

It might be well for those radical journalists and politicians who prate about the filibustering of the Democratic minority in Congress (the House), in the protracted attempts to prevent legislation, and who sorrow so sadly over the infringed rights of the majority, to remember that in this case the majority is not the majority, that it does not represent the wishes and will of the majority of the people or electors of this nation.

Another point: and it may be found in the old proverb, "Curses, like chickens, come home to roost." In the next House the Republicans will be largely in the minority. Are they not now sowing dragon's teeth, or in plain English, inviting a Democratic House to so tamper with the rights of the minority, that a Republican minority may have no rights the Democratic majority will be bound to respect?

The Lansing Republican, discussing the coming election of Judges and regents, says: "The Ann Arbor Argus" would not object to an agreement upon one republican and one democrat for each of the offices named; that is a democratic judge and a democratic regent; the republicans take the other judge and regent.

The Legislature has ordered a joint special committee of five (two Senators and three Representatives), to visit and examine the University of Michigan and the State Agricultural College, for the purpose of ascertaining and reporting upon the respective facilities of each institution, to determine at which there could be established, with the greatest economy to the State and most sure prospect of success, a department for instruction in mining, mechanics, and technology.

The Legislature is to take a recess from the 5th (to-day) to the 15th, and the committee will probably make its visits during the recess.

A BILL has been introduced into the House (Lansing) appropriating $5,000 a year for the payment of the salaries of two professors of homoeopathy, either in the University or elsewhere, as the Regents may determine.

THE annual calendar of the University has at last made its appearance. It makes up for the tardiness by additional size, being larger by 22 pages than last year's calendar. The additional pages are devoted to a description of the new Polytechnic School, and it says concerning it: "The University has for years given advanced instruction in the mathematical, physical and natural sciences, and through the practical application of these sciences to the arts."

LAST WEEK the ARGUS said, speaking of a newspaper item connecting the name of ASHLEY POND, of Detroit, and D. DARWIN HUGHES, of Grand Rapids, with the nomination, by the Democracy, for candidates for Judges of the Supreme Court: "We presume that neither gentleman is a party to being brought out." We now feel authorized to say that neither of the gentlemen named would accept a nomination if tendered.

Which his name it is CARPENTER. Prohibited were the words concluding his brief biography in the Congressional Directory for the Forty-third Congress: "His term of service will expire March 3, 1875." Writ of ouster was served by the Legislature of Wisconsin, in joint convention convened, on Wednesday, February 3. The vote stood: For Angus Cameron, 68; For Matthew H. Carpenter, 39; For Hazleton, 8; For J. G. Clark, 1.

Mr. CARPENTER is now on the last month of his six years' term; and the Senate Chamber and the presiding officer's chair will soon know him no more for ever. He has proved himself an unscrupulous legislator; his hands are soiled with the stains of jobbery and salary-grab; his position has enabled him to command large fees in the courts, including that big retainer in behalf of a fraudulent Louisiana government, while his personal reputation has not shed lustre upon the title of Senator or the body of which he was a member.

The telegraph says that the "bolting" Republicans offered the Democrats four names to choose from, Judge COLE, ex-Gov. LEWIS, Gen. GUFFY, and ANGUS CAMERON; that the Democrats in caucus accepted CAMERON on a platform including "hard money, a tariff for revenue only, and the supremacy of the civil authority in time of peace," with the result as indicated. The telegraph also says: "Mr. CAMERON, the Senator elect, was born in Caledonia, Livingston County, N. Y., in 1826. He came to Wisconsin in 1857, and has served six years in the Legislature. He was Speaker of the Assembly in 1867. He is a lawyer and prominent member of the Episcopal Church."

WHAT SOME EMINENT MEN SAY OF ST. NICHOLAS.—John G. Whittier says: "It is little to say of St. Nicholas that it is the child's periodical in the world, and I think the editor has great reason to congratulate himself upon it."

Edmund Clarence Steadman says: "St. Nicholas, with wit and wisdom, is a household charm, and certainly surpasses any Children's Year-Book, English or American, that I have ever seen."

Charles Dudley Warner writes of St. Nicholas: "Never before, I think, has so much literary and artistic talent co-operated in the service of children, and I will not resist the hearty impulse to say to you that you have made the best magazine for children of all ages that I have ever seen."

They are dropping out, one by one, the stars of our once unparalleled Senatorial galaxy, and soon all those meteors will have passed from sight forever. How melancholy the reflections that in pursuing the order of the calendar, the shafts of fate, the rude buffets of fortune, Pratt has sung his doxology, "exhaling" in his own words, "the perplexities, the anxieties and toils of legislation for the past thirty years."

LOSS FROM RAG MONEY.—Milo S. Baker, of this city, who is now settled in California, told us that he was converted from a currency inflationist to an advocate of hard money by his experience in and around San Francisco on his prospecting tour last summer. For instance, he would offer a 30 cent scrip for something worth 25 or 30 cents in silver, and they seldom gave any change back, looking upon our scripplasters with contempt.

How Tom, Saunders, of Buffalo, Did't Ride a Mare Two or Three Hours. In these days of fast time on Railways, it is not surprising that Tom, Saunders, of Buffalo, who owns a little, lazy, slow mare, that is the ridicule of his friends, should seize a bright idea as to how he might pay them for their ridicule. This is the way he does it. One recent evening he and some of these friends were talking of horses, when he astonished them by offering to bid $100 that he could ride his mare 30 miles in an hour. He counted out the money in a tantalizing way, remarked that his mare had been laughed at long enough, and he had made up his mind to show what she could do. It seemed like robbing Tom, so they all took the money, and the stakes were put in trustworthy hands. A day was chosen for the trial, and when it came Tom led them to the Central Railroad depot, where the homely little mare was found, alabaster baggaged and ready to start for Rochester by express, and when the train was ready to start he got on her back smiling triumphantly. He said he reckoned that he could ride the way 30 miles in an hour, unless, of course, he was tired. Away went the train, with the referee holding his watch, and the three fellows who had joined in the bet against the mare, very sorrowful of expression. About fifteen miles had been run in about half an hour, and Tom was grinning in anticipation of an easy victory, when the car bumped over something, and he was thrown from the mare by hastily applied air brakes. At that moment the train stopped, and the train was stopped more than an hour.

A Terrible Death. The Buffalo Courier says: Augustus Otawicko, of Salisbury, Herkimer County, fell his home last Wednesday week to look at some lumber laid out a mile distant. He became lost, and while crossing a creek brook through. He pulled off his boots to empty the water and they froze so hard he could not get them again. He crawled for a long distance on his hands and knees in search of some refuge from the penetrating atmosphere, but death put an end to his sufferings, and when found he was in that position. It was seen where he had attempted to build a fire with bark which he had pulled from the trees, and in another place he attempted to make a bushy fire from the night in the top of a slender spruce tree. Those who found him think he traveled at least a dozen miles, and everywhere along his route there were indications of his having wandered in his ever imaginable plan to save his life.
