Railroad Negotiations.

The late political contest in our city brought out the following correspondence, in answer to circulated charges of unreasonable delay on the part of the Directors of the Toledo, Ann Arbor and Northern Railroad Company. We are pleased to lay it before our readers.

TOLEDO, March 18th, 1871.
DEAR SIR:—I have just telegraphed you, saying, I go to Pittsburg on Tuesday morning, to close up the railroad contract with the Pennsylvania Central. Hall & Hixox met the Board on Wednesday, and the papers were forwarded to the attorney for contract, and to be signed next Wednesday. To-day I get a telegraph from Hall, saying, I desire you to be in Pittsburg next Wednesday. Now I have no doubt it is to see if the contract they have made, and to there to sign, is to our satisfaction, and I hope you will go there, as you will not have a better time to see Scott and others in interest.

Yours truly,
H. S. WALBRIDGE.
ANN ARBOR, March 28th.
H. S. WALBRIDGE, Esq., Toledo, O.

DEAR SIR:—Yours of the 18th was duly received. It was impossible for me to be with you on Wednesday. I wrote Mr. Hall in time. We supposed that you were close to some arrangement with the Pennsylvania Central and are anxious to learn the details of that arrangement, and trust you will communicate them to us at the earliest possible moment. We are waiting now, and have been for some time, the result of that negotiation, and can do literally nothing until we have a better time to see Scott and others in interest.

Yours truly,
S. H. DOUGLASS.
Pres't. T. A. & N. R. R.
It will be remembered that by a contract with the company at Toledo, or with the Trustees of the Toledo fund represented by Mr. WALBRIDGE and others, our railroad company is to have the advantage of any arrangement made by the Toledo interest with any eastern roads, if satisfactory. The Pennsylvania Central is one of the strongest companies in the country, can carry out any contract it will make, and a connection with it will be very desirable. If it can be made on such conditions as can be complied with.

The Ypsilanti Democracy did a good thing on Monday: elected P. P. BOGARDUS Mayor by 40 majority. He is a young, active, energetic man, and will make a good officer. City Council a tie. One Supervisor Democrat, and one Republican.

The appropriations made during the third session of the Forty-first Congress amount to $174,488,962.

The National Land Company, whose office is at Denver, Colorado, sold during March 28,397 acres for $126,203.

The City Election.

The city election on Monday did not create any very great excitement, and the vote falls all but 250 short of a full one. The result is considerably mixed, the Democrats, by good candidates, hard work, and Republican help, getting considerably the advantage.

Last spring HARRIMAN, Republican, was elected Mayor by 147 majority, with the entire city ticket—except Recorder—two Supervisors, the three Collectors, and all the Aldermen; while last fall the Republican majority on State ticket averaged 176. Going in against these odds, and without any defection in our ranks, we bear off Mayor, by a majority of 140; Recorder by 65; treble the majority on Supervisor in the 8d and 4th wards, and capture one Collector and three Aldermen. How and where this was done, the following table, compiled from official figures, will show, the candidates first named in each case being Democrats:

1st	2d	3d	4th	5th	6th
Mayor	140	147	147	147	147

The Connecticut election on Monday didn't result satisfactorily to our bird. It was the Republican year, the administration sent in a dispatch "crawfishing" on San Domingo and allaying the Republican uneasiness; and then the new governor was larger than the Democratic majorities of last year. The result is, ENGLISH, Democrat, has a plurality but not a majority; the Congressional delegation stands as last year, three Republicans and one Democrat; and the Legislature is Republican, securing the election of JEWELL for Governor.

—Rhode Island held an election on Wednesday, and went Republican as usual.

The Supreme Court met on Tuesday, and is actively engaged upon a large calendar. On Wednesday a number of decisions were announced; the one of the most general interest reversing the decision in the Wayne Circuit in the CRANE-REEDER case, the escheat case in which valuable lands in Detroit were sold for a song.

There was a sharp frost at Cincinnati Tuesday morning. Some fears are entertained for the peaches, part of which are in blossom.

The rainy season—The rainy months of each year are the fever-breeding months, and the exposure to cold and wet, which so many experience, lays the foundation for Fever and Ague, Remittent Fever, Dumb Ague, etc. During these months, we advise all to be particularly careful in protecting the person by a sufficiency of clothing; avoiding wet feet and clothes, especially avoid getting chilled at any time or anywhere, and, above all things, keep up the vital and tonic vigor of the body by small daily doses of Sweet Quinine, which may be taken morning, noon and night. Sweet Quinine is sold by all druggists in both Powder and Fluid. Stearns, Farr & Co., Manufacturers, New York.

—Tomorrow—next Sunday.
—County Canvass—Tuesday next.
—Commenced excavating for Cook's new hotel.
—The Artesian bore—down about 600 feet and drill off.
—Wanted—a new fence around the Court House square.
—Report has it that Hon. L. D. Nominis is to leave Ypsilanti and take up his residence in Grand Rapids.
—Prof. Foss has resigned his professorship in the Maine Medical School at Brunswick, to devote more of his time to his labors here.
—Hon. Wm. JAY, late of this county, was the prohibition candidate for Mayor at the recent charter election of Emporia, Kansas.
—Rev. L. R. Fisk, of the M. E. Church, will preach on Sunday next, on "Lotteries in the church and out of the church." A timely subject.
—The Common Council met on Tuesday evening and completed the canvass of the official table.
—Admitted—fifty-five students of the Law Department, to practice, by the Supreme Court on Tuesday. Miss KILGORE's name "led all the rest."
—Vandawalker's old building on Main street has departed, and a new one is to go up in its place, with a front like that of Werts & Woznes's, adjoining.
—HORN & HOFFSTETTER's good masons, have the job for VANDAWALKER's new store, also for the stores of BURKE and BETHOLS, north side the square.
—The woman who voted at Battle Creek was a maid—then emancipated—and she voted the Democratic ticket.
—When SOLOMON swore a failure?
—When SOLOMON swore a failure? There is no new under the sun? he hadn't heard that the First Ward had given a majority for a Democratic candidate for Mayor.
—GRANT, Republican and local candidate for Mayor, made a big run on Monday, getting 81 majority over SILL, the highest opponent. The majority for RYAN is larger than a party vote, both SILL and FENIX having been plastered with GRANT's name.
—MICHAEL D. HOWARD, a graduate of the Law Department on Wednesday of last week, was elected Justice of the Peace at Manchester on Monday, and admitted to practice in the Supreme Court on Tuesday. This will compensate, in part, for his unjust defeat as candidate for County Superintendent of Schools.

Manistee Standard is the name of a paper just started at Manistee, with GOWEN & MORTIMER as editors and publishers. It is a neatly printed 32 column sheet, Democratic in its politics, with a spicy local department, and promises to deserve patronage, which may it secure abundantly.

The Connecticut election on Monday didn't result satisfactorily to our bird. It was the Republican year, the administration sent in a dispatch "crawfishing" on San Domingo and allaying the Republican uneasiness; and then the new governor was larger than the Democratic majorities of last year. The result is, ENGLISH, Democrat, has a plurality but not a majority; the Congressional delegation stands as last year, three Republicans and one Democrat; and the Legislature is Republican, securing the election of JEWELL for Governor.

—Rhode Island held an election on Wednesday, and went Republican as usual.

The Supreme Court met on Tuesday, and is actively engaged upon a large calendar. On Wednesday a number of decisions were announced; the one of the most general interest reversing the decision in the Wayne Circuit in the CRANE-REEDER case, the escheat case in which valuable lands in Detroit were sold for a song.

There was a sharp frost at Cincinnati Tuesday morning. Some fears are entertained for the peaches, part of which are in blossom.

The rainy season—The rainy months of each year are the fever-breeding months, and the exposure to cold and wet, which so many experience, lays the foundation for Fever and Ague, Remittent Fever, Dumb Ague, etc. During these months, we advise all to be particularly careful in protecting the person by a sufficiency of clothing; avoiding wet feet and clothes, especially avoid getting chilled at any time or anywhere, and, above all things, keep up the vital and tonic vigor of the body by small daily doses of Sweet Quinine, which may be taken morning, noon and night. Sweet Quinine is sold by all druggists in both Powder and Fluid. Stearns, Farr & Co., Manufacturers, New York.
