"Vare is der Gashier?" ejaculated the breathless Londoner, as he bounded up the stairs and into the door.

A pigeon shot some off in the Fifth ward on Friday afternoon last, and the Fifth ward shotists grew lusty. Score: 35 for Fifth ward; up town boys, 26.

E. C. Seaman, Esq., has been appointed assessor of Miller & Webster, in place of E. B. Poole, resigned; because of inability to give sufficient time to the duties imposed upon him by the trust.

If we are required to spend all our time in making up and presenting bills or in writing "damning letters," we can't give the attention we wish to editorial or local columns. Who'll take the hint?

Last week Millen & Son advertised goods at reduced prices, and in this ARBOS Mack & Schmid give notice of a great letting down, following the example of leading New York houses. Buyers take notice.

By order of the Common Council an engine house is being built in the Fifth ward, at an estimated cost of $50. There will be room above the engine room for company meetings, ward elections, caucuses, etc. A long needed building.

The Adrian papers speak in complimentary terms of Miss Anna V. Raper—a graduate of the Law Department and now resident of this city—who has been lecturing at different places in Lenawee county, on "The Relation of the Press to Human Progress."

From the Catholic Publication Society, of 9 Warren street, New York, we have received the "Illustrated Catholic Almanac" for 1874. Besides full calendars and the usual statistical tables and pages, it contains much religious and church information of special interest to all Catholics, and we might say to all who would not confine ideas or acquisitions to their own limited sphere or denomination.

We clip the following paragraph from the Grand Rapids Daily Eagle of the 15th, and advise our furniture dealers and others to make a note of it:

Berkey & Gay Furniture Company, of this city, advertise their great auction sale, to commence December 26, and continue ten days. This will be the most important affair of the kind ever announced in the West, and we have no doubt will largely take the advantage of by the trade and public generally.

J. W. Maynard left for New York on Monday evening last to make some purchases for the winter trade. The readers of the ARBOS may wish to know that New England has had a case of "Yale man living out of the State" and a "Harvard man" living in the State, and invited to speak at the recent University Hall opening instead of distinguished alumni.

Opening of the Italian Parliament.
ROME, November 15.—The Italian Parliament was opened to-day by King Victor Emmanuel in person. In his speech from the throne the King said he had hoped for a continuance of the work of the organization; that thus Italy might increase in prosperity and order and safety, the two indispensable conditions of industry and progress. It had been shown that Rome might become the capital without encroaching upon the independence of the Pope or the exercise of the spiritual functions and relations of the Catholic world. We will respect his religious sentiments and his liberty, but will not permit attacks on the nation and its institutions. Our relations with all foreign powers are friendly. The interests of Austria and Germany have been addressed to Italy, which has conquered her rightful place among the nations.

Since the contest of war between Austria and Prussia has disappeared, there remains but the confidence of mutual interest and sure friendship in harmony with those family affections which an imperious duty has made me subdue but cannot extinguish. We will live in harmony with all nations, but will firmly guard the rights and dignity of our own.

The King asks for bills to perfect the organization of the army and navy and to improve the finances. In concluding his speech the King said: "I have confidence in the nation, and feel that the nation has confidence in me." The speech was received with frequent demonstrations of approval.

Fortified Coast Towns of Cuba.
The fortified coasts of Cuba are Havana, Bahia Honda, Santiago de Cuba and Matanzas. With the exception of Santiago de Cuba, the towns named are all on the north coast of the island. Bahia Honda, the fortification of the fatal Lopez expedition in 1851, lies sixty miles to the west of Havana. It has a fine harbor, and a fort protects the entrance. Santiago de Cuba which is distant about 300 miles, on the other side of the island, is situated on the Santiago River, six miles from the mouth of that stream. The port through which it is approached is four miles in length, and several forts defend it. The largest vessel can sail up to the city. Matanzas is built on both sides of the San Juan River, and at the mouth of that stream. It is on the northwest coast, distant from Havana fifty-two miles, east. It is well fortified. Havana is an admirably protected city, so far as attacks from the sea are concerned. The mouth of the channel which leads to the city, and which is a quarter of a mile wide, is defended on the east side by the great Morro Castle, and on the west by another powerful fortress, called La Punta. The channel which is thus defended at the entrance, is half a mile long and very narrow, so much so that but one vessel can pass at a time. Its defenses consist of a single line of fortifications mounted with heavy artillery. Southeast of the Morro Castle is a fortress, said to be the strongest of all the defensive works of Havana, known as La Cabana. There are in addition to these, three other forts, 144 feet high, and is visible from a great distance. The City of Havana is distant about 160 miles south-southwest from Cape Sable, on the Florida coast, and 650 miles south-southeast from New Orleans.

GEORGE H. POOLE, formerly an employe in the ARBOS office, has purchased and taken control of the Lapeer Democrat, planting himself upon a plank of a single platform—the Constitution—a document not very much respected by the powers that be in these latter days. He has the ability to make a good paper if he is properly supported and sticks to it. But his first move should be to abolish "Chicago" bores, as soon as his financial condition will permit.

Mr. C. E. Foote, the efficient special agent of the Michigan Mutual Life Insurance Company, called on us yesterday, and informed us that he intends remaining in our city for a few days, for the purpose of soliciting business for his Company. We know something of the Michigan Mutual, having procured two policies in it, and can recommend it as a sound and reliable Company. As the Company is now doing more business than any other operating in the State, it would indicate that the people at large have confidence in it.

DOINGS OF THE COMMON COUNCIL.

At an adjourned meeting of the Common Council held on Monday evening last, Nov. 17, and the following business was transacted:

The assessment roll for grading and paving the alley east of Main street and from Washington to Liberty streets, was approved, and ordered placed in treasurer's hands for collection.

Jas. B. Gott presented draft of an ordinance relative to auctions and sale of goods at auction, which was referred to a committee consisting of the Mayor and City Attorney, to be reported upon at the next meeting.

The Chief of Police was directed to cause to be printed and posted handbills relative to cleaning sidewalks, and prohibiting throwing ashes and offal into the streets.

Ald. McLintyre and Lutz were appointed a committee to employ an attorney to defend the policemen arrested on a charge of false imprisonment.

Ald. McLintyre and Lutz were appointed a committee to procure the necessary repairs of the floor of the janitor's house.

Godey's Lady's Book came to our table for December in advance of all the magazines for the month. It is illustrated with a beautiful steel plate, "Santa Claus' Workshop" and a fine chromo, "Winter at Home," with reasonable fashion and working plates. No magazine has ventured to give such a superb illustration as this chromo, and several equally good ones are promised for the coming year. The contents of the number include several Christmas stories, and the conclusion of Marion Hatch's serial, "Carrying Weight." Great inducements are offered for the new year, not the least being the premium chromo, "A True to Nature," which having seen we can endorse. It is furnished every subscriber single or in clubs, unmounted, or mounted for 25 cents extra. Now is the time to subscribe for 1874, $3 a year; two copies, $5. Address L. A. GODEY, Philadelphia.

The lectures of Rev. Dr. E. H. Chapin, given on Wednesday evening, in University Hall, in the S. L. A. course, was largely attended. The subject as pre-announced, was "Building and Being," which the speaker considered personally, socially, and nationally. It was full of thought, practical with beautiful gems, and so delivered as to command attention throughout and elicit frequent applause. Every hearer was abundantly satisfied both with the matter and manner, and doubters were convinced that all lecturers are not charlatans, talking a brief hour for mere money. If any synopsis could be of the distinguished lecturer justice we would attempt one.

The Christian Union is a new accession to our exchange list, but a very welcome one. Its sample pages have many attractive departments and features which commend it to a discriminating reading public. In the number for the 12th inst. it commences a serial story: "The Circuit Rider: a Tale of the Heroic Age," by Edward Eggleston, which having read "The Hoosier School-teacher" and "The End of the World," we can venture to predict will be readable.

From the Catholic Publication Society, of 9 Warren street, New York, we have received the "Illustrated Catholic Almanac" for 1874. Besides full calendars and the usual statistical tables and pages, it contains much religious and church information of special interest to all Catholics, and we might say to all who would not confine ideas or acquisitions to their own limited sphere or denomination.

We clip the following paragraph from the Grand Rapids Daily Eagle of the 15th, and advise our furniture dealers and others to make a note of it:

Berkey & Gay Furniture Company, of this city, advertise their great auction sale, to commence December 26, and continue ten days. This will be the most important affair of the kind ever announced in the West, and we have no doubt will largely take the advantage of by the trade and public generally.

J. W. Maynard left for New York on Monday evening last to make some purchases for the winter trade. The readers of the ARBOS may wish to know that New England has had a case of "Yale man living out of the State" and a "Harvard man" living in the State, and invited to speak at the recent University Hall opening instead of distinguished alumni.

Opening of the Italian Parliament.
ROME, November 15.—The Italian Parliament was opened to-day by King Victor Emmanuel in person. In his speech from the throne the King said he had hoped for a continuance of the work of the organization; that thus Italy might increase in prosperity and order and safety, the two indispensable conditions of industry and progress. It had been shown that Rome might become the capital without encroaching upon the independence of the Pope or the exercise of the spiritual functions and relations of the Catholic world. We will respect his religious sentiments and his liberty, but will not permit attacks on the nation and its institutions. Our relations with all foreign powers are friendly. The interests of Austria and Germany have been addressed to Italy, which has conquered her rightful place among the nations.

Since the contest of war between Austria and Prussia has disappeared, there remains but the confidence of mutual interest and sure friendship in harmony with those family affections which an imperious duty has made me subdue but cannot extinguish. We will live in harmony with all nations, but will firmly guard the rights and dignity of our own.

The King asks for bills to perfect the organization of the army and navy and to improve the finances. In concluding his speech the King said: "I have confidence in the nation, and feel that the nation has confidence in me." The speech was received with frequent demonstrations of approval.

Fortified Coast Towns of Cuba.
The fortified coasts of Cuba are Havana, Bahia Honda, Santiago de Cuba and Matanzas. With the exception of Santiago de Cuba, the towns named are all on the north coast of the island. Bahia Honda, the fortification of the fatal Lopez expedition in 1851, lies sixty miles to the west of Havana. It has a fine harbor, and a fort protects the entrance. Santiago de Cuba which is distant about 300 miles, on the other side of the island, is situated on the Santiago River, six miles from the mouth of that stream. The port through which it is approached is four miles in length, and several forts defend it. The largest vessel can sail up to the city. Matanzas is built on both sides of the San Juan River, and at the mouth of that stream. It is on the northwest coast, distant from Havana fifty-two miles, east. It is well fortified. Havana is an admirably protected city, so far as attacks from the sea are concerned. The mouth of the channel which leads to the city, and which is a quarter of a mile wide, is defended on the east side by the great Morro Castle, and on the west by another powerful fortress, called La Punta. The channel which is thus defended at the entrance, is half a mile long and very narrow, so much so that but one vessel can pass at a time. Its defenses consist of a single line of fortifications mounted with heavy artillery. Southeast of the Morro Castle is a fortress, said to be the strongest of all the defensive works of Havana, known as La Cabana. There are in addition to these, three other forts, 144 feet high, and is visible from a great distance. The City of Havana is distant about 160 miles south-southwest from Cape Sable, on the Florida coast, and 650 miles south-southeast from New Orleans.

GEORGE H. POOLE, formerly an employe in the ARBOS office, has purchased and taken control of the Lapeer Democrat, planting himself upon a plank of a single platform—the Constitution—a document not very much respected by the powers that be in these latter days. He has the ability to make a good paper if he is properly supported and sticks to it. But his first move should be to abolish "Chicago" bores, as soon as his financial condition will permit.

Mr. C. E. Foote, the efficient special agent of the Michigan Mutual Life Insurance Company, called on us yesterday, and informed us that he intends remaining in our city for a few days, for the purpose of soliciting business for his Company. We know something of the Michigan Mutual, having procured two policies in it, and can recommend it as a sound and reliable Company. As the Company is now doing more business than any other operating in the State, it would indicate that the people at large have confidence in it.

Responsible Government for Cuba.

The New York Times, after urging, in view of the recent Spanish outrage, the providing of such a force on the Cuban coast as will prevent any repetition of insult to our flag or injury to our citizens says:

"But, imperative as these prompt measures of precaution are, they are by no means enough to secure the safety which our country is bound to provide for its citizens in Cuba, as everywhere else that their lawful desires may call them. That can only be done by broader and more enduring measures." We can, and we will use every means for police purposes in that quarter that such services may be in the moment required. But in the present instance we certainly cannot be asked to keep up this policy any considerable time. We must have in Cuba a government that can itself guarantee order and justice. The Spanish Government cannot do this. It has shown its incapacity in the most convincing way. There is no reason to suppose that what it cannot do now it will be any better able to do in the future. On general grounds, therefore, it may reasonably be asked to surrender an office the duties of which it cannot perform in a way to protect the common rights of other governments.—But, if objection is made, it must be remembered that the Spanish Government has given this government offense which is ample cause of war. It is for the United States, not for Spain, to say how the cause of war may be removed. We may make our demands recognizing this fact, and in asking that Cuba be provided with a responsible government, we would ask only what justice and the best opinion of the civilized world would sustain us in enforcing."

Does It Pay?—One of the agents of the Christian at Work, T. DeWitt Talmage's paper, recently obtained 380 subscriptions in about eighty hours absolute work. This was a great success to be sure, but the agent had a fine paper and superb copy-pressing. There is room for more agents of the same sort. Of the great Painter, Sir Edwin Landseer, the Imperial Biography of Art says: "No English painter has been more popular, and none—except Sir Thomas Lawrence—has received such immense sums for his works." For the copyright of some of his pictures he obtained £2,000 ($15,000) in addition to the original price of the picture. It was a master stroke when the publishers of "The Christian at Work" presented the triple combination of a magnificent chromo (about two by two and a half feet in size) of Landseer's great painting of dogs and sheep—"The Twins"—with Talmage as editor of their paper, and Spurgeon as special contributor. They deserved success and will get it. Write to them, at 102 Chambers street, N. Y., for sample copies. Agents wanted. See their advertisement.

The Fashion
Of the world may pass away, but a really meritorious thing will hold its reputation in the face of time and trial. Thus Joseph's Favor and Ague Pills, after a quarter of a century of severe trial, have constantly gained in public estimation. We believe them to be the best—no fact the only sure—cure for malarial complaints. They are harmless, potent, infallible. Sold by druggists, or sent through the mail by Fraser & Lee, New York City.

King of the Blood.
Prairie Itch is caused by a disordered and inactive Liver, produced by miasmatic poison upon the system. The King of Blood acts as a stimulating alterative upon all the glands of the body, especially upon the Liver (which is a glandular body) and, therefore, by correcting the secretions and curing the Liver, remove in a short time this troublesome and loathsome disease. See advertisement in another column.

Centaur Liniment.
There is no pain which the Centaur Liniment will not relieve, no swelling it will not subdue, and no lameness which it will not cure. This is strong language, but it is true. Where the parts are not gone, its effects are marvelous. It has produced more cures of rheumatism, neuralgia, lock-jaw, palsy, sprains, swellings, caked breasts, scalds, burns, salt-rheum, psoriasis, &c., upon the human frame, and of strains, sprains, galls, &c., upon animals in one year than have all other pretended remedies since the world began. Cripples throw away their crutches, the lame walk, poisonous bites are rendered harmless and the wounded are healed without a scar. It is no humbug. The recipe is published around each bottle. It is selling as no article ever before sold, and it sells because it does just what it pretends to do. Those who now suffer from rheumatism, pain or swelling desire to suffer if they will not use Centaur Liniment. More than 1,000 certificates of remarkable cures, including frozen limbs, chronic rheumatism, gout, running tumors, &c., have been received. We will send a circular containing certificates, the recipe, &c., gratis, to any one requesting it. One bottle of the yellow paper Centaur Liniment is worth one hundred dollars for sprain or swollen feet, horses and mules, or for screw-worm in sheep. Stock-owners—this Liniment is worth your attention. No family should be without Centaur Liniment. Price 50 cts., large bottles $1. J. B. ROSE & CO., 33 Broadway, New York.

CASTORIA is more than a substitute for Castor Oil. It is the only safe article in existence which is certain to assist the food, regulate the bowels, cure wind-colic and produce natural sleep. It contains neither minerals, morphia, nor alcohol, and is pleasant to take. Children need not cry and mothers may rest.—1431m1

THE ALDINE,

An Illustrated Monthly Journal, universally admitted to be the Handmaid Periodical in the World. A Representative and Champion of American Taste.

Not for Sale in Book or News Stores.

PLEASE TAKE NOTICE!

THE ALDINE, while issued with all the regularity of a monthly journal, is distinguished by the character of its contents. It is an elegant miscellany of pure, light and graceful literature; and a collection of pictures, the rarest specimens of artistic skill, in black and white. ALDINE is a unique and original conception—alone and unapproached—exactly without competition in price or character. The possessor of a complete set cannot dispense the quantity of fine paper and engravings in any other shape or number of volumes for less than its cost; and then, there are the chronic readers.

ART DEPARTMENT, 1874.
The illustrations of THE ALDINE have won a world-wide reputation, and in the art centers of Europe it is an admitted fact that its wood cuts are examples of the highest perfection ever attained. The common prejudice in favor of "steel plates," is rapidly yielding to a more educated and discerning taste which recognizes the advantages of superior artistic quality and economy in coloring. The wood cuts of THE ALDINE possess all the delicacy and elaborate finish of the costly engraved plate, while they afford a better representation of the artist's original.

The members of the National Academy, and other noted American artists, realize and do not dispute the quantity of fine paper and engravings in any other shape or number of volumes for less than its cost; and then, there are the chronic readers.

PREMIUMS FOR 1874.
Every subscriber to THE ALDINE for the year 1874 will receive a pair of Chromo original pictures were painted in oil for the publishers of THE ALDINE, by Thomas Moran, whose great Colorado picture was purchased by Congress for ten thousand dollars. The subjects were chosen to represent "The East" and "The West." One is a view of the White Mountains, New Hampshire; the other gives the Cliffs of Green River, Wyoming Territory. The difference in the manner of the pictures themselves is a pleasing contrast, and affords a good opportunity for the artist's scope and coloring. The Chromos are each worked from thirty distinct plates, and are in the artist's original and uncolored condition. The presentation of a worthy example of America's greatest landscape painter to its subscribers is a most gratifying and a most peculiarly happy idea, and its successful realization is attested by the following testimonial, under the signature of Mr. Moran himself:

Newark, N. J., Sept. 29, 1873.
Gentlemen—I am delighted with the proofs in color of your Chromos. They are wonderfully successful representations by mechanical process of the original paintings.

(Signed) THOS. MORAN.
These Chromos are in every sense American—they are by original American process, with material of American manufacture, from designs of American scenery by an American painter, and presented to the first successful American Art Journal. If any subscriber should indicate a preference for a figure subject, the publishers will send "Thoughts of Home," a new and beautiful chromo, 14x20 inches, representing a little Italian exile whose speaker is the author of his best.

TERMS.
$5 per year, in advance, with all Chromos free.

For FIFTY CENTS EXTRA, the Chromos will be sent, mounted, varnished, and prepaid by mail.

THE ALDINE will, hereafter, be obtainable only by subscription. There will be no reduced or club rates cash for subscribers must be sent to the publishers direct, or

The New York Sun publishes a report of an interview held with a lady engaged in the business of renting dresses.

"I am the inventor of this business," she said. "If you know anything about women you know they have not only a passion for dress but a weakness for it."

"The scene to which I refer is the result of the bursting of a bog, situated about three miles east of the town of Dunmore, in the northern part of Galloway County."

"At Dunmore a small bridge has been removed, near the junction of the Corral Creek stream with the Dunmore River, to afford relief to the lands up the valley, and a bog-laden torrent is being discharged into the Dunmore River."

"With considerable difficulty we piloted our way to the center, where we found the brown liquid bog boiling out like a steam of lava, and feeling the moving mass, it was like a hot water bath."

"The source of this disaster presented a wonderful appearance. The subsidence at the bottom of the bog was more than about 35 feet. The extent of the bog affected is most clearly defined by a series of black 'crevasses,' where the upper crust of the bog has, by the subsidence below, been torn asunder."

"Besides, I usually have two waists for each lady, so as to be able to fit different sized ladies, and these are not out in the same style. Here, for instance, is a purple silk skirt and two waists for a woman who is very short-skulled."

"What do I charge? Well from $3 to $5 for party dresses, and less for street dresses. I have the get-up, and I am damaged beyond a reasonable amount of wear, I charge for that. You see a nice dress is an easy thing to spoil."

"I never look on a bargain as my mind to-morrow," I never look on a bargain as my mind to-morrow, I never look on a bargain as my mind to-morrow, I never look on a bargain as my mind to-morrow."
