THE INVASION OF TURKEY.

Map Showing the Positions of the Belligerent Armies on the Banks of the Danube, and the Roumanian and Turkish Railway Systems.

MAY-DAY. BY R. H. STODARD. If I were asked the season, I could not tell to-day; Should I still winter-wear, The calendar says May.

THE CASE OF THE DOW TWINS. "My notions about evil's influence on soul," said Dr. Richards, of Saturday Cove, to me one day last September, "are a little peculiar. I don't make a practice of giving 'em away to the folks around here."

Giles, who lived about seven miles back in the country, Jehiel was a tin knocker by trade, and a more pious, respectable, reliable tin knocker you never saw.

"I had never heard of the case of the Dow twins," resumed the Doctor, "they were born into the family of Hiram Dow, thirty years or more ago, in the red farm-house just over the hill back of us."

"One fine afternoon, in the summer of 1871, Jacob Dow, as we afterwards learned, was shot through the heart by a Mexican in a drunken row at San Diego. He sprung high into the air and fell upon his face, and when they laid him away a good Catholic priest said mass for the repose of his soul."

ing out a sentence for an attempt to rob the Northport Bank, Miss Giles goes down every year in the hopes that he will see her, but he always refuses. He is in for ten years.

"That was a very singular case, that of the Dow twins," said the Doctor, "you have heard the story. Which way did the Doctor end it?"

"During the war, a number of old pensioners (as in the present day) were enrolled for home service. One of them was on guard at Chatham, and forgetting the discipline of his younger days, sat down on a stone when he was tired."

happened in the present day) were enrolled for home service. One of them was on guard at Chatham, and forgetting the discipline of his younger days, sat down on a stone when he was tired."

"The South African diamond fields are seven days hard travel from the coast. Reaching them, you find a city of 40,000 people in a desert. The buildings are all one story in height, some of canvas, some of iron or wood, and a few of brick."

Benjamin Daniels, a farmer, recently died at Scatchell, England. Daniels was well liked in the neighborhood. His height was six feet six inches. He weighed twenty-four stone, and measured twenty inches from shoulder to shoulder across the back.

THE EASTERN STRUGGLE. Lines of the Attack and Defense. The Russian Advance—The Danube the First Line of Turkish Defense—The Balkan Range the Main Rampart—The Fortresses—A Flank Movement in the Direction of Servia.

At the outbreak of hostilities the two armies were about 450 miles apart. The Russian army was massed near the northeastern frontier of Roumania, in the vicinity of Kischeneff, a town on the railroad between Odessa and Jassy.

During the war, a number of old pensioners (as in the present day) were enrolled for home service. One of them was on guard at Chatham, and forgetting the discipline of his younger days, sat down on a stone when he was tired."

While it seems probable that the Russians will make a direct advance across the Danube between Giurgevo and Kalarash, and then fight their way over the mountains to Adrianople and the Bosphorus, under the direction of Russian engineer officers, to keep the Turkish gunboats at a distance.

Probable Effects of the War. Though our commercial relations with the two belligerents are comparatively insignificant, the clash of arms in the East cannot but have an immediate and considerable bearing upon American commerce.

Any grain deficiency in Europe, arising from war or other causes, must be substantially supplied from the United States. Owing to a perfected system of growing country can successfully compete with us in supplying an extraordinary demand for breadstuffs for military consumption.

How TO PLANT A HEDGE.—In planting a hedge you will find it well to make the plants as deep as you can get them; three or four rounds will be sufficient. Run a subsoil or a bull-tongue plow in the furrow, so as to thoroughly loosen the ground to the depth of a foot or more; plow the ground again, this time throwing back furrow where the dead furrow was; then harrow and stretch your line, and plant with a dibble. A pointed stick that will make a hole ten or twelve inches deep, and big enough to take the plant, will do. Dig the plants at least three inches deeper than they stood in the seed row; tramp the ground on each side of the hedge, and mulch if possible, or else cultivate sufficient to keep down the weeds.

Process for silvicing glass. A solution of nitrate of silver and Rochelle salts is applied to the glass, a film of metallic silver being deposited. This process is used for making mirrors and other optical instruments.

WALERS.—Frequently applied muriatic acid to the wart will, it will soon disappear. In the absence of this, scrape enough soap from a common bar to make a poultice and wear it a night. The wart will eventually dissolve. The same is true of corns.

THE copper product of the Michigan mines in 1876 was 18,871 tons, and the aggregate value of the same, $7,137,110, being a falling off from 1875 of 482 tons and $153,750.

GEORGE H. BUTLER, recently appointed a special agent for the Post-office Department for the Black Hills region, has been removed. And now what will Ben Butler say to such treatment of his relative?

BLAINE is reported as being decidedly opposed to the postponement of the extra session. Does he fear that that anti-administration-policy speech will sour on his stomach before mid-October shall give him opportunity to relieve himself?

IF THE Legislature will close its labors and give the State printers a chance to go to work on the session laws, the expense of publishing in a separate volume the laws ordered to take immediate effect may as well be saved.

A JOINT RESOLUTION amending the Constitution so as to permit new bills to be introduced at any time during the session, on the recommendation of the Governor, has failed. Better cut off twenty days from the fifty now the limit.

THE House, on Wednesday, adopted a resolution to transact no business, except to receive reports from Enrolling Committee and Messages from the Governor, after May 17, and to finally adjourn May 19. It was made the special order in the Senate for May 15.

"THE chief traitor in Louisiana" that is what Republican journalists delight to call their late demi-god, ex-Senator (?) Pinchback. Another pet phrase is "the notorious mulatto claimant for a seat in the United States Senate." And all because Pinchback has reformed.

THE Post (Detroit) has another spasmodic: the Baltic and Mediterranean are to be blockaded or converted into seats of war, American commerce will suffer or be entirely ruined (what "protection" and damnable legislation have left of it), we have no navy to interfere in behalf of our shipping and sailors, and Congress is not to meet until October. Horrid. And what have the Robeson and Bories been about these many years?

MR. JOHN MCGRAW, of Ithaca, N. Y., so largely interested in the manufacture of salt and lumber at Bay City, in this State, died at his home on the 4th inst. He would have been 62 years old on the 21st of this month. This is the McGraw who gave $150,000 for the erection of the magnificent library building of Cornell University. Who is the wealthy Michigan man who will emulate his example at the Michigan University?

EX-SPEAKER RANDALL is confident that the postponement of the extra session of Congress will consolidate the Democracy, enable the Republican opposition to become thoroughly organized, "if it is to be organized," and "destroy all possibilities of electing a Republican Speaker, and he thought there is never had been any." Mr. Randall is also free to express the opinion that his chances are not injured by the change of programme.

THE extra session of Congress has been called for October 15, instead of for June 4. The postponement troubles the politicians of all schools, and none of them really know how to interpret the move. The Republicans who don't incline to indorse "my policy" pronounce it meant to give time for "things to settle." Well, the country at large will rejoice at the delay. A Congress in session is a dread to all the business and commercial interests of the country.

THE REV. JOHN MILLER, Presbyterian, has been convicted at Princeton, N. J., of heresy, and suspended from the ministry. His views of the immortality of the soul, of the nature of Christ, and of the Trinity were found not to square with the "Book of Faith," the "Longer Catechism," and the "Shorter Catechism." If the court (or Presbytery) had sentenced him to be burned at the stake they would have saved trying him again in the Synod, to which body he proposes to appeal. Was it Michigan's Dr. George Duffield who was his principal prosecutor?

GOV. HAMPTON, of South Carolina, will do the Democracy of the whole country a service which he can do in no other way, if he will induce, by either persuasion or bull-dozing, "Senator" M. C. Butler, of Hamburg, to resign, and let the Legislature elect a Senator who will be acceptable to the party at large. South Carolina certainly has better, abler, and purer men than this man Butler; men who will not be a weight about the necks of the Democratic party.

OF THE decision postponing the extra session of Congress until October 15, the Detroit Post says: "The reasons given for not calling Congress together in June is the indisposition of Congressmen to hold a session during the hot weather. The real reason, as everybody sees it, is to give time to the President's Southern policy to develop further results before submitting it to the ordeal of Congressional inspection; and to give the Administration further time to strengthen itself." The Post evidently disrelies the decision and inclines to the opinion that our commercial and financial interests must suffer, that the "policy of the administration" is the paramount interest, and that "all other interests must yield to its exigencies." The Post is not happy.

Each represents President Hayes as St. George spoiling the dragon. The disgusting dragon is about attacking a pretty woman labeled "The South," and the woman hasn't any clothes on, excepting a large amount of hair which is really no protection at all, owing to a high wind.

THE Michigan Republicans don't enshrine in the least over the Southern policy of President Hayes, and they can't be said to give it even a tacit indorsement. In fact they have given it an official "fire in the rear." On Wednesday of last week Representative Hoyt, Republican, introduced into the House a series of resolutions reciting the five years of bloody war and the subsequent twelve years of peace; alleging that the outcome was not prosperity and repose; declaring that "in our opinion the time has come when the armies of the United States should not be used for the sole purpose of maintaining one political party in a sovereign State, to the exclusion of any other;" and commending the policy the President "has lately adopted and carried out in reference to affairs in the Southern States." The resolutions went over for a day, under the rules, and when they came up in order on Thursday, Representative Sawyer, of this district, moved that they be referred to (that is buried in) the Committee on Federal Relations, and demanded the previous question and the yeas and nays. His motion prevailed by yeas, 49; nays, 27. The 49 members voting yea were all Republicans, and of the 75 Republican members of the House but 9 voted no. And yet the Michigan delegation claimed the honor of nominating Hayes in the Cincinnati Convention. On the day of that vote Hayes had been (acting) President a day less than two months.

THE HOUSE, on Tuesday, passed Mr. Sawyer's bill to provide for the establishment of a State House of Refuge for exposed, friendless, and helpless girls between the ages 10 and 16 years. Section four of the bill provides that it shall be "not simply a place of correction, but a reformatory school, where the young girl, separated from vicious associates, may, by careful physical, intellectual, and moral training, be restored to the community, with purpose and character fitted for a good and honest living." The bill provides for appointing commissioners to locate the school purchase, or accept by donation, not less than 10 nor more than 50 acres, eligibly located within from one to three miles of some town or city, "regard being had to the center of population, cost of living, and facility of access;" to procure plans, specifications, and estimates for a building not to exceed in cost $50,000; also to prepare and mature a system for the management and government of the same, and to ascertain what laws will be necessary to put the same into successful operation. We hope the Senate will pass the bill. It is the germ of one of the most needed and noblest of our reformatory or charitable institutions.

THE University appropriation bill and the twice defeated bill removing the School of Mines to the Upper Peninsula have both been made the special order in the House for Tuesday next, May 15. The Senate is wrestling with the bill repealing the 20th of a mill aid law. It was killed in committee of the whole on Tuesday, but the Senate refused to concur by a vote of 11 to 13, and it was laid on the table. It can scarcely be possible that either the removal bill or the repeal bill will be passed. A School of Mines in the Upper Peninsula would be an expensive luxury. The $30,000 appropriated by the singularly defective bill would be but a drop in the bucket. However, so much mud has been thrown upon regents, president and professors, the minds of legislators so poisoned that our citizens need not be greatly surprised at its passage, or at the cutting off of all State aid and appropriations. But we will hope for the sober second thought.

If the Washington specials are to be relied on, the re-election of Treasury clerks among the different States will give to Michigan 193 places, of which it now has only 78. Our sympathies are forth to our members of Congress who will be promptly decimated upon by an army of applicants.—Detroit Tribune.

Tut! tut! We had been led to believe (?) that under the civil service reform of President Hayes members of Congress were to be relieved of the irksome, unpleasant, and undesired (?) duty of recommending clerks. How easy a thing for one to get wrong impressions from letters of acceptance, inaugural addresses, etc.

Township Boards of Health. For the information of township officers and the public generally we give place to the following act which has been passed at the present session of the Legislature and ordered to take immediate effect: An Act to amend sections 1692 and 1693, chapter 45, of the compiled laws of 1871, relative to boards of health and health officers in townships.

THE People of the State of Michigan enact, That sections 1692 and 1693, chapter 46, of the compiled laws of 1871, be and the same are hereby so amended, that they shall read as follows: SECTION 1. In every township the township board shall be the board of health. The supervisor shall be the president, and the township clerk shall be the secretary of the board. The clerk shall keep a record of the proceedings of the board in a book to be provided for that purpose at the township office.

SECTION 2. Every township board of health shall appoint and constantly have a health officer of the township who shall have practical, as a physician and sanitary advisor, and an executive officer of the board; provided, that in townships where it is not practicable to secure the services of a well educated and suitable physician, the board may appoint the supervisor or some other person as such health officer. The board of health shall establish his salary or other compensation, and shall regulate and audit all fees and charges of persons employed by them in the execution of their duties, and to cause that prevailing appointment or resignation of a health officer, and shall immediately cause to be transmitted to the Secretary of the State Board of Health, at Lansing, the full name and position address of such officer, and a statement whether he is a physician, the supervisor, or some other person, and a special meeting of the board may be called by the order of the president or any two members of said board.

SECTION 3. This act shall take effect immediately. Approved April 20, 1877.

The Secretary of State has sent blanks to the proper township officers on which to make the return or report provided for.

The Democrats have a clear majority of more than 2,000,000 in the popular vote of the country, and would be great fools to throw it away and dissolve their organization merely because a Republican President is found who has some regard for his oath and the Constitution.—Memphis Ledger, Dec.

The speculative director is a creature of reckless banking. He exists, and blunders or plunders, only because the banks lend money on his collaterals. Whenever the banks wish to put an end to his existence, they can do so by merely returning to sound banking—by refusing to lend money to men who use it in gambling, and refusing especially to men who use it to destroy the very collateral which the banks receive. Until the banks conclude to drive the speculative director out of existence, he will continue to drive securities out of existence, to destroy confidence in corporate management, and to cause that prevailing distrust which drags down sound and unsound companies alike.

Hayes is fighting the Democracy on the plan of the natives of India in their sieges, using the carpal-baggers as a camel. "Elephants were trained to push open gates with their ponderous heads. To guard against this the gates were afterward thickly studded with spikes, which no sensible elephant would run his head against. Men ingenuity was ready with an expedient, and a camel was driven alongside the gate and the elephant pushed against him. Rather rough for the camel, but of course more comfortable for the elephant."—Courier-Journal.

Willoughby, of long experience in the public offices of the county, particularly in the office of Registrar of Deeds, and have secured additional facilities for making abstracts of titles to all the unimproved lands in this county. Hereafter we shall give our united attention to making Abstracts, Deeds, Contracts, and Mortgages. Also to handling money for parties, and to all other business connected with the land office.

ALLOW US TO Make a few Remarks. Says a wise man: "Let me make the songs of a nation, and I care not who makes its laws." This was once quoted in the hearing of a colored waiter, who replied: "But let me see the dress a man has worn and I will tell you his history." We leave it to others to argue pro and con as to which of them gave utterance to the more philosophical reflection. But we frankly confess that the weight of probability seems to us to rest with the latter proposition.

Nothing external seems to be more indicative of character than the dress. We do not lay this down as a rule from which there can be no deviation, but common sense will support us in saying that clothing is a most important element in determining both individual and national character.

Clothing ranks next to food in importance. It cannot be absent without involving barbarism, partial or entire. The need of it was the first thing perceived by our first parents when they had attained by questionable means the knowledge of good and evil. If we trace the developments through which the clothing of mankind has passed since then, we are forced to the conclusion that the manufacture of clothing ranks next in vital importance to agriculture, which was given priority by the command to dress and till the ground. And as an element and indicator of civilization it is of even higher value, the savage in his nakedness, the ancient Druid offering human sacrifices of bodies clothed like his own—in paint. The unclothed condition of the heathen of to-day are instances which demonstrate the proposition that clothing and civilization are inseparable.

You must all wear clothing, and we are generous enough to wish you may all wear good fitting and well made goods. We are endeavoring to do our share of business; we believe we are entitled to it, and have only to convince you of the fact to secure it. If you ask me, why we answer: Because our stock is large, carefully selected, and well made; because our prices are as low as can be found anywhere in the State. We have taken extra pains this spring in making a large and fine selection of Boys' School Suits, also in suits with knee pants for boys from 3 to 8 years old.

A few more remarks and we will bring this to a close. My Merchant Tailoring Department is complete. In the future as in the past we shall endeavor to keep a large assortment of fine goods at the market afforders, in both foreign and domestic makes; and as for our trimmings and cut it needs no comment, as thousands can testify to our superior taste and knowledge in that direction.

Come and see us and be convinced of our desire to please you in quality, price and style. Yours truly, S. SONDBHEIM, Ann Arbor, Mich.
