MICHIGAN ARGUS. ANN ARBOR. FRIDAY MORNING, NOV. 28, 1873. THE HOMOEOPATHIC MANDAMUS CASE. In the Circuit Court, on Monday, the 24th inst., the following answer to the petition filed praying a writ of mandamus compelling the Regents of the University to appoint two Professors of Homoeopathy in the Medical Department of the University, was put in:

ALL SORTS OF PEN-SCRATCHES. Gerrit Smith is after the public school system or "State schools"—the "Bible question" being the moving cause. He says: "The great disturbance which the question of the Bible in the schools is producing will never cease until either the government or the Bible is driven from the school. God grant that the government be the vanquished party."
