A TERRIBLE EXPERIENCE.

[From the Council Bluffs (Iowa) Nonpareil.]

The Fate of a Man Left for Dead on the Field of Antietam.

One of our semi-occasional reporters, led by business to Omaha yesterday, met with a strange and peculiar experience, which, though not beyond the range of probabilities, has a certain fascination thirty-five years of age, on crutches, and dressed in the Army blue of the United States service. At a glance the reporter imagined he recognized the party, but was, however, uncertain about it, and passed on. The idea still lingered, and steps, turned the corner and quickened his pace, and saw the stranger some distance ahead of him. No time was lost in overtaking him, when he laid his hand on his shoulder and requested him to stop a moment. The stranger did as re-quested and half-faced the person addressing him. This gave our reporter a full view, and he at once recognized in his face the features of a brother who had been missing since the battle of Anhis face the features of a brother who had been missing since the battle of Antietam, in September, 1862, nearly thirten years ago. The effect of such a meeting in such a place and under such circumstances, after so long a separation. circumstances, after so long a separation, can be imagined more easily than it can be described. The wounded soldier, as he proved to be, and his brother, adjourned to an adjoining restaurant, where he rehearsed his wanderings and mishaps in the interim. We give the

and Radical cure of Seminal Weakness, or Spermatorrhoa, induced by Self-Abuse, Involuntary Emissions, Impotency, Nervous Deblity and Impediments to Marriage; Consunption, Epilepsy and Fits; Mental and Physical Incapacity, &c.— By ROBERT J. CULIVER WELL, M. D., author of the "Green Book," &c.
The world-renowned author, in this admirable
Lecture, clearly proves from his own experience that the awful consequences of Self-Abuse may be affectually removed without medicine, and without dangerous surgical operation, bougies, instruments, rings or cordials; pointing out a mode of cure at once certain and effectual, by which every sufferer, no matter what his condition may be,
may cure himself cheaply, privately and radically.

He had first arrival of new seed was offered on the no direct connection with the Russell Bulliner quarrel, but had incurred the displeasure of the Bulliners in consequence of a lawsuit in which they were defeated. Some time last year a second attempt was made to assassinate him by shooting from ambush, but the guns if the hands of the would-be assassins failed to go off, and he escaped, but recognized one of the assailants as he ran away. This individual, whose name was Cagle, was indicted for the crime, but we do not know that the case was ever tried-the enforcement of the law in Williamson county being very lax. Some months after (that is to say, last fall) another and more successful attack was made on Sisney, he being shot by some one from the outside as he sat in his house near a window in the evening At this time he was severely wounded and, after recovering, he rented his farm and removed to Carbondale for the sake of greater security. The result shows that he has at last fallen a victim to the bloodthirsty vengeance of his enemies under circumstances almost precisely similar to those which came near proving fatal last fall. Mr. Sisney was a native of Williamson

The business transacted in butter during the week was light. The principal reason for the quietness that prevailed was the scarcity of such lots as were desired by shippers. The ar-rivals during the week have been light, and ne supply under a continued good local de-land was largely reduced. Dealers being ortunate enough to have lots of butter on and were able to obtain a shade better prices, hand were able to obtain a shade better prices, though only a slight improvement was noticeable. There were several parties on the market seeking lots of the lower qualities for shipment, but the few lots offered were held above what they were willing to pay, and only a limited number of transactions were made. For grain bags and bagging there has been a good demand, and prices ruled firm as follows: Stark "A" seamless cotton bags, $32.00; Landows "AA," Montauk "A," Lewiston "A," and Otter Creek seamless cotton, $30.00; American "A," and Amoskeag, $28.00; wool sacks, 55@60c each. Beans were quiet and unchanged, quotable at $1.80 for round lots of Eastern mediums and $1.00@1.75 for Western according to quality. Beeswax remains, quiet at 26@28c for prime yellow. Cheese was not as active as during the previous week, but former prices were maintained; quotable at 6@8c for prime to common, 8@11c for fair to good, 10% @10½ c for prime in lots, and 11c in a retail way. Currants were quiet at $2.50@3.00 per [bu. Dried fruits were firm, and for some descriptions prices were higher. Eastern apples sold mainly at 9c per lb. Halves peaches were firm at 9½ (@10c. Dried peas were dull at $2.00@2.10 for choice green, and $1.65@1.75 for marrowfat. The usual dullness again prevailed in eggs, and prices were irregular; sales ranged at 10@14½c, according to quality, the outside being for warranted freeh laid. There was no change from last week noticeable in feathers; quotable at 48@52c for prime live geese, 20@25c fer the steer reached the persons, it stopped, gazed at the prostate form, and ran off without further demonstration. Even when those who were struck had the presence of mind to lie quiet where they had dropped no further notice was taken of them.

There was a fair active business transacted n this market during the week just passed, but in this market during the week just passed, but prices at the same time ruled somewhat easier. The outside orders received were somewhat lighter than usual, and the principal trading was done by the local speculative element. During the week the option for October changed from a premium to a discount, compared with seller September. Land was dull and sales dragged slowly and a decline of 30,000 was austrated. of the protracted quarrel of the Russells and the Bulliners, which has kept Williamson county in a ferment for years.

She came across working her engines a three-quarter speed, with an average fifty revolutions of her screw, which gave a result of fourteen knots an hour. The reports received from different sections of the country indicated more favorable harvests with an had been expected, and the country specuative element were on the selling side, while lative element were on the selling si fe, while but few buying orders were received. The Eastern markets were of a less favorable tenor, and shippers were not disposed to trade with any freedom, while the stocks in store are large and rather heavier than usual at this season of the year. The receipts were moderately large. Values have steadily declined from the opening until the close. The most severe decline has been on cash oats, which closed about 17c per bu lower. Wheat and corn were considerably lower.
