MY DEAR SIR—I am in receipt of your letter of the 6th inst., requesting a statement of my views in regard to the political situation of the country.

It affords me pleasure to comply, though I am compelled by infirm health to do so as briefly as practicable.

From the inception of the Cincinnati movement I have been a faithful ally. The high character and great ability of the gentlemen engaged in it, were a sufficient guarantee that they would honestly endeavor to present a platform upon which all could agree.

Such a course would, in my opinion, be unwise in the extreme, because the experience of the last few years must satisfy every candid man that the result would prove disastrous.

But, sir, the reverse of this is the truth. Those delegates who do not represent and carry out the opinions of those who send them. And how are they to learn those opinions unless every Democrat makes his views known?

But again, sir, you have had experience enough in national politics to know that anything like careful deliberation in such a body is practically impossible.

Again, if tried by the Jeffersonian standard, is there any valid objection to the candidates? The nomination of Greeley is "principles—not men," and none deny the soundness of the Cincinnati declaration of principles.

No candid man will deny that they are. Why, then, sir, should you or I or any other Democrat refuse to support an energetic support of those men, when the object we are all struggling to accomplish is nothing else than to rescue our beloved country from certain destruction?

I regard the country as being in greater peril now at the hands of those in power than it would be in case of such an invasion. And I am therefore ready to support any efforts with those of every other man, without reference to former opinions or affiliations, who is honestly and earnestly in favor of rescuing it from the hands of those who constantly violate its Constitution with impunity, and plunder its Treasury at the expense of the liberties of the people can be rendered safe and perpetual.

To be successful, we must carry the larger States; for we secure only a bare majority of the electoral college by including some of the Southern States, (the men now in power will not hesitate to legislate us out of it by such action as they took in regard to Georgia four years ago.) That was the most dangerous of all the violations of the Constitution—they have ever perpetrated.

Congress has no more authority to declare that the vote of a State shall not be counted than it has to enact a law that the people of a State shall not vote.

ANN ARBOR.

FRIDAY MORNING, JUNE 21, 1872.

DEMOCRATIC STATE CONVENTION. The Democratic State Convention will be held in the City of Lansing, on Tuesday, July 24, at 11 o'clock a. m., for the selection of delegates to the National Democratic Convention, to be held at Baltimore on the 8th of July for the nomination of candidates for the Presidency of the United States.

Each county is entitled to two delegates for each Representative it is entitled to in the State Legislature, under the last apportionment, and each county shall be entitled to at least one delegate.

In accordance with the resolution of a former State Convention, delegates must reside in the county they claim to represent, except in the counties of the Upper Peninsula.

Wm. W. WILSON, Chairman, THOS. D. HAWLEY, Secretary, JOHN J. ADAMS, Treasurer, Wm. W. WILSON, Chairman, THOS. D. HAWLEY, Secretary, JOHN J. ADAMS, Treasurer.

DEMOCRATIC COUNTY CONVENTION. A Democratic County Convention will be held at the Court House, in Ann Arbor, on Tuesday, July 24, at 11 o'clock a. m., to elect six delegates to the State Convention.

Each town and ward will be entitled to delegates as follows: Ann Arbor City—3, Pittsfield—2, Saline—2, Liberty—2, etc.

WANTED—AN OPINION.—The most thoroughly non-committal newspaper of the State is the Argus, of Ann Arbor.

Along the T. A. and N. R. Mr. L. D. BURCH, the energetic and gentlemanly agent of the Toledo, Ann Arbor and Northern Railroad Company, Judge LAWRENCE, GEO. F. ROBINSON and myself took a ride over the line of the road Tuesday and Wednesday of this week.

We found the road much further advanced than we expected. Ten different gangs of men are at work on the road between Pittsfield and a point 2-1/2 miles this side of the State line.

Each county is entitled to two delegates for each Representative it is entitled to in the State Legislature, under the last apportionment, and each county shall be entitled to at least one delegate.

In accordance with the resolution of a former State Convention, delegates must reside in the county they claim to represent, except in the counties of the Upper Peninsula.

Wm. W. WILSON, Chairman, THOS. D. HAWLEY, Secretary, JOHN J. ADAMS, Treasurer, Wm. W. WILSON, Chairman, THOS. D. HAWLEY, Secretary, JOHN J. ADAMS, Treasurer.

DEMOCRATIC COUNTY CONVENTION. A Democratic County Convention will be held at the Court House, in Ann Arbor, on Tuesday, July 24, at 11 o'clock a. m., to elect six delegates to the State Convention.

Each town and ward will be entitled to delegates as follows: Ann Arbor City—3, Pittsfield—2, Saline—2, Liberty—2, etc.

ALL SORTS OF PARAGRAPHS. — Gen. McClellan has declared against Greeley.

—The eight-hour strike is losing ground. —The trial of Stokes was commenced on Wednesday.

—141,051 immigrants have arrived at New York since January 1st. —The Orangemen are arranging for a procession on the 12th of July.

—'99 in the shade.' Chicago's weather report for Wednesday. —Gen. C. B. Fisk, of St. Louis, Mo., is announced as Coldwater's Fourth of July orator.

—And now rumor has it that the Erie railroad is to be leased with Gen. Sickles as President. —James F. Joy, of the Michigan Central, is prominently named as the coming President of Erie.

—One hundred Iowa editors are skylarking in Utah. Brigham & Co. have all their eyes open. —Hon. Sanford M. Green has been appointed Judge of the 18th Circuit, vice Judge Erie, deceased.

—An earthquake has destroyed the seaport of Hamida, in one of the Japanese Islands, with 300 lives. —The Republican State Convention, to nominate candidates for State officers, is to be held at Lansing, July 31st.

—The stock of the N. Y. Tribune is 100 shares, each having a ready market value of $10,000. It is held by 22 shareholders. —The Reports and the Small-Pox is the suggestive heading to a telegram in a daily exchange of a recent date.

—The Boston Gilmore-Peace Jubilee alms Big Blow Out, commenced on Monday. Old injun would say "machee noise." —Late numbers of the N. Y. Tribune read very much like a Democratic journal.

The fangs of the serpent have been effectively drawn. —A committee of Methodist ministers has endorsed brother-in-law Cramer, and another has whitewashed the notorious Baltimore Huston.

—Under the heading "Our Candidates" the Saginaw Enterprise says a word for "the man who heads the ticket," but gives Wilson a first-class puff. —Sumner has not been heard from since the Philadelphia Convention; and the public is as yet undecided as to whether he will follow Grant or Greeley.

—Mr. Brainbridge Wadleigh, a popular lawyer here, has been elected the successor of U. S. Senator Patterson, of New Hampshire, beating all the old stagers. —The Jackson Bar has preferred numerous serious charges against one C. C. Burt, a somewhat notorious shyster of that city, and it is more than likely that he will be heaved overboard.

—Miss Tennie C. Clavin has been elected Colonel of the 85th regiment N. Y. militia—colored. Why should that regiment suffer such an infliction? Has it no right to protection under the civil rights bill? —Hon. Jas. W. Wall, of New Jersey, elected United States Senator by the Democrats in 1863, to reward him for arbitrary arrest and illegal imprisonment in Fort Lafayette, died on the 9th inst., in his 83d year.

—Henry Fish, of Port Huron, has again been nominated for Governor by a small handful of political prohibitionists in convention assembled at Jackson. It is very natural that a Fish should have such an affinity for water. —The telegraph intimates that Gen. Sickles has been recalled from Madrid. At his own request and to be honored with a position nearer the Republican throne, or as an act of tardy justice to a disgraced nation? That's what the public would like to know.

—Notwithstanding Gen. Logan's zeal and his indirect defense of the President in the Senate and at Philadelphia, it is not that that high dignitary has gone and snubbed him. The Senator had no angle for a meeting at the White House, to look after the interests of his constituents—especially some office-wanting ones—and calling at the hour found that the President had lied to Long Branch; and besides had given the offices to other applicants. That "army in Flanders" could have taken lessons had it been stationed within hearing distance of Logan.

—We fear that Don Henderson is getting discouraged over the gubernatorial prospects of Col. Stockbridge. In his last paper his Stockbridge article closes with something like a lament, thus: "We do not think that Detroit and the southern tier of counties ought to run the whole State gubernatorially all the time. Southern Michigan ought to be satisfied with her fair share of the political honors of our party." If Don had ever been a Sunday School scholar he would remember that the custom of giving to those who already have is a very old one and has the highest sanction.

—The Maine Democratic State Convention was held on Tuesday last, 723 delegates being present and participating. CHAS. P. KIMBALL, of Portland, was nominated by acclamation for Governor, and proclaimed the "to be successful candidate." Greeley's letter of acceptance was adopted as the platform, and the delegates to Baltimore recommended to vote for the Cincinnati candidates.

Condition of the Cotton Crop. The following is a synopsis of the statement of the area and condition of the present cotton crop, which will appear in the June report of the Department of Agriculture: An increase in cotton area is reported in every State and a small proportion of the county returns shows a decrease of average. Planting was generally completed by the 1st of June, and the fields that were planted late occasioned some trouble in obtaining perfect stands, but the recent rains and renewed efforts in replanting have finally secured the percentage of increase in area, last year's crop being the basis of comparison, is as follows: North Carolina, 12 per cent.; South Carolina, 9; Georgia, 16; Florida, 10; Alabama, 11; Texas, 18; Arkansas, 16; Tennessee, 12. The average increase throughout the cotton States will approximate 13 per cent. Texas has naturally made the largest advance, not only having enjoyed a full season of planting, but also during the past year having received accessions of immigrants who are cotton planters. The condition of the plant throughout the cotton section is very good, and the prospect of a rating to the Atlantic from the more Western States, the former stand a little better average, while the latter are fully up to the standard of fair condition. The drought which prevailed in April and the first half of May delayed the growth, and the cold nights in the more northern belts had a further retarding effect, but the abundant rain and genial temperature which followed have wonderfully invigorated and advanced the crops. The following figures show the present condition of the cotton crop in the various States: 100 standing for the average: North Carolina, 95; South Carolina, 92; Georgia, 96; Florida, 95; Alabama, 104; Texas, 100; Arkansas, 98; Tennessee, 101.

Desperate Assault on a Sheriff's Posse. From the Adrian Times. Saturday night a saw mill, located near what is called Locust Corners, in the town of Pittsford, Hillsdale county, just on the county line, was burned under circumstances that made it seem that the burning was the work of an incendiary. Suspicion fell on a man by the name of Brittan, a well known farmer, a warrant for his arrest was placed in the hands of an officer. During the morning the officer, accompanied by three or four men, went to the house of Brittan's father, in the town of Pittsford. Young Brittan was sitting at the table, and allowed the officer and his posse to approach near to him. When within a few feet of him the officer speaking to him, said: "Brittan I have a warrant for your arrest, and you are to come with me to the court house, and there I will give you a hearing."

With this beautiful record for health seekers is now open, with the following: IRON, MAGNESIA AND SULPHUR WATERS, Commodore building heated by steam, and large and well-ventilated rooms. WATER AND AIR BATHS, Of all temperatures, also Shower Vapor, Medicated and other appliances, with a full and complete treatment of all forms of chronic diseases. Special attention paid to diet and diseases of females.

With a pleasant surroundings, and situated in one of the most beautiful spots in the State, it possesses attractions for invalids or for pleasure-seeking visitors. The Springs will be furnished with comfortable sleeping quarters, and the office can be seen there at the office of the proprietors on Huron street, or at the Springs. Address: J. H. BEAVER, M. The Michigan Fruit

By Their Fruits.

At a horticultural show, there is a table running through a long hall for the exhibition fruit; and this is divided up into about twenty-five compartments, which are assigned to as many exhibitors for the display of their productions. One goes along the table, and inspects the merits of the various articles.

Here is a man who has peaches, and apples, and peaches, and cherries, and plums. They are not very good; they are fair; they are about as good as the fruit that is not anybody else's. I see that they are just as good as the way down the table. But the man to whom it belongs says: "Mine ought to take the premium." "Why?" I asked. "Because it was raised on ground whose title goes back to the Flood. No man has a right to claim the premium unless he can show that the title of his land goes clear down to the Flood. I can prove that that I ought to have the premium. That other fruit may have some ground for pretense, but it is unconvincing."

I go to the next compartment, and I say to the man there: "It is about an average with the rest?" "On an average with the rest?" "Why?" "Because it was raised under glass. Those other fellows raised theirs in the open air. The church of the fruit was raised in definite inclosures, according to prescriptions which have come down from generation to generation. In judging of my fruit, you must take into consideration that it was according to ordinance. The church of the fruit is in this fruit is better than any of the rest on account of the way in which he raised it."

I go to the next compartment. There I see some magnificent fruit, and I say to the man: "Where did you get this fruit?" He says: "It came from the highway near my house." "From the highway?" "Yes. It grew on a wilding that I found growing there. I cleared away the brush that was choking it, and it thrived. It was a wilding, and it is the best fruit on the table." "From the whole length of the table, on both sides, there arises the exclamation: "What are you going to give that man the premium?" "The man who has the best fruit on the table?" "And in determining which of these men shall have the premium, he does judge by their fruit."

When the Lord comes to give his decision in the great consoling day of the future, I think he will judge in the same way, and say: "By their fruits ye shall know them."—H. W. Beecher.

When to Cut Wheat.

The usual practice among farmers is to cut wheat before it is cut, until the straw is entirely changed in color from green to yellow, and the grain has become hard and nearly or quite dry. Numerous experiments have been made in this country, but more than a half-century have elapsed since the first experiment is best to cut wheat, having in view the greatest yield of grain and the best quality. It is well known to those who have investigated the subject, that the ripening of the seed consists of a process of chemical change, and that the ripening of the straw is a process of chemical change. The process of ripening of the straw is a process of chemical change, and that the ripening of the straw is a process of chemical change. The process of ripening of the straw is a process of chemical change, and that the ripening of the straw is a process of chemical change.

These experiments have been so frequently made with such uniform results, that we feel unwilling to let the character of our harvest pass without again repeating our remarks on this subject. A very careful series of experiments of this character were made some years ago in Yorkshire, England, by Mr. John Hannam, and he seems to have shown, and in the weight and quality of the grain brought to market. The late heavy rains this spring has given us the promise of abundance of strawberries, and in the South, at least, the blossoming is magnificent. To keep off the birds how simple, how certain, and how easy. It is often a small chain sliding on a wire, and giving the animal the walk up and down the whole length of the strawberry beds. A knot at each end of the wire readily prevents the cat from twisting round the post which supports the wire, and small kennel placed in the middle of the walk affords her shelter and a home for her kittens. In large gardens a second cat is required, and the young ones in their frequent visits to each other need a constant watch. The best way to have for more than thirty years used, and seen used with perfect success, this easy method of protecting fruit, and in the very same plan is equally good in keeping hares and rabbits off flower beds. After the first few days cats in no way resemble this partial restraint, and when set quite free, after a few weeks' watching, they will of their own accord continue on guard. The kittens, more especially, attach themselves to the garden occupant, and their own accord become the gardener's best allies."

French Registration of Lands.

France has the largest number of land proprietors in the world, the most minute subdivision of land, and at the same time the best existing system of registration. The registration of land in France is called the cadastre, and its accompanying register, shows not only the piece of land belonging to each person, but each kind of land separately, and one holder may own several parcels of land at his property, and every all-enclosed boundary between different pieces of land, has to be entered in a supplementary register, with reference to the original and to the chart. This register contains not only the names, addresses, etc., of the proprietors of each parcel of land, but also the measurement—no error larger than two metres in a thousand being permitted—of each of its sides, with its mode of cultivation or application. It is estimated that the cost of a new chart and register would be
