

The Ultimate Taco

Once upon a time there was a legendary powerful taco. But evil wanted the power for itself and that's where our story begins. Mr. Taco also known as MT headed off to the waterfall of Awesomeness to enjoy some peace and quiet. As he approached the waterfall he saw what looked like a hideous creature. Squatting down into his legendary stance, MT carefully moved closer to the beast. Just as he was about to attack, he realized it was only the shadow of his closest friends taking a cool drink from the Fall. It was his friends Burger, Pizza, and Chicken. They had just returned from the center of the Universe.

"I am so tired" said Burger

"Same here bro" said Pizza

"Why are you guys tired? I'm pumped! Just kidding, me too" said Chicken

"What do you guys expect? The center of the Universe is almost 50 hours away." said MT

"Well, why do we always have to go?" complained Pizza

"Yeah, why don't you go next time" chimed in Burger

"Why don't I go?" asked MT (chuckling) "Because I have better things to do than go on a 5 day journey. Besides, a leader must always remain on guard"

"How would you know how long it takes to get there" questioned Pizza angrily

"I live there" said MT puzzled. "That's where I was born. "

"Well, how did you do the math so quick?" asked Pizza a little less angry

"Oh, I used a calculator" replied MT

"Oh, my bad" said Pizza

"Okay, fine. I'll go. But I guess that means you three will be in charge of keeping the peace and harmony while I'm gone? And someone has to do all the cooking and cleaning while I'm away. Oh, and don't forget to get things ready for the party" MT reminded them.

"Uh, uh. What are we making again" asked Chicken nervously

"That's what I thought" said MT disappointed that his friends weren't taking things seriously. "To answer your question, we are having sushi and steak. We'll also have Chili Cheese fries.

But while they were speaking, mutated Grill Monsters flew towards them.

"Run" screamed MT

"Ahhhhh" shrieked Chicken

"Where should we go" asked Burger panicky

"To the Earth's core. I built a base there in case of emergencies" said MT

"Whar? But that's crazy MT" shouted Pizza

"It might be crazy, but I'm definitely prepared for a battle" said MT

"Can we stop with all the jabbering" complained Chicken. "Or have you guys forgotten we're being chased by Grills"

"Do you want the honest truth or not" asked Pizza.

"Just zip-it, geez" said Burger

20 minutes later

"I think we lost them!" said Pizza. "Hopefully"

"Thank goodness" said Burger

"So relieved" added Chicken. "Man, I'm so tired."

"Here, have some water" offered MT and he hands each of his friends a cup. "Help yourselves to some Salisbury Steak and any other foods I managed to get before the attack. I'm glad I grabbed tents for all of us" he added.

"You know? It's kinda funny that we 'coincidentally' have the important supplies that we need" said Pizza impressed by himself. The others look at him puzzled.

"Well, I guess this is it. The world is coming to an end" said Chicken.

"How do you know?" asked Burger

"It's simple! Evil Grills have invaded the planet and have taken over our house, which is equipped with the most powerful technology in the galaxy!" replied Chicken.

"Good point" said Burger.

"We need to find the food masters, before the Grills devour everything on the planet" said MT. "The Foodies are the only ones in the Universe with greater technology than us" he added.

1 day later

"We made it to their temple." said Pizza

"Man I still see the grills. How come?" asked Burger

"I don't know! Wait, are they growing?!?" said Chicken "It can't be!"

"Yeah, they are look." added Pizza. "This is not good."

"Let's just go in the temple and look for the Foodies" said MT.

Quickly and quietly, the heroes enter the dark temple. They enter the room of Secrets and find the Suit of Safety. Suddenly, they are startled by a noise.

"We know why you have come. Please, take the suit and go" said Master Foodie.

"You must hurry, or earth will be doomed" said another.

Grabbing the suit MT and the team head back to earth. "That was easier than I thought" he added.

30 minutes later

"Hiyah" yelled Pizza, kicking a Grill (#POW#).

#BAM#, Chicken delivers a sidekick followed by a wind-up punch (#KAPOW#).

20 minutes and 200 #POW's# later

"We saved the world" shouted Burger happily.

Just then, the friends look in the sky to see
