THE SUNDAY QUESTION IN CINCINNATI. The meetings held by the leading German societies for several weeks with reference to the repeal of the Sunday laws, culminated to-night by the adoption of a resolution declaring that the question whether the repeal of the Sunday laws, or what day, or whether they should perform labor on any one day, was not a public question to be regulated by law.

ANOTHER PROJECTED RAILROAD. Another railroad project has been developed here within a few days, having for its object the building of a north railroad extending through the western tier of counties of this from Clio to Detroit.

THE PUBLISHERS' ASSOCIATION.

The Excursion.

A brief letter in the last ARGUS advised our readers that we—the editors—were at its date in Bay City, but inclined Northward. To proceed in order.

The attendance was not large,—but thirty papers being represented,—and only thirteen of the thirty being old members.

At the afternoon session a committee was appointed to revise certain voting articles of the constitution, which committee reported in the evening, the report being unanimously adopted.

At the evening session the following officers were elected: President—JOHN N. INGERSOLL, of the Cornum Association.

Second Vice-President—L. J. BATES, of the Detroit Post.

Secretary—J. E. Scripps, of the Detroit Tribune.

At the banquet, served in the dining hall of the Fraser House, and tendered by the citizens of Bay City.

At the close of the address, Miss SEXTON, of Grand Rapids, daughter of C. C. SEXTON, of the Daily News, responded to an invitation given by the Association.

Domestic Recipes.

To Wash Oil-Cloths—Take equal parts of skimmed milk and water; wipe dry; never use soap.

To Prevent Moths—The outtings of Russia leather placed with furs, blankets, cloth, etc., will effectually prevent moths.

To Remove Iron Rust—Dip the rusty spots in a solution of tartaric or citric acid; or wet the spots with lemon juice and rub on hard, white soap and expose it to the heat; or apply lemon juice and salt and expose it to the sun.

Allergic Lines may be restored by soaping the spots while wet, covering them with fine chalk scraped or powdered, and well rubbed in.

Melancholic Stains may be removed from silver spoons by rubbing them with a rag dipped in sulphuric acid, and washing it off with soap suds.

For Fruit Stains on Napkins, Table Cloths, etc.—Pour hot water on the spots, then wet with hartshorn or oxalic acid—a teaspoonful to a cup of water.

To Clean Furs—Shake and wipe them well, then brush; beat, so as to fluff them; lay in the water, then wipe them slightly. This makes them nearly as good as new.

Cure for Corns—Take a lemon, cut off a piece of rind, then nick the lemon so as to get the juice to run out; dip the corn next to the corn; if this on at night so that it cannot move; in the morning you can peel it away to a great extent.

Current Catsup—Nico, fully ripe currants, 4 lbs.; sugar, 1 lb.; cinnamon, ground, 1 tablespoonful; salt, 1/2 pound; cloves and pepper, each one tablespoonful; vinegar, one pint. Stew the currants and sugar until quite thick; then add the other ingredients and bottle for use.

To Remove Grease from Glass—It frequently happens that painters splash the plate or other glass windows when they are painting the sills. In this case, melt some soda in very hot water and wash them with it, using a soft brush.

To Make Starch Bread Fresh—Put the loaf into a clean tin and cover closely to exclude all water, and set into a steamer or kettle of boiling water for half an hour; then remove it from the tin, and it will keep like fresh bread.

To Wash Linens—Never rub soap upon it. Make a suds by dissolving the soap in warm water. Rinse in warm water; very cold or hot water will shrink them.

To Get Rid of Ants—Wash the shelves with salt and water; sprinkle salt in their paths. Keep out of sats: Set the legs of the sats in tin cups; keep the cups filled with water.

Farmers' Wives The reading of essays by the ladies is one of the exercises which give life and interest to the meetings of the Springs, held, Vt., Farmers' Club. From one of the essays by Mrs. Daniel Rice, we copy the following paragraph:

Did you ever think of the amount of thought required to plan three meals a day for 365 days in succession? To prepare enough and not too much, and for those living at a distance from the village, to remember that the stock of flour, tea, etc., is replenished in the city.

How to Cure Stammering—Late A. Taylor, editor of the La Crosse (Wis) Leader who has been an inveterate stammerer, writes as follows about the way to cure the habit: No stammering person ever found any difficulty in singing.

Young men who use perfumed paper and elaborated red and gilt monograms, tinted cards, embroidered handkerchiefs and shirt fronts, lace neckties, and fancy sleeve buttons, must not be surprised if they are considered effeminate and foppish.

The Scientific Value of Cheese Factories.

Nature, a London Journal, says that the American system of cheese factories was established nearly twenty years ago, and in its present condition of maturity it retains all the essential features which were characteristic of its infancy.

The superiority of the quality of the manufactured article may be more difficult of explanation, for the best factories produce as good cheese as any dairy. The reason why the average quality of factories is improved is because the average make of cheese is because fewer first-rate cheese makers are required under the factory system.

CONSUMPTION.

Its Cure and Its Preventive.

BY J. H. SCHENCK, M.D.

Many a human being has passed away for whom death there was no other reason than the neglect of a simple and easily cured disease.

Dr. Schenck has in his own case proved that wherever sufficient vitality remains, his medicine will restore it, and his directions will lead to a successful cure.

Dr. Schenck's medicine is as simple as all its ingredients, and it is as safe as any medicine that can be given.
