '86. He used to furnish university items for the Democrat, and never let even the minutest item escape him. He was everywhere and knew all about everything, never being too bashful to find out. According to the following article "Al" has at lest got into trouble. The out. According to the following article "Al." has at last got into trouble. The taken from the Detroit Evening News item explains itself: The papers at Vienna and throughout Germany have been giving A L. Bress-ler, a well-known Detroiter and a member of the wealthy family of that name in this city, particular fits. They claim that he has been traveling under false colors and became prominent prominent in millitary circles at Munich and Frankfort through misrepresentations. He had a commission as second lieutenant in a Michigan regiment, and on that score was paid highest honors by the officers in the German army. A few days ago he was arrested at Munich, where he had gone some months ago, and is now in confinement, awaiting the interference of

Ann Arbor, he joined the state militia there and soon was made second lieutenant. He finished his course and decided with laughter, rude.

And judge and jury branded him a thief, the vilest kind. a book on their methods. Accordingly about three years ago, when 25 years old, travel and use the latter's name when necessary. Young Bressler went to the secretary of war at Washington and got a commission and letter of introduction to Minister Pendleton at Berlin and the greeting to the German army. He then went abroad. For nearly two years he traveled among the various German regiments, taking very extensive notes. This is a thing rarely allowed, but as he adopted the German uniform and had a letter from the war department of this country, he was permitted to do about as he pleased. The barons and court people invited him to receptions, as sundry invitations sent home will indicate.

> tra marks were always answered in the his study of the German army and went over into Austria. He was given the same right of way there and kept up hilittle diary. He repeatedly wrote to the family of his successes and how nicely ioned by the News, was a great shock to the family. The financial part of it is all untrue, as his large allowance and privilege to call for more at any time would make the story that his hotel bills were not paid seem ridiculous. The Bresslers are well known in leading European cities in a business way, and he could have had money by simply asking for it.

The general impression among his friends and military men in the city is that he has been arrested as a spy. The material in his possession would very thoroughly confirm such a suspicion and be valuable to an unfriendly power. He was keeping a very minute memoranda of all he saw and heard, the method and tives in that section and a corresponding increase in the representation of some of the western states, notably Nebraska, Kansas and Minnesota, which are naturally republican. This together with the togo on at once to Munich and see what the trouble is. The family can explain his action in no way, as he was a modest and upright man, little inclined to act as the dispatches state. They will try to reach him by telegraph and find out the facts in the case. His monthly allowance has been sent, but five or six more are ready if he needs tham.

An Amusing Goose Story.

"When I was in Alabama, between Porter's Gap and Millerville," said a gen-tleman living in Atlanta, "I came to a country place where a man was driving ten or twelve geese from a branch toward cotton patch. 'For heaven's sake,' said I, 'what have you on the necks of those Those are gourds full of water. There is no water in the man will have to strap up one of his legs cotton patch, and I have to give them and hop a distance of a quarter of a water in this way to keep them there.' 'But how do they get the water out of those gourds under their neck?' 'They drink out of each other's gourds. Each control of the highest court in the country for the next generation, unless the mortality among the members of the court is much heavier than it has ever been before.

On the whole, therefore, the republican party has increasing cause to conformance, and finally I saw it. The geese did just as the man said they would. When a goose got thirsty he walked up to his neighbor and cooly drank out of the gourd on his neck."—Atlanta Journal.

It is to be hoped that he will be converted to the truth of the atterances thus forced from him.

Harrison being elected Capt. Young of Beardsville, Pa., who bet on Cleveland, will have to wheel a dead coon in a barrow a distance of some miles. A brass band will accompany him and mock his ears with republican melodies. Two enthusiastic women of West Strat-ford, Vt., have also a wager between

Two bachelors of Hartford, Conn., agreed—one that if Harrison were elected he would get married, if possible, within six months of the election; the other that if Cleveland were elected he would get married, if possible, within the stipulated time. Will the young women also agree? If not, what will happen? An interesting wager was made by lovers in Nyack, N. Y. A young man of that place is a very enthusiastic democrat, while the young lady upon whom he bestows his effections is an out-andout republican. The polictical strife be-tween two has waged so strongly during the campaign that all love talk by them had been declared "off" until after the country is saved by either one party or the other. After a heated argument the other night the lady said she wanted to ake a bet on Harrison. "I won't bet replied the young man, who is strictly moral in his practices and tendencies, "but if Harrison is elected I will agree to climb up to the top of one the republican banner poles." "All right," said the girl in a glow of enthusiasm, "and if Cleve land is re-elected I will agree to climb up the Cleveland pole to the top." A novel bet was made the other evening between two Washingtonians, Capt.
L. L. Blake, the commander of the steamer that lands all visitors at Mt. Vernon, and Edward Neumeyer, a wellknown merchant. According to the terms of the bet, if Cleveland were elected Capt. Blake would make a special trip with the steamer Corcoran to Marshall Hall and furnish a dinner there to all the passengers, who are to be unlimited in number and invited by Mr. Neumeyer. If Harrison were elected Mr. Neumeyer would be compelled to go to Marshall Hall unaccompanied, except by a creditable witness, and there plough three acres of ground, using an ox team to pull the plough. Mr. Neumeyer will have an opportunity of studying the philosophy of ircumstances. In the following bet the loser should be the subject of sincere sympathy. A few days ago in New York an ardent Harrison man and an enthusiastic Cleve-land voter made a bet by which the loser on the National result pledged himself to smoke every day for two weeks half a dozen of the exhibition eigars made by a local cigar manufacturer. Cutleura Remedies.

If I had known of the Cuticura Remedies twenty-eight years ago it would have saved me $200.00 (two hundred dollars) and an immense amount of suffering. My desease (Psoriasis) commenced on my head in a spot not larger than a cent. It spread rapidly all over my body and got under my nails. The scales would drop off of me all the time, and my suffering was endless, and without relief. One thousand dollars would not tent me to have this disease over again. I am a poor man, but teel rich to be relieved of what some of the doctors said was leprosy, some ring-worm, psoriasis, etc. I took . . . and . . Sarsaparillas over one year and a half, but no cure. I went te two or three doctors and no cure. I cannot praise the Cuticura Remedies too much. They have made my skin as clear and free iro m scales as a baby's. All I used of them was three boxes of Cuticura, and three bottles of Cuti ura Resolvent, and two cakes of Cuticura Soap. If you had been here and said you would have cured me for $200.00 you would have had the money. I looked like the picture in your book of Psoriasis (picture number two. "How to Cure Skin Diseases"), but now I am as clear as any person ever was. Through force of habit I rub my hands over my arms and legs to scratch once in waile, but to no purpose. WASHINGTON, Nov. 11.-There is one feature of the victory at the polls last week which does not seem to have dawned fully yet upon the minds of the actors, but which is being discussed with a great deal of concern by some of the democrats of the south—that is that the control of the two bouses of congress will give the Republican party the control also of the apportionment under the leventh census. The eleventh census will be taken in June, 1890, and the reapportionment of the congressional representation will follow during the session of congress suc-ceeding. The suppression of the colored vote in the south will certainly lead to a curtailment of the number of representaives in that section and a corresponding Kansas and Minnesota, which are naturally republican. This, together with the admission of four new states, with at least twelve electoral votes in 1892, will hange the status of the next campaign to a considerable degree, and will be like-ly to have a marked effect in maintaining he ascendency the of republican dynasty. Southern men profess to believe that their section will lose at least 10 electoral votes in the new apportionment, which will, they naturally infer, be added to the strength of the republican states of the northwest. If this is done and the new states admitted prove to be republican in sentiment there is reason to believe that the solicitude of the southern democrats

s well founded, and that some at least of the elements of uncertainty will be removed from the next grand contest: Republican success this year also means that the control of the United States supreme court is no longer in danger of passing out of the hands of the republican party. President Harrison will, in all probability, have the appointment of four and possibly five associate justices

THE LESSON TAUGHT.

The republican party has always been an up-building party. Its mission has always been to find means and measures by and with which to cement and rear higher and nobler the structure of this government. The democratic party has been one of destruction. Its endeavors Mississippi and Texas got there in great had been unceasingly aimed for a quarter of a century at pulling down the work and picking flaws with the action of the republican party, and when it came into power it could not change its character. It did not know how to build, but kept on tearing down. Had the democratic party, fours years ago when it took the reins of government, left the structure as it found it, and kept right on building and improving, it would not have met

But that it could not do. Some of the structures as reared by the republican hands must be torn down and built over again. So it commenced, under the supervision of southern workmen, destroying the foundation stones of national prosperity, the protective tariff. The walls upon the northern side they attempted to remove; those upon the southern side they decided to let remain. southern side they decided to let remain.

It was a fatal error of thoroughly selfish workmen, and when presented to their swear because he suddenly found his employers, the people, it met with just and merited rebuke, and the discharge of the builders.

workmen, and when presented to their employers, the people, it met with just mouth filled with celery leaves. Spitting out the green garden truck, he involuntarily muttered the geographical enquiry:—"Where in the Hades am I?"

With Gen. Alger the Courier hopes to see the new hands take hold of this work and build it up aright. The structure does not want to be torn down, it wants to be rearranged, and modified in ome particulars perhaps. What the nation wants is honest and fair dealing, with no advantage to any section, north, east, south or west, but all treated alike. The republicans will take warning, and not repeat the errors of their predecessors. Give us a protective tariff so arand the American manufacturer, but in its head and to control our politics. We believe in local option by counties, and in raising the tax on saloons to $1000, as it is in Minnesota. It is doing great good there in lessening the low groggeries, thereby decreasing crime and drunkenness and watching more closely those which remain. The brewers cannot control this state intervent and there are the less of the state in the s trol this state just yet and they should be taught a lesson to keep hands off of polities, for by their high handed course undreds who voted against prohibitio before would vote for it next time.

The victory in the campaign can not be accorded to personal influences. It was not a personal victory in any sense of the word. It was a victory of principle. Every republican felt in his heart that the life or death of the great northern principle of protection was hanging in the balance, and he fought for what he believed to be right and just against the principle of free trade, as advocated for generations, yes, ever since the foun dation of the government by the people of the south where cheap labor was and is the foundation stone. It is a victory whose influence will be felt for years, and which will establish northern over south ern ideas in the financial policy of this

It is with pleasure that we note that Hon. Wm. Ball has been elected by a handsome majority to the senate from the Livingston and Genesse district. He is one of the grand men of the republican party of this state. During the session of the legislature of '81, Mr. Ball was a member of the hosue, and was speaker pro tem. The speaker was Hon.
S. Moffat, whose ill health kept him from his daty so that Mr. Ball was called upon to preside a great share of the time. This he did with credit to himself and honor and dignity to the house and the state. Now would it not be a wise thing for the republicans of the senate to se lect Mr. Ball for president of that body This is a suggestion, merely, but one that it would be wise for the party to con-

Had Mr. Tarsney or Mr. Ford, or Mr. Fisher had the backbone to have stood up in Congress and fought the attack of north, they would not have been where they are to-day.

If any issue can be made which will divide the south—not on the color line but divide both the white and black population, it will be a Godsend to this nation. The breaking away of West Vir ginia, and the close vote in Maryland and ome other southern states, is an indication that the tariff question may yet accom-plish the desired result.

Father O'Brien, of Kalamazoo, who wrote the circular calling upon good Catholics to oppose the reelection of Senator Gorman, of this district, because of a bill he introduced in the last legislature respecting the title of Catholic church property, is being unmercifully scored by some one at Detroit who does not care to sign his name to his writings. There are certain individuals who have found out that the local option bugbear don't scare people of good sense. The attempt to stampede the Germans into the democratic party may have proved an eminent success, but there were very many of the better class of Germans who consider the great financial and industrial policy of the north of far more importance than a glass of beer.

A Curious Experience.

One evening last week a well known citizen of Ann Arbor was coming home from the country, where he had been trying to buy some hickory wood, which niles along the road to Saline.

He had nearly reached the city limits, when he heard a most unusual, and as it seemed to him, unearthly noise proceed-from an adjoining field. Being a man of nerve as well as humanity he at once tied his horse by the wayside, and started over the fence in the direction from whence came the strange sounds.

As it was somewhat dark, and he was making all haste unheedful of his steps, he suddenly stumbled, and, by feeling a proximity to a famous garden patch, but before the friendly citizen could compute his latitude and longitude he heard an awful groan-and-gush, then a gasp, then a gurgle, and then a very emphatic "Ach Gott!" Surely, thought he, that voice has a familar sound; it thrills me with fond memories of our late campaign. Again a most awful groan and gush and few hurried strides brought him beside the suffering object just as a severe groan- the district can be easily redeemed. It it has been unjust, untrue, and inhuman and-gush-and-gasp-and-gurgle burst would seem as if the party in that dis-forth again. The fire alarm last Monday evening was caused by the burning of the barn on the farm premises of Dr. Chas. Howell, about one mile east of town. The Dr's horse was so badly burned that it had to be shot afterward. The fire was without the least doubt the work of an incendiary. It is quite a serious loss to Dr. Howell, who is just starting in practice here. No insurance.

"THE 'FACTS' ARE THESE."

THE REGISTER has been charged with treatment of Rev. B. B, Pope "unjust, untrue, and inhuman." The facts are these; On Oct. 4, last, THE REGISTER printed a paragraph, gleaned from the daily papers, to the effect that Rev. Mr. Pope, formerly of Ann Arbor had made charges against Rev. Mr. Hildreth; that Hildreth was acquitted; that he had again been charged with immorality in Cleveland, and that he was allowed to withdraw. Dr. T. P. Wilson, of Ann Arbor, was in Cleveland at the time, and he sent a communication to the Register defending Mr. Hildreth. (1.)—we printed it, as any fair-minded and and well-regulated paper would do. It was couched by respectful and dignified language, and whatever may have been the feeling underlying it, (2.)—the communication was moderate and apparently charitable. (3.)—It must borne in mind that THE REGISTER by all common rules of newspaper propriety, was obliged to print this communication, because of the paragraph we had printed Oct. 4.

What's the matter of Saline? Cleveland's majority falling from 131, four years ago, to 39 this year.—Observer.

1. That "fair-minded and well-regulated paper" the Ann Arbor Register published a defense of Mr. Hildreth with the following head-lines:

Samuel J. Randall has been returned to congres by a majority larger than ever THE BITTER WAR BETWEEN THEM.—MR. POPE NOW INSANE.—HILDRETH NOT GUILTY.'

A peculiarly "fair-minded" addition t correspondents communication! There are some republicans who fought the fight for party and principles and not for office or revenue, notwithstanding the rush is so great. "There are shall be delived." There are shall be delived. rush is so great.

Manchester and Saline are not much better. Sylvan must be a poor farming town also, with a poor little vil-lage called Chelsea which is surrounded with a bog and pete marsh. Ann Arbor township evidently is the best farming town in the county, which has no village within its borders. In looking over I can see a beautiful river running "kittering" through it, which on either side of the stream has magnificent hills, ravines and valleys abounding with peach and apple trees, cedar and oak trees, vinevards, plum farming town also, with a poor little viltrees, cedar and oak trees, vineyards, plum and pear orchards; also all kinds of berries. Ypsilanti is equally as well located, yet it is not worth as much. Lima must be a very poor farming town. Augusta, Dexter and Lyndon have the appearance

A JUBILEE. Last evening the republicans of this city celebrated the great victory they gained at the polls by a grand jubilee and orch light procession. They were assisted y a large delegation of enthusiastic republicans from Chelsea, who joined in the procession, and helped make the heavens lurid by the use of roman candles, cannon fire crackers, etc. It is our honest conviction that there are no more earnest, persistent, wide awake, always on hand and always on time republicans in the state than is contained in the bright and business like village of Chelsea. And they show the influence of their activity by the result at the polls. Would that many other Washtenaw communities had

The procession formed in front of the COURIER office, and went through the line of march:

Up Main to Liberty, west on Liberty to West 2d St., south on West 2d St. to West Jeferson St., east on West Jefferson to Main, north on Main to Packard east on Packard to 5th, north on 5th to William, east on William to Thompson, north on Thompson to Liberty, east on Liberty to State, south on State to North University Ave., east on North University Ave. to ast University Ave., south on East University Ave. to South University Ave. to State, south on State to State, north on State to Washington, east on Washington to Ingalls, north on Ingalls to Lawrence, 'est on Lawrence to Division, south on Division to Madison, Countermarch on Division to Huron, down Huron to Rink.

The marchers were plentifully supplied with roman candles, and all along the route they sent these balls of fire flying

All along the line the residence of re publicans and even of some not republi-cans, were illuminated and decorated with flags, bunting and other emblems of rejoicing. The college society houses were all decorated in an especially artistic manner. The residences which were decorated were so great in number that we cannot begin to give them.

It was a fine celebration of the most glorious victory gained in this nation

At the Rink, long before the procession arrived, people began to gather, and be-coming desirous of hearing somebody talk, Rev. Dr. Holmes of Chelsea, was called out and gave the audience a ring ing and clear republican speech. He was followed by Judge Waples of this city, who spoke of the south from his own experience as a resident of Louisiana, and gave a candid and sensible view of the grand result of the victory just won. He old how his own brother was among the democratic legislative candidates recently defeated in Delaware and didn't seem to pity him very much either. The procession reached the Rink at about 9 o'clock, and came pouring in with a tumult that was deafening. The scene when Capt. Allen came marching up to the platform was wonderful. The audience stood up, and yelled themselves hoarse. Hats and handkerchiefs were swung in the air, and for full ten minutes one could not have heard a cannot fire off. It was a welcome that even a crowned or uncrowned king might have been proud of. When order was restored Hon. A. J Sawyer made a very happy speech which took immensely. Then Capt. Allen was introduced and gave a candid, earnest review of the situation, during which he took occasion to remark that this was not a victory for the offices, but of a great principle; that spoils hunters if allowed to do so would not only destroy the re-publican party but the nation as well. It was a keen and perhaps merited rebuke of place hunters who endeavor to take unto themselves the results of a victory won not by themselves, but by the princ ples advocated by their party.

Nothing of an unpleasant nature oc-curred during the entire evening at the rink and the boys made all the noise they desired to. There were several narrow escape from stones thrown into the procession and one young man was hit and severely njured, we understand. One snare ummer, Mr. Pack, had a stone thrown through the head of his drum, and the anners were frequently pelted with missels Such things are not countenanced by the masses of either party, and the offenders only lower their own manhood by participating in such contemptible

The boiler of a pile driver exploded at Detroit Monday, at the noon hour, killing Chas, Boston, Jr. Had it been a trifle later many workmen would probably have been killed or injured. As engines of death boilers appear to be doing quite a lively business this year.

Is worth a column of rheteric, said an American statesman. It is a fact estab-lished by the testimony of thousands of people, that Hood's Sarsaparilla does cure scrofula, salt rheum, and other diseases or affections arising from impure state or low condition of the blood. It also over-comes that tired feeling, creates a good appetite, and gives strength to every part of the system. Try it.

I wonder Grimes has any friends-His manner grows so surly;
No matter where we chance to meet,
Or whether late or early,
'Tis just the same: he cannot stay.'
And barely answers a 'good-day.''

Medicine for Throat and Lung Diffi-culties has long been, and still is, Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. It cures Croup, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, and Asthma; soothes irritation of the Larynx and Fauces; strengthens the Vocal Organs; allays soreness of the Lungs; prevents Consumption, and, even in advanced stages of that disease, relieves Coughing and induces Sleep. There is no other preparation for diseases of the throat and lungs to be compared with this remedy.

"My wife had a distressing cough, with pains in the side and breast. We tried various medicines, but none did her any good until I got a bottle of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, which has cured her. A neighbor, Mrs. Glenn, had the measles, and the cough was relieved by the use of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. I have no hesitation in recommending this

PERSONAL AND POLITICAL. THOMAS MURRAY died on the 6th at Dubuque, Ia. He was probably the oldest person in the State, being one hundred and seven years old. In the Presidential election on the 6th the returns indicated that General Harrison had carried every Northern State except New Jersey, and that Mr. Cleveland had carried the Southern States and New Jersey. The indications also were that the Republicans would have a majority in the next House of Congress. THE announcement made in Pittsburgh, Pa., on the 5th to the effect that Dr. David Hostetter, the well-known million aire and bitters manufacturer had died in New York was not correct. It was learned on the 6th that he was alive but sinking rapidly, his death being expected at any

THE latest returns on the 8th from the Presidential election showed conclusive-ly that the Republicans had carried the country and that General Harrison would succeed Mr. Cleveland in the Presidency. General Harrison carried every Northern State except New Jersey and Connecticut, his plurality in New York being over 12,000, and about 4,000 in Indiana. The returns also indicated that the lower House of Congress would stand: Republicans, 171; Democrats, 154. West Virginia was also probably Republican by a plurality of from 700 to 1,000. This would give Harrison 239 electoral votes. The Legislature was also said to be Republican, which would elect a United States The Legislature of Delaware

PANSIES FOR THOUGHTS.—From the Writings of "Pansy" (Mrs. G. R., Alden). Compiled and arranged with an appropriate text for each day by Grace Livingston, author of "A Chautanqua Idyl." D. Lothrop & Co., Boston, Mass., publishers. Price 75 cents.

Perhaps not one woman in the country has done more by her writings to help cheer, ennoble and purify the world than Mrs. Alden. For with the care and worry and trouble there is always shown "a way out," and "Pansy's" hopeful, earnest words are like a strong arm reached down in time of need.

To thousands of people, both young and old, her books have been an inspiration, and in many a home her name is a household word. Her admirers must often have wished for some collection of her pithy thoughts that should fit the need of the hour, to which they could turn for cheer and encouragement. The exquisite cover with its golden pansies is fitly symbolical of the contents, and the book will make a charming gift book for all times.
