Vol. XVII. ANN ARBOR, FRIDAY, JUNE 6, 1862. No. 855.

THE SOLDIER'S MOTHER.

There comes new light to her dimming eye, As she opens the fatal scroll Which she took from her burning room, No less for her darling, who from her arms, For the country his life-blood hath shed; But her lips part, and she hears heard Friends in the record—'Death'!

A Corp from History. MARION'S DINNER PARTY.

About this time we received a flag from the enemy in Georgetown, the object of which was to secure an arrangement about the exchange of prisoners. The flag after the usual ceremony of blinding was conducted into Marion's encampment.

Skirmish Near Cold Harbor. The Fourth Michigan Regiment Put to Flight a Whole Rebel Brigade.

COLD HARBOR, Va., May 24, 1862. The most important skirmish that has occurred between our troops and the rebels in front of Richmond, took place this morning. Engaged on our side was the Fourth Michigan regiment, Col. Woodbury, who fought for two hours with desperate and heroic courage an entire rebel brigade.

Gen. Butler's Appeal for the Poor. GENERAL ORDERS, No. 25. HEADQUARTERS DEPT. OF THE COLUMBIA, NEW ORLEANS, May 9, 1862.

The deplorable state of destitution and hunger of the mechanics and working classes in this city has been brought to the knowledge of the commanding General. He has yielded to every suggestion made by the city government, and ordered every method of furnishing food to the people of New Orleans that the government desired.

PARSON BROWNLOW'S ACCOUNT OF HIMSELF.

PARSON BROWNLOW'S ACCOUNT OF HIMSELF.—In his forthcoming work the Parson thus describes himself: "I am known throughout the length and breadth of the land as the 'Fighting Parson,' while I may say, without incurring the charge of egotism, that no man is more notable as my neighbors will testify.

A JOKE AS A MEDICINE.

A JOKE AS A MEDICINE.—Mirth is healthful, and a joke has before now done good like a medicine. Dr. John Brown, for instance, tells the following story: "I may give an instance, when a joke was better than itself. A comely young wife, the 'tyranny' of her circle was in bed apparently dying from swelling and inflammation of the throat, an inaccessible abscess stopping the way; she could swallow nothing; everything had been tried. Her friends were standing round her in misery and helplessness.

THE FRENCH ARMY.

THE FRENCH ARMY.—The draft of the bill for calling out 100,000 men of the levy of 1862 has been presented to the Corps Legislatif. The explanations which accompany the bill state that the levy remains fixed, as usual, at 100,000 men, although the effective strength of the army has been increased 392,000 to 500,000. The number of 100,000 will be reduced by the council of Revision to 72,000, of which 68,000 are to serve on land, and 4,000 at sea.

SAFETY SILENCE.

SAFETY SILENCE.—I beg you to take heart one maxim, which for myself I have ever observed, and ever shall—it is, never to say more than is necessary. The unspoken word never does harm; what is once uttered cannot be recalled, and no man can foresee its consequences.

The Opening of the International Exhibition.

The following are the words by Tennyson, the Poet Laureate of England, sung at the opening of the International Exhibition: Uplift a thousand voices full and sweet, In this wide hall with earth's inventions stored, And raise thy voice, O Mother Land, Who leas once more in peace the nations meet.

A Jubilant Editor.

The Christian Banner, published at Fredericksburg, Va., was suspended May 9, 1862, in consequence of the editor's loyalty to the Union, and his refusal to aid in plunging Virginia into the vortex of secession. Just one year from that day its publication is resumed.

ANN ARBOR. FRIDAY MORNING, JUNE 6, 1862. Special Correspondence of the Argus.

"On To Richmond."

IN CAMP, 16 MILES FROM RICHMOND, May 21st, 1862. DEAR BROTHER: We are slowly but surely approaching the rebel capital, and a few more days will either give us a battle with Richmond, or Richmond without a battle, for Richmond we shall have one way or the other.

Political Preaching.

Our genial and amiable cotemporary, the Saturday Evening Gazette, says: "The fact is, from some cause or other, there seems to be falling off among our people at church services; as compared the number of our population with the seatings in our churches, the preponderance of the former over the latter is very marked. Some of the clergy are trying to solve the question, but have not yet found the remedy."

Curious and Valuable—A Perpetual Weather Table.

The following table was constructed by the celebrated Dr. Herschel, upon philosophic considerations of the attraction of the Sun and Moon. It is confirmed by the experience of many years' careful observations, and will suggest to the observer what kind of weather will probably follow the Moon's entrance into any one of her quarters. As a general rule, it will be found wonderfully correct: If the moon changes at 12 o'clock, noon, the weather will be very rainy in Summer; and there will be snow and rain in Winter.

What is the cause of this unpropitious state of things?

What is the cause of this unpropitious state of things? The clergy of New England have been offering "strange fire before the Lord," and the inevitable retribution has followed. And this "strange fire" is the vulgar fire of worldly passions—which wastes and consumes the heart on which it feeds. In such a heart the Christian grace can no more take root than roses and lilies will flourish in the slag and refuse of a furnace.

China.

China.—If the four hundred millions of China were placed rank and file ten abreast, the columns would nearly surround the globe or equator. If they were to march thirty miles a day, it would take two years and thirty-eight days for the whole to pass a given point.

Nobility is to be considered only as an imaginary distinction.

At a Card: Mr. and Mrs. R. RICHARDS gratefully acknowledge the kindness of their Dixboro friends, joined by some from Ann Arbor and Ypsilanti, in a delightful surprise and generous donation on the 28th ult.

The dwelling of Mrs. SLOAN, widow of the late J. R. SLOAN, of Sharon, was destroyed by fire on Tuesday night of last week. No men were in the house, and only a portion of the furniture was saved. Insured in the Washtenaw Mutual for $1,200; loss estimated at $1,000.

C. B. PORTER, Dentist, of this city, has exhibited to us "Letters Patent," received by him for an improvement in apparatus for inhaling chloroform, and also the apparatus. The instrument has been thoroughly tried by competent medical men, and is highly commended. We hope the Doctor may make something out of it.

We have on hand a fine assortment of Printers' Blanks, Enamelled, Bristol Board, and colored Cards, and are ready to print at short notice, and in the very best style, Business, Ball, Visiting, At Home, or Wedding Cards, and at prices cheaper than ever before offered in this City. Give us your orders.

DAN RICE, the popular humorist and Napoleon of Showmen, who justly claims to manage the best conducted "show" in the universe, has declared his intentions of "opening his doors" to the people of Ann Arbor, on Friday, the 13th inst. The show has none of the objectionable features of the Circus in its composition, upon the contrary 'tis refined, moral and entertaining.

Mr. R. is chaste and guarded in what he says or permits to be said, and the entertainments, whilst they amuse, instruct. The blind horse will be exhibited by DAX, as will also the comic mules, who are great comedians in the assenise school.

By the voluntary recommendation of some of our friends—in fact without their saying as much as "if it please you"—we have been appointed agent for the Merchants' Insurance Company of Hartford, Conn., and having concluded to act as such agent, give place to the following card from the sufferers in the recent great fire at Troy, N. Y., in order that our fellow citizens may know that the Merchants' promptly adjust and pays its losses:

To Messrs. KYLE & HENLANS, Agents of the Merchants' Insurance Company, of Hartford—

GENTLEMEN:—The undersigned, sufferers by the late fire in this city, tender to you, as agents, our most grateful thanks for the prompt and liberal adjustment of our claims, and for the prompt payment of our losses. We would also express our gratitude for the courtesy and consideration manifested towards us in the adjustment of our losses by the President, Messrs. KYLE & HENLANS, and their General Agent, James Goodman, Esq., through whose kind offices we were enabled to receive our losses. We would also express our gratitude for the prompt payment of our losses by the President, Messrs. KYLE & HENLANS, and their General Agent, James Goodman, Esq., through whose kind offices we were enabled to receive our losses.

MARK HOWARD, the President of the Merchants', was formerly a resident of this city, which is an additional guarantee that the Company will deal honorably and liberally with all of our citizens who holding its policies shall suffer losses by fire.

We solicit for the Merchants' a liberal share of patronage.
