Dear Diary,

"Oh come on!" That's what my sister has been saying for the past two weeks. She's playing "Geometry Dash." She keeps on saying, "Elizabeth's so much better than me at Geometry Dash!" She says it cause it's true.

Actually, I'm better than her at almost every video game. But she's not the only problem these days.

If you're reading my diary, then you should know who I am. My name is Elizabeth Kerry Johnson. I am a 7th grader at Midway Jr. High. You can call me Lizzy. And like I said, my sister is not the only problem.

Dear Diary,

School is also a big problem. I get bullied almost everyday! I think part of the reason is that I'm too scared to tell on them.

Also, in my classes my teacher always pairs me up with Emma. She's the girl who bullies me.

The good thing about school is that I sit next to my crush. The only weird thing about him is his name. His name is Joe Dexter. Well, I do think it's kinda cute. But I wish I knew if he likes me back.

Dear Diary,

Today in gym I found out that he knows I like him! I just found out that my best friend Lithia told him. I am so mad at her.

Now that I'm home, I can send a text to Lithia. But, I can also E-mail Joe. So, I E-mailed him to see if he likes me too. He does! I am so excited that I could do my embarrassing happy dance!

Lithia just texted me back. She says that she is sorry. But, the only way to tell a boy that you like him is to tell him. I decided to text back. I said that next time maybe I should tell him. Also, I forgive her. I'm the kind of person who can't hold a grudge. Anyhow, Lithia's still my B.F.F.

Dear Diary,

Today I decided to stop liking Joe. I figure that I'm thinking about boys too much. So, I decided to think about my other problems besides my sister and Midway Jr. High. I found another problem, and that problem is my friend Jamie.

Now don't start to think that Jamie is a boy because this Jamie is a girl. The reason why my friend Jamie is a problem is because she's moving. Jamie's the only friend I have who is in my class.

Kristen's also moving. I like Kristen, but she's really bossy. So I'm kinda happy that she's moving.

I've also got a different family member that's a big problem.

Dear Diary,

My brother Brandon is also a major problem. He teases me every single chance he has. At least I'm lucky that he's in High School. That means that I don't go to school with him.

My dog is also a big problem. It's my job to take care of him. But the thing is, he always runs away from me! So, whenever I put his food out, he'll wait till I'm gone, and then he'll eat the food. Also, I can't even walk him. So, he'll poop in the house, and I'll get in trouble. But when I try to tell my mom that he doesn't like me, she always says that she ain't wanna hear it.

Dear Diary,

There's a new kid in my class. Her name is Sara. I think that she is subbing in for Jamie and Kristen.

She just gave me a Frito. We now play with each other at lunch. I think this is the start of a beautiful friendship.

Today I ran out of pages in my diary. I have to get a new one. I hope you liked my diary. If you did, then you can read my next diary.
