Michigan Argus.

Nutritive Properties of Peas and Bean. The Maine Farmer quotes Dr. Buckland on the value of leguminous plants...

"The seeds of leguminous plants, says he, especially peas and beans, are loaded with the constituents of muscle and bone ready prepared to form and maintain the muscular fiber of the body of animals."

"The further remarks that an old laborer of Axbridge complained to his master, Mr. Symonds, that laborers feeding their feet on potatoes could not do so good a day's work now as when he was young and fed on peas."

"In beans we have vegetable 'ascic', or the peculiar element of cheese. What is more grateful to man when fatigued by labor or long walk?"

"We have thus abridged some of Dr. Buckland's remarks for the benefit of our readers, some of whom are beginning to look upon beans and peas especially bean porridge, as very unsatisfactory and vulgar food."

"The Wild Hunt for Office. Correspondence of the N. Y. Commercial Advertiser. Washington, March 19."

"Applications for office continue to pour in. Already at the Treasury the clerks have noted, and filed away for future reference, thirty-two baskets of well-endorsed documents."

"At the Postoffice Department fifteen thousand applications for office have been filed. The War Department employ three clerks to note and file away the applications."

"The Virginia secessionists are beginning to despair of passing a direct order of secession, and are urging the adoption of the Arkansas plan, to submit the question of secession to a popular vote."

"The World's Washington correspondence says: 'The President has received several applications from Louisiana for citizenship at West point.'"
