ANN ARBOR, FRIDAY MORNING, JULY 29, 1870.

DEMOCRATIC STATE CONVENTION.

A Democratic State Convention will be held in the city of Detroit, on Wednesday, the 31st day of August, next, at 11 o'clock A. M. to nominate State officers...

All good citizens who desire the end of the extravagance and corruption which are wasting our substance, all who desire a more economical and efficient administration of public affairs...

The Daily News, which has brilliantly led the opinion of England on war questions, will speak in the morning as follows:

It is impossible not to admit that the gravity of the present European crisis has, for all neutral nations, been immensely increased by the publication of the proposed treaty. It completely expresses what every body believes to be the favorite policy and cherished design of the French Emperor...

DEMOCRATIC COUNTY CONVENTION.

A Democratic County Convention will be held at the COURT HOUSE, in the CITY OF ANN ARBOR, on Wednesday, July 29th, at 11 o'clock A. M. to elect delegates to the State and Congressional Conventions...

The Detroit Tribune says:

"In the Third district the constituents of Gov. BLAIR are so well satisfied with him, he having taken a really high position in Congress, that if he desires the renomination he can have it, substantially without opposition."

The King of Prussia assures the Parliament of the North German Confederation that the impending war with France "is a struggle without which Europe can never enjoy lasting peace."

In another column the reader will find an exceedingly spicy letter from Senator WILSON to President Grant, protesting against the removal of MOTLEY from the Massachusetts Senator thought the removal would be considered a punishment of MOTLEY's "next friend," Senator SUMNER, that it would not tend to strengthen the administration, and that it would certainly injure him—WILSON. Nevertheless GRANT removed MOTLEY, SUMNER can consider himself rebuked and meditate on his defeat of the San Domingo treaty, and WILSON can console himself that the President is not over-anxious for his re-election.

The Midland Independent is indignant over a report that Mr. BINGHAM of the Lansing Republic, and a candidate for Auditor General, is "secretly" charged with having, at the last session of the Legislature, urged the passage of "a law requiring the tax sales to be published in pamphlet form by the State printers, instead of being advertised through the country papers as at present."

When the charge is refuted, —will the Independent advise the "country papers" who is responsible for the legislation last session requiring the road warrants and overseer's returns for the whole State to be printed at Lansing? That "job" interests us more than the tax advertising.

At the special election held in the Plymouth, (Wayne Co.) district on Saturday last, Chas. H. BENNETT, anti-railroadist candidate was elected, beating Hoos, anti-railroad regular Republican, and Faisnie independent railroad Republican.

The vote stood: BENNETT, 400; HOOS, 176; FAISNIE, 156; the railroad aid candidate falling 420 behind his two anti-railroad aid opponents, and the Democrat beating his two Republican opponents, 68.

As the Courier is slow to announce that the Republicans of this county have a home candidate for Congress—though they may not have learned it yet—we beg leave to call attention to an article in the Ypsilanti Commercial of Saturday last, advocating the claims of Hon. It is announced that "Gen. SCHENCK has accepted the Presidency of the Land and Emigration Company, at a salary of $12,000 a year." Which indicates that Gen. SCHENCK has read the writing on the wall, and has concluded that he has got to "get up and get" out of the House.

Wilson, Grant and Motley.

UNITED STATES SENATE CHAMBER, Washington, July 5, 1870. PRESIDENT GRANT—Dear Sir—After much reflection I have decided that I should like to have you view touching the proposed removal of Mr. Motley. I feel you will make a mistake if you remove him, and I beg of you to consider the case carefully before acting.

The Senate finally yielded and passed the House bill giving Mrs. LINCOLN an annual pension of $3,000.

It received the signature of the President, and is now the law; and rumor says that Mrs. LINCOLN will refuse to receive it; not out of conscientious scruples, but because it is not large enough.
