"GOD KNOWS." [An emigrant ship recently foundered in a storm, and of the 230 who went down, only one little child survived.]

The heavens were doom and the Lord was dumb. The cloud and the breaker were bent in one.

The coasters and wreckers around her head. And gazed on the treasure-trove upward cast.

It fell on the deck, and she lay on her side. The sea was calm, and the wind was dead.

"French novels," said Bell, who had run over. "I must say, Laura, I think you look a great deal on yourself."

"So you mortify us," said Bell, when he came up to them, at the Secretary's proposal.

"Indeed!" said Helen, looking over the top of her fan into infinite space, but not stirring.

"Well, Laura, for a little goose! I never saw a more comely girl in my arms."

"Forty!" cried Lucian. "I heard her myself arranging for a picnic on her 23d birthday."

"Oh, yes, Lucian; if you choose to say, welcome acquaintance on your force unwillingly."

"Whither bound, Lucian?" cried Helen from the library.

down with Mrs. Vaughn, a leader of the fashions, with whom she sometimes went out for Laura was an heiress, and but little gipsy in her whims.

"It is just like you, Laura," he said, fervently. "I don't think you will admire her so much by daylight."

PAINT which is put on in the fall will last a long time, and is as good as the same grade used in the spring or summer.

Some poultry raisers, in order to do ducks and hens, selected three or four, all hatched in February, and suitably fed.

A CURE FOR LUMPS.—A neighbor of mine had a colt hooked by a cow. It had a lump on its side as large as a peck of corn.

CULTIVATION OF SORGHUM.—The cultivation of sorghum should be the same as that of corn.

THE NORWEGIAN METHOD OF MAKING HAY is as follows: The grass, when cut, is hung up on poles to dry, where it remains until the wind and sun cure it.

PLANT AND HARVEST CROPS are attended with much care and expense; and most farmers exhibit commendable industry.

VALUE OF HORSE FEED.—From an examination made by experiment to see how much horse feed is found by experiment to be as follows:

CURE WET EYES take rose leaves—the more the better—and put them into a little water, then boil; after strain it into a bottle and cork it tight.

ENGLISH PUMPKIN PUDDING.—Three cups of bread-crumbs, one cup brown sugar, three eggs, one cup nicely-chopped beef suet, nearly one cup sweetened condensed milk, one cup raisins, one teaspoon baking powder, one cup flour, a little salt, cinnamon, cloves and nutmeg to taste.

TO MAKE SOUP.—Make a broth of chicken, beef, or lamb; have it very rich, i. e., melt the meat two or three hours; boil it down nearly one-half; strain it; pare and cut up one quart of tomatoes, boil them in the broth half an hour; strain again; season with a table-spoonful of butter, a little salt, and parsley if desired.

SCORCH COLLECTORS.—Get two pounds of round of beef, chopped fine; put in a frying-pan a lump of butter half the size of an egg; melt, dredge in a little flour, brown, and then put in a cupful of water; stir to make a gravy; chop up an onion, put it in; then put in beef-steak; stir often, and cook twenty minutes.

STIR BLENDING at the nose the best remedy as given by Dr. Gleason in one of his lectures, is a vigorous motion of the jaws, as in the act of mastication.
