VOLUME XXXIV. ANN ARBOR, MICHIGAN, FRIDAY, JANUARY 24, 1879. NUMBER 4.

A LOVER'S TALE. BY BAYARD TAYLOR.

I sat day-long beneath the pine And saw the lone lake shine... Behind the forest's purple rim: The sun was winking to him!

DANDY FERGUSON. A Miner's Story.

I do not believe that Quasmoda was a more pitifully deformed creature, or Quilp a more hideously unnatural looking object, than was Dandy Ferguson...

INTERNAL REVENUE. Some Interesting Statistics.

Why Ben Butler Supported Jeff Davis.

The Minneapolis Tribune says the following letter was written to a gentleman of that city:

Paddy Ahead.

A gentleman of the Hibernal nation was making himself disagreeable in a Virginia street saloon last night by insisting upon the superiority of Ireland...

THE CHEYENNE MASSACRE. A Circumstantial Account of the Recent Indian Insurrection and Slaughter at Fort Robinson.

The sentinel walking guard on the east side of the prison-room containing the Cheyennes just cried out, 'Ten Yells!' and the name of the killed and wounded since the outbreak of the savages: Killed—Private Smith, Company A, Third Cavalry; Private Good, Company A, Third Cavalry; Private Everett, Company H, Third Cavalry; Wounded—Private Miller, Company A, Third Cavalry; Private Egory, Company C, Third Cavalry.

Going Back to Farms.

Just after the war, when inflated prices had ruined the farmer, and the setting of the moon rendered further pursuit impossible until daylight...

A Senator Caught Napping.

A jocular Senator from the West tells a very good story about another Senator from a Southern State. The latter began life as a brakeman on a railroad, and by industry and foresight...

THE NATIONAL CAPITAL. Letter From Our Washington Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18, 1879. FINANCIAL LEGISLATION. Two very important financial measures were passed by the House on Wednesday—the bill authorizing the issue of certificates of deposit in aid of refunding the public debt...

Cleanliness.

Cleanliness is essential to health. That cleanliness is essential to health, and that it is to be wondered at when we remember that the skin of an ordinary-sized man has been calculated to contain about twenty-eight miles of perspiratory tubes...

THE ALPHAS.

Some old Indian officers call them "the Alphas." They are a race of men of fine features and splendid physique. They are said to call themselves "Beni-Israel," and to trace their descent from King Saul. Their Hebrew physiognomy, the division into tribes bearing the familiar appellation of Israel, Judah, and so on...

Typographic Eccentricities.

A great many columns have been written concerning typographic errors, and many of the instances sound so funny or so stupid that it seems as if they were the work of a madman rather than actual happenings. But we never saw one cited so unlikely that we couldn't remember its match. Once we wrote that it was "like evoking the shadow of a shade" to quote forgotten writers. The phrase appeared in print thus: "like evoking the shadow of a shade."

Change of Feeling.

Last summer, when the hot wave from the West struck us so violently, we felt as if we'd like to go and shovel ten feet of snow off a neighbor's sidewalk, and not charge him a cent for the shoveling. Presented to the Hon. W. E. Gladstone, M. P., by a few admiring friends, the handle is of ebony. The axe is inclosed in a case of polished oak, lined with velvet.
