The Board of Supervisors threaten to adjourn today. Jas. T. Field does not lecture before the Student's Lecture Association this evening as heretofore announced. An adjourned term of the Circuit Court will be held on Monday next, when the jury cases will be proceeded with.

A new time-table was put in operation on the Central Railroad on Sunday last. For changes see card in another column. The stone-work of the new Congregational church has been completed, except the tower, which will not be commenced until another year.

Judge Turner has been holding Court for Judge Crane this week—Wednesday noon, hearing cases in which Judge Crane was an Attorney.

Mrs. E. M. Henriques and daughter—Sarah—left our city on Monday, en route for San Diego, Cal., and will be absent some eight or nine months. On Tuesday evening next Rev. Dr. Cocker will give a talk on "The Gold Fields of Australia," at the M. E. Church, before the Ladies' Benevolent Society. Admission 25 cents.

Put your money where it will do the most good. That is, pay your debts and keep it moving. A little money actively circulated will aid in the transaction of a large line of business. The way to get lectures at a low figure is to purchase a season or course ticket for $5.50, which will bring the lectures at a fraction less than 30 cents each. Now is the time to do it.

Rev. S. W. Duffield will preach on Sunday morning especially to young men, it being the day set apart by the Young Men's Christian Association of the country for general and consoling preaching to the young.

A letter from a friend in a central New York city says: "You have no idea in Michigan of the useful tightness of the money market here." We certainly don't want an idea, if it is any tighter than heretofore.

Among the occupants of the platform on Wednesday evening, at University Hall, we noted Gov. Bagley, ex-Gov. Feltch, Hon. John D. Pierce, first State Superintendent of Public Instruction, ex-Senator Sill and other prominent citizens of the State, engaged in lawyerly chat.

The lecture of Bret Hartie on Saturday evening last was really a good thing. The speaker followed the "Arguments of '90" (gold hunters) through city and mines and many devices ways, bringing out the features of California life with a master hand. His enunciation and manner were both good.

The much croaking that had been done by interested and jealous parties about University Hall frightened some timid persons and kept them at their homes on Wednesday evening, with ears distended in listening for the predicted crash, and yesterday morning we presume that they were mad because their fears had not been realized—for which fears they may now well be convinced there was never the shadow of a cause.

The next lecture in the S. L. A. course is to be given in University Hall on Wednesday 12, by Mrs. A. H. Leeson, who is well known to the magazine reading world, as the author of "Woman in the Home" and "The English Subject as the Siamese Court." Her subject is: Siam: its Court and Customs, and it is to be presumed that she will "speak from the card" or deal out facts rather than fiction. She is reported an entertaining lecturer.

The publisher of the Christian at Work is a generous, whole-souled fellow: that is, we would say so if we could truthfully. But he is entering beyond a doubt, in proof of which a simple statement of facts will suffice. He sends us by express, subject to 50 cents charges, three chromos—"gilt" chromos to the subscribers of his semi-sensational religious weekly or semi-religious sensational weekly, and which, with his weekly, said subscribers can procure, mounted and free of express charges, for the insignificant small sum—considering that the original paintings are valued by him at $25,000—of $8.25. For these chromos—forwarded uncollected—he modestly demands of us $20 in advertising at our regular rates, the larger share of it to be in "original" editorial puff, written by himself. Reducing the demand to "language that pleases," he asks us to pay him $20.50 (express charges included) for paper and chromos which he is glad to sell at all parties not unfavorable enough to be newspaper publishers for $8.25. Perhaps Mr. Adams will find publishers enough to bite: we are not so disposed, and shall wait for better evidence that he is a "Christian at work."

HURON ST., ANN ARBOR, Oct. 29, '73. E. B. FOX: Dear Sir—Our friend Mr. Gillmore has been leaving put at my disposal a number of bound volumes of Harper's Magazine and a large parcel of Harper's Weekly. I wrote to Dr. Van Deusen, Superintendent of the Inmate Asylum, Kalamazoo, inquiring if they would be useful there. I send you my reply as some persons may be glad to make the same disposition of their pictorial magazines and papers.

Yours truly, G. D. GILLESPIE. We should be very glad to procure those volumes of Harper's Magazine for our library, both the bound and the unbound. You may be sure that they will receive a warm welcome from our patients. They are greedy for reading of the character and long for pictures. The latter suggest thought without wearying the feeble energies of mind and body, and address themselves equally to the educated and the unlettered. Anything which you may desire to send may be forwarded at our expense for express and freight.

Very sincerely yours, E. H. VAN DEUSEN. OLIVET COLLEGE.—By request of J. S. Hoyt, chairman of endowment committee, we give place to the following appeal: "FELLOW CITIZENS: Olivet College is endowed in the sum of $93,000 worth of real estate, buildings, library, cabinet, &c., and in the sum of $60,000 invested and productive funds. For the removal of present indebtedness and full endowment of its present corps of instruction it needs now $98,000. Of this sum $68,000 are subscribed by our fellow citizens upon the condition that the remaining $30,000 are immediately raised. Its operation is in connection with the college, and entirely removes the cause of the complaint. It restores health and vigor to the whole system, repairing healthy action to all its parts, and causing the blood." Household Panacea and Family Liniment. Is the best remedy in the world for the following complaints, viz.: Cramps in the Limbs and Stomach, Pain in the Stomach, Bowels, or Side, Rheumatism in the Joints, Bilious Colic, Nausea, Cholera, Dizziness, Cold, Fresh Wounds, Burns, Scalds, Spinal Complaints, Sprains and Bruises, Chills and Fever. For Internal and External Use. It is prepared by Dr. J. C. BROWN, Proprietor, No. 215 Fulton Street, New York. Sold by Druggists, Farmers & Loo, New York City.

Railway Exhibitors of Products. From the St. Louis Republican. In the fall of 1871 the Kansas Pacific Railroad originated the method of advertising now generally adopted by land-grant roads. The passenger department of that line sending to our St. Louis fair of that year an exhibition of minerals, cereals, vegetables and other products of the soil, from the belt of land traversed and owned by the railway between Kansas City on the Missouri river, and Denver, at the base of the Rocky mountains. In the same year they made a similar display at the first Kansas City exposition, and the novelty, ingenuity and interest combining in these "shows" caused them to draw great attention from the general public, and a very considerable share of space in the columns of the whole western and eastern press.

In the following year the above line sent their "show" to the American Institute fair of New York, owing to the great taste displayed in its conception and arrangement, and the extraordinary amount of notice it attracted, it became the "pet corner" of the managers of the institution, was "patted on the back" by the New York Farmer's club, extensively noticed by the New York dailies, and finally the diplomas and medals were conferred upon it. As a natural consequence, a host of imitators followed, than which no more flattering tribute to genius could be paid, and at the Chicago exposition the same year, the Kansas Pacific, however still leading the van with the handsomest exhibition; and at the great Kansas City exposition of this year, where a one hundred dollar gold medal was offered for competition, the same road "walked over the course" with the most beautiful show of the kind ever seen in America. It was described by the entire press as a lovely work of art, and was in fact a masterpiece of the kind.

The Kansas Pacific now retires from the "show business" with the laurels it has earned, and we shall doubtless soon hear from them in some new role. Looking at the very erroneous impression generally had in the east concerning Kansas and Colorado, such displays are not only of vast importance to us as a people, but also to the city of St. Louis particularly. To us as a people, because they enlarge the ideas of easterners regarding the resources and capabilities of the west and wonderful country west of us, induce emigration to and settlement of it, and increase our taxable wealth and national power by the peopling and cultivation of millions of acres of fine arable and pastoral land, yielding waste and unproductive. To us of St. Louis particularly, because that country is all tributary to us; we are its mart of supplies and market for much of its produce, the greater part of its travel passes through this city, the Kansas Pacific is essentially a St. Louis institution, and here the greater part of its stock is held and its profits consigned to dwell.

Therefore we feel pleased to be able to so deservingly give them their meed of praise. The results of their enterprise have already far exceeded the most sanguine expectations; capitalists and tourists have been drawn from beyond the seas, and from the far eastern cities of this continent; colonists have been started in remote and fertile lands, thoroughbred stock brought across the ocean, the passenger traffic heavily increased, and other untold benefits accrued to the Kansas Pacific railway and the country generally. The colors of which are composed of its wonderful productions. The same is also due Mr. W. Weston, general traveling agent of the line, according to whose designs and under whose superintendence these displays were made.

Foolish Habits. Walking along the street with the point of an umbrella sticking out behind, under the arm or over the shoulder. By suddenly stopping to speak to a friend, or other cause, a person walking in the rear had his brain penetrated through the eye, in the streets, and died a few days ago. To carry a long pencil in vest or outside pocket. Not long since a clerk in New York fell, and the long pencil pierced an important artery that had to be cut down from the shoulder to prevent his bleeding to death, with a three months' illness. To take exercise or walk for the health, when every step is a drag, and instinct urges repose. To get down a glass of water on getting up in the morning, without any feeling of thirst, under the impression of the health-giving nature of its washing-out qualities. To sit down to table and "force" your way to eat, when there is not only no appetite, but a decided aversion to food. To take a glass of soda, or toddy, or sarsaparilla, or mint-drops on a summer day, under the belief that it is safer and better than a glass of cold water. To persuade yourself that you are destroying one pleasant odor by introducing a stronger one; that is, trying to sweeten your unwashed garments and person by enveloping yourself in musk, etc., the best perfume being a clean skin and well-washed clothing.

ONE of the results of last Tuesday's election in New York to be rejoiced over by all good citizens was the election of "Sunset" Cox to Congress as successor to Hon. JAMES BROOKS, deceased. Mr. COX has a spotless "financial" reputation—singularly as such a declaration may seem after having spent so many years in Washington, and is a ready debater.

A young lady, speaking of one of her aversions, said, "I hate almost a perfect brute; he only lacks instinct."

SPINAL LIGATION.—I have made use of Dr. Trask's Magnetic Ointment in my practice in several cases of Spinal irritation, and find it a superior article and well worthy of public notice, and one which no family or person ought to be without.

Detroit Live Stock Market. From the Detroit Free Press. KING'S CATTLE YARDS. DETROIT, Monday evening, Nov. 3. The supply of choice cattle was very light and the decline of last week was not improved upon, the offerings being principally of the skullawag class and buyers were slow in making their selections. For good cattle, however, there was no decline, but full list quotations were obtainable. We quote: Choice heaves, young, large, well fattened, weighing from 1,200 to 1,400 lbs. $3 50-4 00 Good heaves, well fattened, steers, and heifers, averaging 1,050 to 1,100 lbs. 3 00-3 50 Medium grades, fair steers, averaging 900 to 1,050 lbs. 2 50-3 00 Working cattle, well fattened, averaging 1,000 to 1,500 lbs. 3 25-3 50 Cows, common to choice. 3 00-3 25 Common stock, medium steers, and fair to extra cows, in decent flesh, 800 to 1,000 lbs. 2 50-3 25 Thin cattle. 2 25-2 50

MILCH COWS. There were only a few offered this morning, but they were mostly of a better quality than the average shown at these yards. One good cow with calf was held at $50, and $50 refused. Others were offered at $35-40. It is believed that the high price of hay will compel many to dispose of their cows during the month.

SHEEP. The market was apparently 50c lower per 100 pounds, and a fair number were closed out, mostly at an early hour. Sales ranged from $1.81 to $3.50 per head.

HOGS. There is a liberal trade in hogs, but they are mostly bought up by packers before reaching these yards. Pork having gone down and the hay and corn crop of the West being very liberal (except in Michigan), buyers are only offering within 50c per 100 lbs. of late figures. No sales were reported at the yards to-day.

It is opposed to Intemperance and Spoilation, and though Republican in its affinities, it condemns all corrupt party combinations which sacrifice principle to mere success.
