IN MEMORIAM.

On the bosom of a river, Where the sun unloosed his quiver And the starlight gleamed forever, Sailed a vessel light and free.

Morning dew-drops hung like manna On the bright folds of her banner, And the zephyrs rose to fan her, Softly to the radiant sea.

Through those locks so blithely flowing, Buds of laurel bloom were blowing, And his hands anon were throwing, Music from a lyre of gold, Swiftly down the stream he glided, Soft the purple wave divided, And a rainbow arch abided on his anneas, more fold.

Anxious hearts with fond devotion Watched him sailing to the occan, Frayed that never wild commotion 'Mid the elements might rise. And he seemed like some Apollo Charming summer winds to follow, While the water flag's carolla Trembled to his music sighs.

Rolled beside a city haunted By an awful spell that daunted Every comer to the shore. Night shades rank the air encumbered, And the pale marble statue numbered Where the lotus eaters slumbered, And awoke to life no more.

Pete McCartney-His Last Escape. The Galveston (Texas) News gives the llowing particulars of the last escape of the notorious counterfeiter, Pete Mc Cartney: He was being conveyed from Tyler to Austin, at which latter place his trial was about to come off. He was guarded by four men, it is stated, two of whom were Deputy United States Mar-shals. When the train stopped at Palestine some one who recognized him called out: "Hello, Pete! They've got you again!" "H—l!" said Pete, "they wont keep me long." And Pete was Fashion Notes.

TRAVELING DRESRES.

Ladies who are contemplating a summe rip will want to know the latest thing in traveling dresses. The time is gone by whe "most any" old dress will do for traveling and now that costume is of quite as much importance as the walking or reception dress, either the new plaids or stripes wil make very handsome traveling dresses. Bu many ladies prefer the solid colors. The plaids or stripes are seldom used for the enmade to be worn with these dresses. trimmed with fringe or narrow A favorite trimming for these suits is the Titan braid. Several rows are placed as a eading to the crimped tape fringe.

READY-MADE SUITS. The time is coming when few ladies will o their own sewing, for they can purchase n entire wardrobe much cheaper than they an be made even at home. And what omfort it will be to be rid of that bugbear of fall and spring sewing. Even now Eastern dealers are furnishing everything from a linen suit to a black silk dress. A very neat black silk can be bought for the modest sum of $25. To be sure, one would not want her best suit of that quality, but for a street dress it would probably do good service.

BILL, Aleck and Frank are in for hav ing the "Treaty of Frankfort," and the condition of affairs which it sanctioned guaranteed mutually between them as the best thing for the "peace of Eu rope." Bill proposed the arrangement and his two conditutors signed so luke warmly that most likely his best man, certain Bismarck, will try and find some-thing more satisfactory, more radically expeditious and sure to count upon.

CLEVELAND.

A WORD IN SEASON.—Health is a bless ing which comparatively few enjoy in all its fullness. These endowed by nature with robust frames and vigorous constitutions should be careful not to trifle with them.

When we enter the seasons of periodic fevers, the increased heat of the sun de velops a miasma which pervades the air. The evil is inextinguishable; our duty to guard against it is imperative! For-tunately for those whose lot is cast in low marshy districts or new clearings, nature provides a cure and preventive. Dr. Walker's California Vinegar Betters are endowed with rare prophylactic or disease-preventing powers, and as "a ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure," should be taken in the full vigor of health, so as to fortify the system against the assault of summer disease and thus secure by their life-givin strengthening, restorative, and antisep tic virtues, a defense against atmospheri
