

The Michigan Argus

From the New England Farmer. GOING AFTER THE COWS.

BY JAMES K. CHENEY.

They are waiting there, by the pasture bars—single, and only, two.

I lean my back on the pasture bars And watch the milkmaid as she goes.

Will she wear her bonnet on, Or will she wear her hair down?

How pure is the breath of the dove, That comes from the meadows now!

A Visit to the Michigan Fruit Region. A very pleasant reunion of the fruit-growers, principally from Southern Illinois and the eastern shore of Lake Michigan, was held at Benton Harbor, Mich., on the 18th, 19th and 20th of September.

Three years ago, through the liberality and courtesy of the Illinois Central Railroad Company, the principal horticulturists of the Michigan Lake shore region, made a visit to the various fruit-growing localities in this State, lying along the Illinois Central to Cairo.

When to Plant Fruit Trees. As practical tests are what we desire, I will give you a little of my experience in tree-planting.

WHAT PLEASES THE PUBLIC.—Talking the other day with an able and popular lecturer, who seldom failed in getting a full and attentive audience, we ventured to ask him what kind of subject and what style of treatment he thought the public liked best.

WHAT THEY DRINK IN ENGLAND.—Lord John Russell, in a speech made at the conference of the National Union for the Suppression of Intemperance, over which he presided, said that during the five years ending with 1870, the temperate British people spent for intoxicating liquors the little sum of $14,842,343.

Absorbent Powers of Mellow Soil. Experiments have shown that a mellow, loamy soil is capable of absorbing in twelve hours, when exposed to a moist atmosphere, an amount of water equal to two per cent. of its weight.

Removing Rocks. On many farms there are large rocks, both unsightly and troublesome.

GOOD ADVICE.—Do not be discouraged if occasionally you slip down by the way and others find you a little.

THE REVOLUTION, having learned that pretty lady could not do without a new dress, she is going about hunting the means in order to obtain subscribers, says: "If any one connected with this paper ever resorts to such a course to obtain subscribers, or an advertisement, we beg to be informed of the fact, that her connection with it may be cancelled at once."

The Value of Personal Appearance.

A clergyman in Massachusetts, who has seen his two scores and ten, was complimented on his hale and youthful looks the other day.

"What!" said his friend, "have you been coloring your hair?"

"Yes," replied he, "I have been doing what I once thought nothing would induce me to do. I have been coloring my hair with henna, and I will tell you how it was brought to me. After leaving my position as a minister, I proposed to go back into the ministry and become a parish minister.

Accordingly, as I had opportunities, and was gratified to hear, at the conclusion of the services, that they were well pleased with my preaching, and but for my gray hair, would gladly have me for a pastor; but they could not think of so old a man.

So much for the color of one's hair—so much in proof that looks are something after all, notwithstanding the old proverb that looks are nothing, and behavior is all.

Morning Paper Printers. Morning paper printers are considered by the world in general as sad set. They resemble the sailor in prodigality.

Street Pork. It is beyond a doubt that cleanliness has much to do with the flavor of pork. The filthy state in which many fattening hogs are kept has a tendency not only to render the meat unwholesome.
